When a woman feels clated, and her cup of happiness is running over, it usually spills out via her pocketbook, and so the Chestnut Street Shops may expect an extra rush in celebration of last week's glorious victory at Sedan. It is hoped, however, that all who read these columns will remember that it is truly the early bird who catches—not the worm—but the best bargains, the best service and the best wishes of the selling force. Start out today at fine and see how much easier it is to shop in the morning without being jostled about by an impatient crowd.

In the Saruk you see the pure Persian originality of design; quaint medallion effects, irregular and unlike each other, with corner pieces to harmonize, cut off in an odd and careless sort of way, while often queer geometrical figures, or floral designs on a field of dark blue, fascinate the eye. Rich shades of both red and blue, however, predominate, with touches of vent, eliminant, tasteless; excellent ever, predominate, with touches of vent, eliminant, tasteless; excellent ivory to relieve the effect. H AVE you read Ridgewell Cullum's thrilling new story, "The Triumph of John Kars?" It is bound to be a best-seller, for it is exciting, the men like it, and the soldiers in France, you remember, voted Cullum to be among the four most popular living authors. That's why I picked it out for him! It is illustrated in color, and is a strongly written tale of mystery and adventure in the Yukon, where Kars ferrets out a secret, dominates the situation, and wins his way in love and power. You can buy the book at George W. Jacobs, 1628 Chestnut Street, and at the same time get "Donald McElroy, Scotch-Irishman," by W. W. Caldwell, an interesting semi-historical novel of decided literary merit, full of picturesque incidents and vivid descriptions of the opening of the great Northwest.

High-Grade Floor Coverings at Prices Well Below the Average

Even our regular prices are below general retail quotations, and the rugs below are quoted at substantial reductions from these, so that the savings are indeed well worth consideration. Some of the choicest patterns have been temporarily discontinued owing to Government demands upon the mills, and it is impossible to say when we can duplicate them. Early selection, therefore, will be greatly to your advantage.
