The Foreign Legion was drawn up in the square before General Dogan, who saluted and kissed the flag held by the colonel. He had scarcely let fall the folds of the tricolor, when the inhabitants rushed in and pressed the red, white and blue silk to their lips, turning just as the ceremony was drawing to a close, half a dozen British prisoners of war, turned adrift in Germany a few days before, hobbled into the town on their way toward France. They were road-stained, foot sore, hungry and emaginated

Thousands of returned prisoners in the same wasted and exhausted condition are arriving by all roads leading through Alsace and Lorraine after a tramp of four days, during which then the first only on the first tramp of four days, during which they lived only on what the population could spare from the meager supplies that had been left to them. 'ha British prisoners who came into Chateau Salins passed within a few yards of a party of German officials whose well-fed ap-pearance furnished a most striking con-trast, with the boys who, although they rast, with the boys who, although they had been in captivity only since April, had lost ten, twenty and thirty pounds in weight. The Britishers were received with great emotion by the inhabitants, who did everything possible to make easier the cest of their pilgrimage, easier the cest of their pilgrimage.

Paris, Nov. 18.

Sunday was Alsace-Lorraine Day in Faris. The day was celebrated, not by victorious troops marching through the dity, but by countless processions of civilians on parade before 10,000 troops, scattered along the route from the Arc de Triomphe to the Place de la Concorde and then past the monuments of Joan of Arc, Gambetta and Lafsyette.

"In Lorraine, our advance guards are in Gravelotte, in the forts to the south of Metz and at Morhange and Dieuse.

The population of Paris, after an imposing celebration of Alsace and Lorraine, turned out again has night and crowded the streets, particularly the important boulevards, which were lighted in full glory, as in times before the war. Until long after midnight this morning voices in laughter and song filled the air. The people were delirious and happy. They sang and danced. With linked hands they following Thanksgiving Day proclamation.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. A PROCLAMATION

It has been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercles to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice. God has in His good pleasure given us deace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of

Complete victory has brought us, not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations. Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind. God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revivifies and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us, in which hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater things, let us not forget to seek the President Wilson has issued the divine guidance in the performance of those duties, and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose and pray that in all that we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

While we render thanks for these

Wherefore, I. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 28th day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease spon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
