Plenty of the Good Things That People Now Feel Entitled to Get for Themselves

The Story of That Snowy Sunlit Day at Sagamore Hill

briefly told in yesterday's news by the gifted daughter of Judge John Stewart, of Pennsylvania, my lifetime friend, is much more than a piece of fine writing.

The piety of Roosevelt's patriotism and citizenship still lives, and henceforth are inseparably linked together to bear witness of something in the lives of three great Presidents that could not be buried in a tomb.

It is unmistakably clear that it was left for the events of the passing week to bring to the surface the hidden power Roosevelt exerted upon the public mind.

His robust manliness, extraordinary brain and farsighted vision, all filled with Americanism of the purest type, turned the eyes of the entire world upon him as one to help to build something better than an Empire.
