THINGS WORTH KNOWING

George (just back from London)—Ah, lass, there be a few things the profiteers don't charge for in Lunnun yet. You can still look out of the window without paying extra, an' I got a glass o' water for nowt. But I despay it'll be changed the next time I go there—they're that smart.

"CAP" STUBBS—He Was Just About to Give It to Her—By EDWINA

Sudden

—The Passing Snow. —My love is not an ordinary one, Miss Daisy. It came on me all of a sudden, like the Spanish flu!

Happy With Either

—The Dystanone. —The Little 'Un—Congratulate on your engagement to one of the Perkins twins! But how the deuce do you distinguish one from the other? —The Big 'Un—My dear old bean, I never try.

SHOULD WE GET SHOCKS?

The Young Lady Across the Way

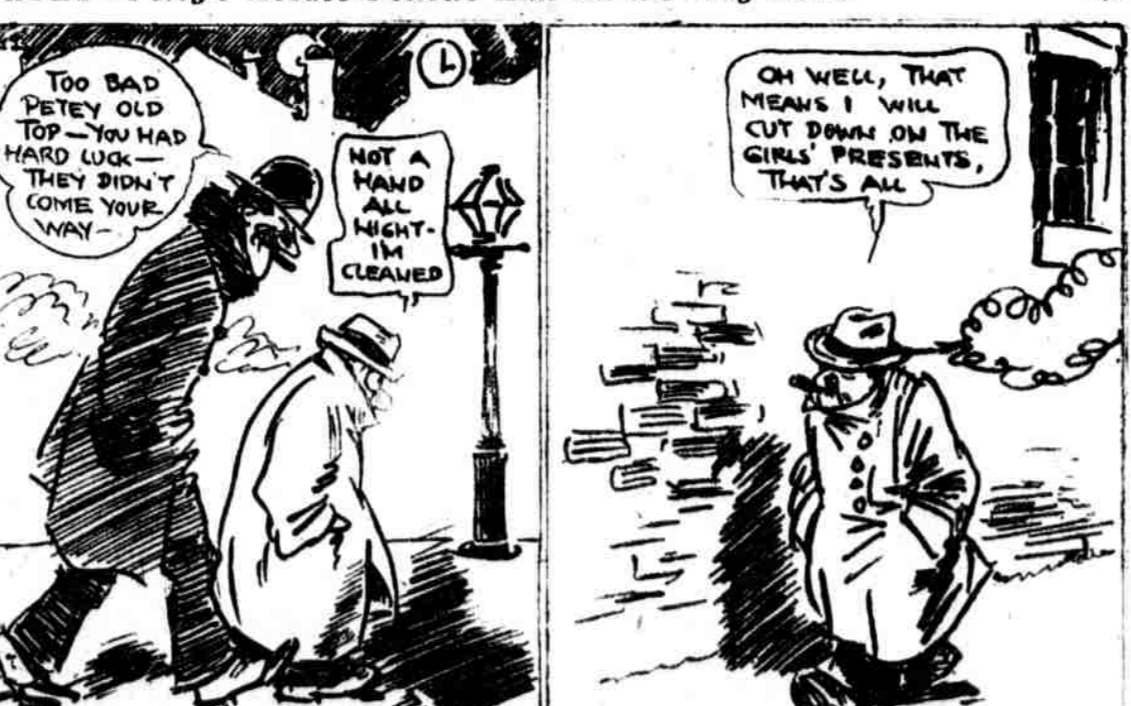

our airmen have electrically-heated clothing to keep themselves warm, so our cartoonist suggests that we should follow their example.

The young lady across the way says no peace terms could be considered that didn't provide for the abdication of all occupied territory and the evacuation of the Kaiser.
