

IN FUEL-SAVING PLAN

Manufacturers Arrange Winter Shut Down—Saves 300 Tons of Coal a Day

Half of the city's forty-four ice manufacturing plants will, cease operating November 15, as a coal conservation measure.

Twenty-three plants will remain idle until April 1, 1919. During that time, it is estimated, a saving of 300 tons of coal daily will be effected.

The plants which continue to operate will supply ice to their competitors as well as for their own trade.

This arrangement was made as a result of a voluntary offer to the fuel administration on the part of the ice manufacturers. It was suggested that the various firms confer on the problem of saving fuel and the decision to eliminate half the factories was the result. No order of any sort was issued by the Federal official.

Edward F. Berlinger was chairman of the committee which worked out the conservation program. With about a dozen other representatives of the ice manufacturers he attended a conference with J. Franklin Stevens, chairman for southeastern Pennsylvania of the power division of the State fuel administration. Mr. Stevens suggested that the matter of saving coal be left entirely to the ice makers themselves. The committee was then formed, with Mr. Berlinger at its head.

Mr. Stevens has just received the report of the committee, setting forth the plan to operate one-half the plants at maximum capacity and shut down the other half. The report is so satisfactory to the fuel administration, he says, that no further action is necessary.

LITERARY FEAST IN COURT

Magistrate and Prisoner Discuss Lofty Writings—Latter Discs Faced Magistrate Harris Today

It was really a conclave of famous men. Julius Caesar, George Washington, Henry VIII, Jesse James, Sitting Bull and other well-known personages of the past were in the courtroom today. They were part of a delegation of fifty which had been gathered in as a result of too much consultation with King Alcohol.

As usual, the King flooded them and left the famous personages down and out. So the police checked them up and took all to the thirty-second street and Woodland avenue police station.

The man who represented Julius Caesar, and known in this present day as Thomas Diggs, said he was not a common drunk and boasted that he could show his intellectual superiority. To prove this he quoted glibly from Shakespeare—or at least lines which he thought that well-known person had written.

He finally blurted this: "You ask me to forget. If I should try to forget, the scars on my back would quicken me."

Magistrate Harris then became indignant. "Your literature is complicated," said the judge. "Those lines are from a recitation known as the 'Iliad,' but you have been fighting rum and cannot give worthy combat. That you may give your brains and rest your brow, you may go to 'yon' trampan' stile'—the House of Correction for the next ten days."

The others were discharged.

SALOON HOURS LONGER

Fuel Administrator Also Ends Restrictions on Clubs

Philadelphia's saloons will not have to close at midnight and the clubs may remain open after 11 o'clock tonight.

Francis A. Lewis, fuel administrator for Philadelphia, today rescinded coal-saving orders to this effect because of the recent warm weather and a generally favorable condition in the coal situation.

The ban on saloons was lifted following a conference between Mr. Lewis and Neil Bonner, president of the Philadelphia Retail Liquor Dealers' Association. Bonner pleaded that the order be rescinded because of the heavy loss suffered by the saloons during the three weeks they were closed because of the influenza epidemic.

SUGAR CUT IN EFFECT

Soft Drink Manufacturers' Allowance Is Reduced

The new regulation of the Federal food administration, cutting manufacturers' allowance of grape juice and cider to 50 per cent and makers of all other soft drinks to 25 per cent of their normal consumption of sugar, went into effect today.

It will have no effect on the increased ration of sugar for household use, announced yesterday, however.

Not only manufacturers, but all those turning out commodities that are used in the composition of soft drinks, will be forced to comply with the ruling, which also requires that soft drink manufacturers reduce their output to one-half of its usual volume. Grape juice and cider manufacturers may make as much as they desire, however.

MEAT COMBINATIONS ALLOWED

Restaurants May Now Serve Hash, Goulash and Liver and Bacon

Time-honored meat combination dishes, such as hash, goulash, meat pie and liver and bacon, may be served by hotels and restaurants under amendments to the regulations for public eating places announced today by the food administration.

The original rules, announced two weeks ago, provided for serving only one kind of meat to a person at a meal, but it was explained this was intended to do away with combination meat dishes.

The food administration also announced that while the new rules prohibit the use of meat as a garniture, it may be served with poached eggs, chipped beef, etc.

GERMANS REALIZE DEFEAT

Thickheadedness Penetrated by Yankee Way of Fighting

The proverbial thickness of boche heads has not prevented the Germans from being made to understand that they are licked, writes Private David Grossman, under arms in the American Division Headquarters in France, to friends here. He is in Philadelphia and formerly lived at 2223 Berks street.

"Fritz is being chased off the earth by the Yanks and their Allies," wrote Grossman. He was pleasantly quartered in a chateau, where living conditions were the same as in the States, except that the weather in France was turning cold in the middle of September, wrote Private Grossman, and heavy winter overcoats were on the way to the troops at the front.

NEGRO SOLDIERS' BAND HERE

Will Give Concert Tonight to Raise Equipment Funds

The negro soldiers' band from Camp Dix will give a concert and dance to night at White's auditorium. Fifteen and Chestnut streets, to raise funds for their equipment. Many of the noted colored musicians of the country are included in its membership, and though they are past masters of the "jazz" they also play unaccompanied music well.

The band played at a rally in Philadelphia during the third Liberty Loan drive, and at a recent concert and dance in New York raised $10,000.
