

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Learns That Captain Du Barry Is Coming Home. Mrs. Stephenson to Spend Winter Here. Other Matters Discussed

Did you know that Joe Du Barry has been installed here? Yes, Mrs. Du Barry received word yesterday that he is to be sent back because he cannot go into action again. His foot it appears is paralyzed. Though there is every hope that he will soon recover partial use of it at least, he cannot possibly fight for a year or so; and, as we hope and pray, all will be over long before then, it would seem that he will be home for good.

He will arrive some time next month. He had a most terrific experience, though he calls it a slight wound. He was two days and a half on the way to the hospital because the field hospital back of the front had been blown up when the men were brought back. I suppose that is why paralysis set in, but with careful treatment and massage he will probably get well soon, especially at home, where he can and will be surrounded with every care.

I am so glad for Mrs. Du Barry. I hear she is as happy as can be in the prospect of seeing Joe so soon.

I AM so glad to hear that Miss Julia B. Berwind is better and able to come home. You know she was very ill in Newport the latter part of the season. However, she has now recovered and has been stopping for a few days in New York. Margaret Dunlap, her niece, is with her.

Don't you think Margaret is very good looking? I always picture her in that gorgeous silver-brocaded gown she wore at the first Made-in-America Fashion show held at the Ritz four years ago. Do you remember it? It seems absurd when I have seen her so often both before and since and wearing far handsomer gowns, but that night she made an impression on my memory which has stuck for some reason or other and is not to be effaced.

THE concert by the French orchestra will be held tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House. Every one is going, for it's to be quite wonderful, you know. The performance was to have taken place last month, but owing to the ban on public places had to be postponed. It is given under the auspices of the French Committee of the Emergency Aid.

HAVE you heard that Evelyn Chew Stephenson has come up from the South with her little son and is going to stay here for the winter? Major Stephenson, it appears, is soon to go overseas, and so Mrs. Samuel Chew, Evelyn's grandmother, has asked her and the baby to be her guests during the winter.

Do you remember the sensation Evelyn made the year she came out by wearing a white satin frock trimmed with leopard skin the day she made her debut?

Wasn't it strange, that get-up? And yet very striking. There were leopard straps on the shoulders and bodice and even her slippers had leopard skin on them.

ANOTHER member of the younger married set who is coming home to live for the winter is Elizabeth Myers Alga. She married Jack Meigs, you know, and has been living in Washington where Jack was in the service. Now he has been made a captain in the quartermaster's department and will sail overseas in the near future.

I WONDER how all the parents will feel when the war is over and the husbands come back and claim their wives. For really, it has not been quite like the usual way when the daughters have married. Has it? For most of them have come home after a few weeks, some after a few days, and gone back to their old rooms and surroundings and it cannot have seemed as if they had really been married, can it? But they will realize it when they do go to their husbands come back. And won't they be proud of them? My goodness, gracious yes, but they will.

WELL, we decide for ourselves early in this world, do we not? Several times I have told you about my little friend Emily. The other day it was bed time, when grandmother was visiting there, and Mother, who was upstairs called gently, "Emily!" Small Golden Curis utterly ignored the voice, so next time it was a little more unmistakable, "Emily!"

Emily looked at grandmother and said, "Grandmother, are you going to bed?" "No, dear," said Grandma. "Neither am I," said Emily. And went on looking at her picture book.

NANCY WYNNE.

for his post at one of the American embassies in Europe.

Mrs. A. E. Fisher, Mrs. Edwin Fisher, Mrs. A. S. Marks and Mrs. Fisher, leaving for Europe to attend to business on alternate Saturday afternoons during the winter at 1604 Walnut street beginning November 16. The members include: Miss Elizabeth Stern, Miss Isabelle Heller, Miss Katharine Miller, Miss Elizabeth H. Hill, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, Miss Elizabeth Meyer, Miss Martin Meyer, Mr. William Meyer, Mr. Frank Schwarz, Mr. David Polak, Mr. David Losh, Mr. Philip Frank, Mr. Joseph Hollander, Mr. Bernard Kohn, Mr. Jacob Ginsburg, Mr. Joseph Netter and Mr. Albert K. Dannenbaum.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

Mrs. George G. Eisenhardt gave a dinner on Friday evening at her home, 650 Germantown avenue for her daughter, Miss Clara Eisenhardt, and Dr. Edward L. Taylor, who were married on the following evening. The guests were: Miss Margaret E. Tull, Miss Jean M. Barstow, Miss Eleanor Fry, Dr. Clarence Schaeffer, Mr. Edward H. Buckley, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Philip Habach and Mr. Frank Meyer.

"A PRINCE THERE WAS" FAULTS OF IMPRESSION

Capable Cast Enumerated by a Play of Little or No Importance

Robert Hilliard came, and saw, but failed to conquer at the Grand Opera. There is a brand-new comedy which has been dignified with the name "A Prince There Was." It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

KEITH BILL REPLETE WITH GOOD FEATURES

Offerings Cover Wide Range and Make Up a Program of Exceptional Merit

Altogether an unusual bill, with a lot of interesting features, that vary from the latest jazz step to soldier life overseas, is the offering this week at Keith's.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

It is a play of little or no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance. The value of personality is exemplified in the opening act of the Wilson sisters. Mrs. Hilliard is a woman of no importance, but it is a play of little or no importance.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT

By VALENTINE WILLIAMS

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

THE MAN WITH THE CLUB FOOT. CHAPTER III. A letter in the night. The door opened and I looked out into the dark.

PHILADELPHIA LEADING THEATRES. SAM S. SHUBERT. MATINEES TODAY. WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY $1.50

MATINEE TODAY. WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY $1.50. A PLAY WITH MUSIC. DELEPHI MATS. TODAY & THURS. $1. THE EYES OF YOUTH ARE THE BEST OF THE FUTURE.

POP. MATINEE TODAY. BEST SEATS $1.00. GUY BATES POST. THE MASQUERADER.

THE PASSING SHOW. WITH A BILLBOARD FULL OF TALENT AND THE WINTER GARDEN'S BOSS. LYRIC TONIGHT AT 8:20. MATINEE TODAY.

THE MASQUERADER. GUY BATES POST. THE MASQUERADER. Next Week—Seats Thursday.

Lionel Barrymore in THE COPPERHEAD. IN AUGUSTUS THOMAS. FORREST—LAST 5 NIGHTS. POPULAR MAT. TODAY.

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES. NEXT WEEK—SEATS THURSDAY. HITCHCOCK. IN HIS NEW MUSICAL REVUE WITCHY KOO LOO.

BROADWAY LAST 5 NIGHTS. MATINEE TODAY. ETHEL BARRYMORE. IN E. C. CARTON'S EXQUISITE COMEDY THE OF CHANGE.

BY PIGEON POST. GARRICK—NIGHTS AT 8:15. Pop. $1 Mat. Today. ALSO TOMORROW. ROBERT HILLIARD.

A PRINCE THERE WAS. ACADEMY OF MUSIC. TOMORROW EVG. AT 8:30. VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON. Discovery of the Arctic Continent.

WALNUT. FIRST TIME AT POPULAR PRICES. VICTORIA. PRIVATE PEAT. REGENCY. EMILY STEVENS.