TRANSPORTS DIVERTED

Bound for Other Ports Directed to Land at
New York

New York, Jan. 18.—The American transport Santa Maria arrived from St.
Louis with about 125 officers and men of the overseas forces, all casuals.

There also arrived the steamship from Nantes with a number of officers, mostly casuals.

During a terrific German barrage at the front, J. C. Miller, of Huntington, Va., was the only man on board receiving a decoration for particular valor.

It was so modest the story of his deeds had to be obtained from a comrade, Chateau Thierry," said the commander.

Seven of his men were missing and called for volunteers to get the missing men. Six responded and three of them were killed and three wounded in an attempt.

Centurion into No. 10 Man's and himself Lieutenant Miller succeeded in bringing back the seven missing men, protected only by an automatic

The New Hampshire is bringing a headquarters detachment and Batteries

Artillery. The units are made up principally of New York men.

The transport Minnesota, due here with troops from France, is reported to have been held up at Gibraltar by engine trouble. The steamship Kerasapa arrived today with thirty-nine casuals.

Melita, bringing 200 officers and 1200 men from France, will arrive at Boston January 21, and the transport Orelana, with 100 officers and 2500 men, is due at New York January 23.

Units aboard the Melita include casual companies composed of men from Massachusetts, Ohio, Iowa and Missouri; the Third Aero Squadron, and Mobile Hospital No. 39, a detachment from the army anti-aircraft school, a provisional aviation unit, replacement battery and all casual officers.

OCEAN-GOING BARS' NEW IDEA

Man Might Work Out, but Captains See Danger Point

Atlantic City, Jan. 18.—Ocean-going bars, fitted up in luxurious fashion to operate just outside the three-mile limit along the Atlantic seaboard points reachable from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and other eastern centers of population after the exhibition becomes a grim fact in the United States were accredited here today.

Seafaring men who operate the two hundred or more bars, which are equipped with which make the inlet pier their summer headquarters are of the opinion that the idea is perfectly feasible from a maritime standpoint.

The stock in trade of the ocean bars is served, would have to come from overseas. They are one maritime point over which the shore captains are in some doubt. That is the status of the upper of the craft who might lead himself to an evasion of the national law.
