

The Mine-Layer Quinnebaug Features the Picture News of the Day From Far and Near

HOW AN AVIATOR SEES IT. A view from above of Fifteenth and Walnut streets. The large white building is the Longacre Apartments.

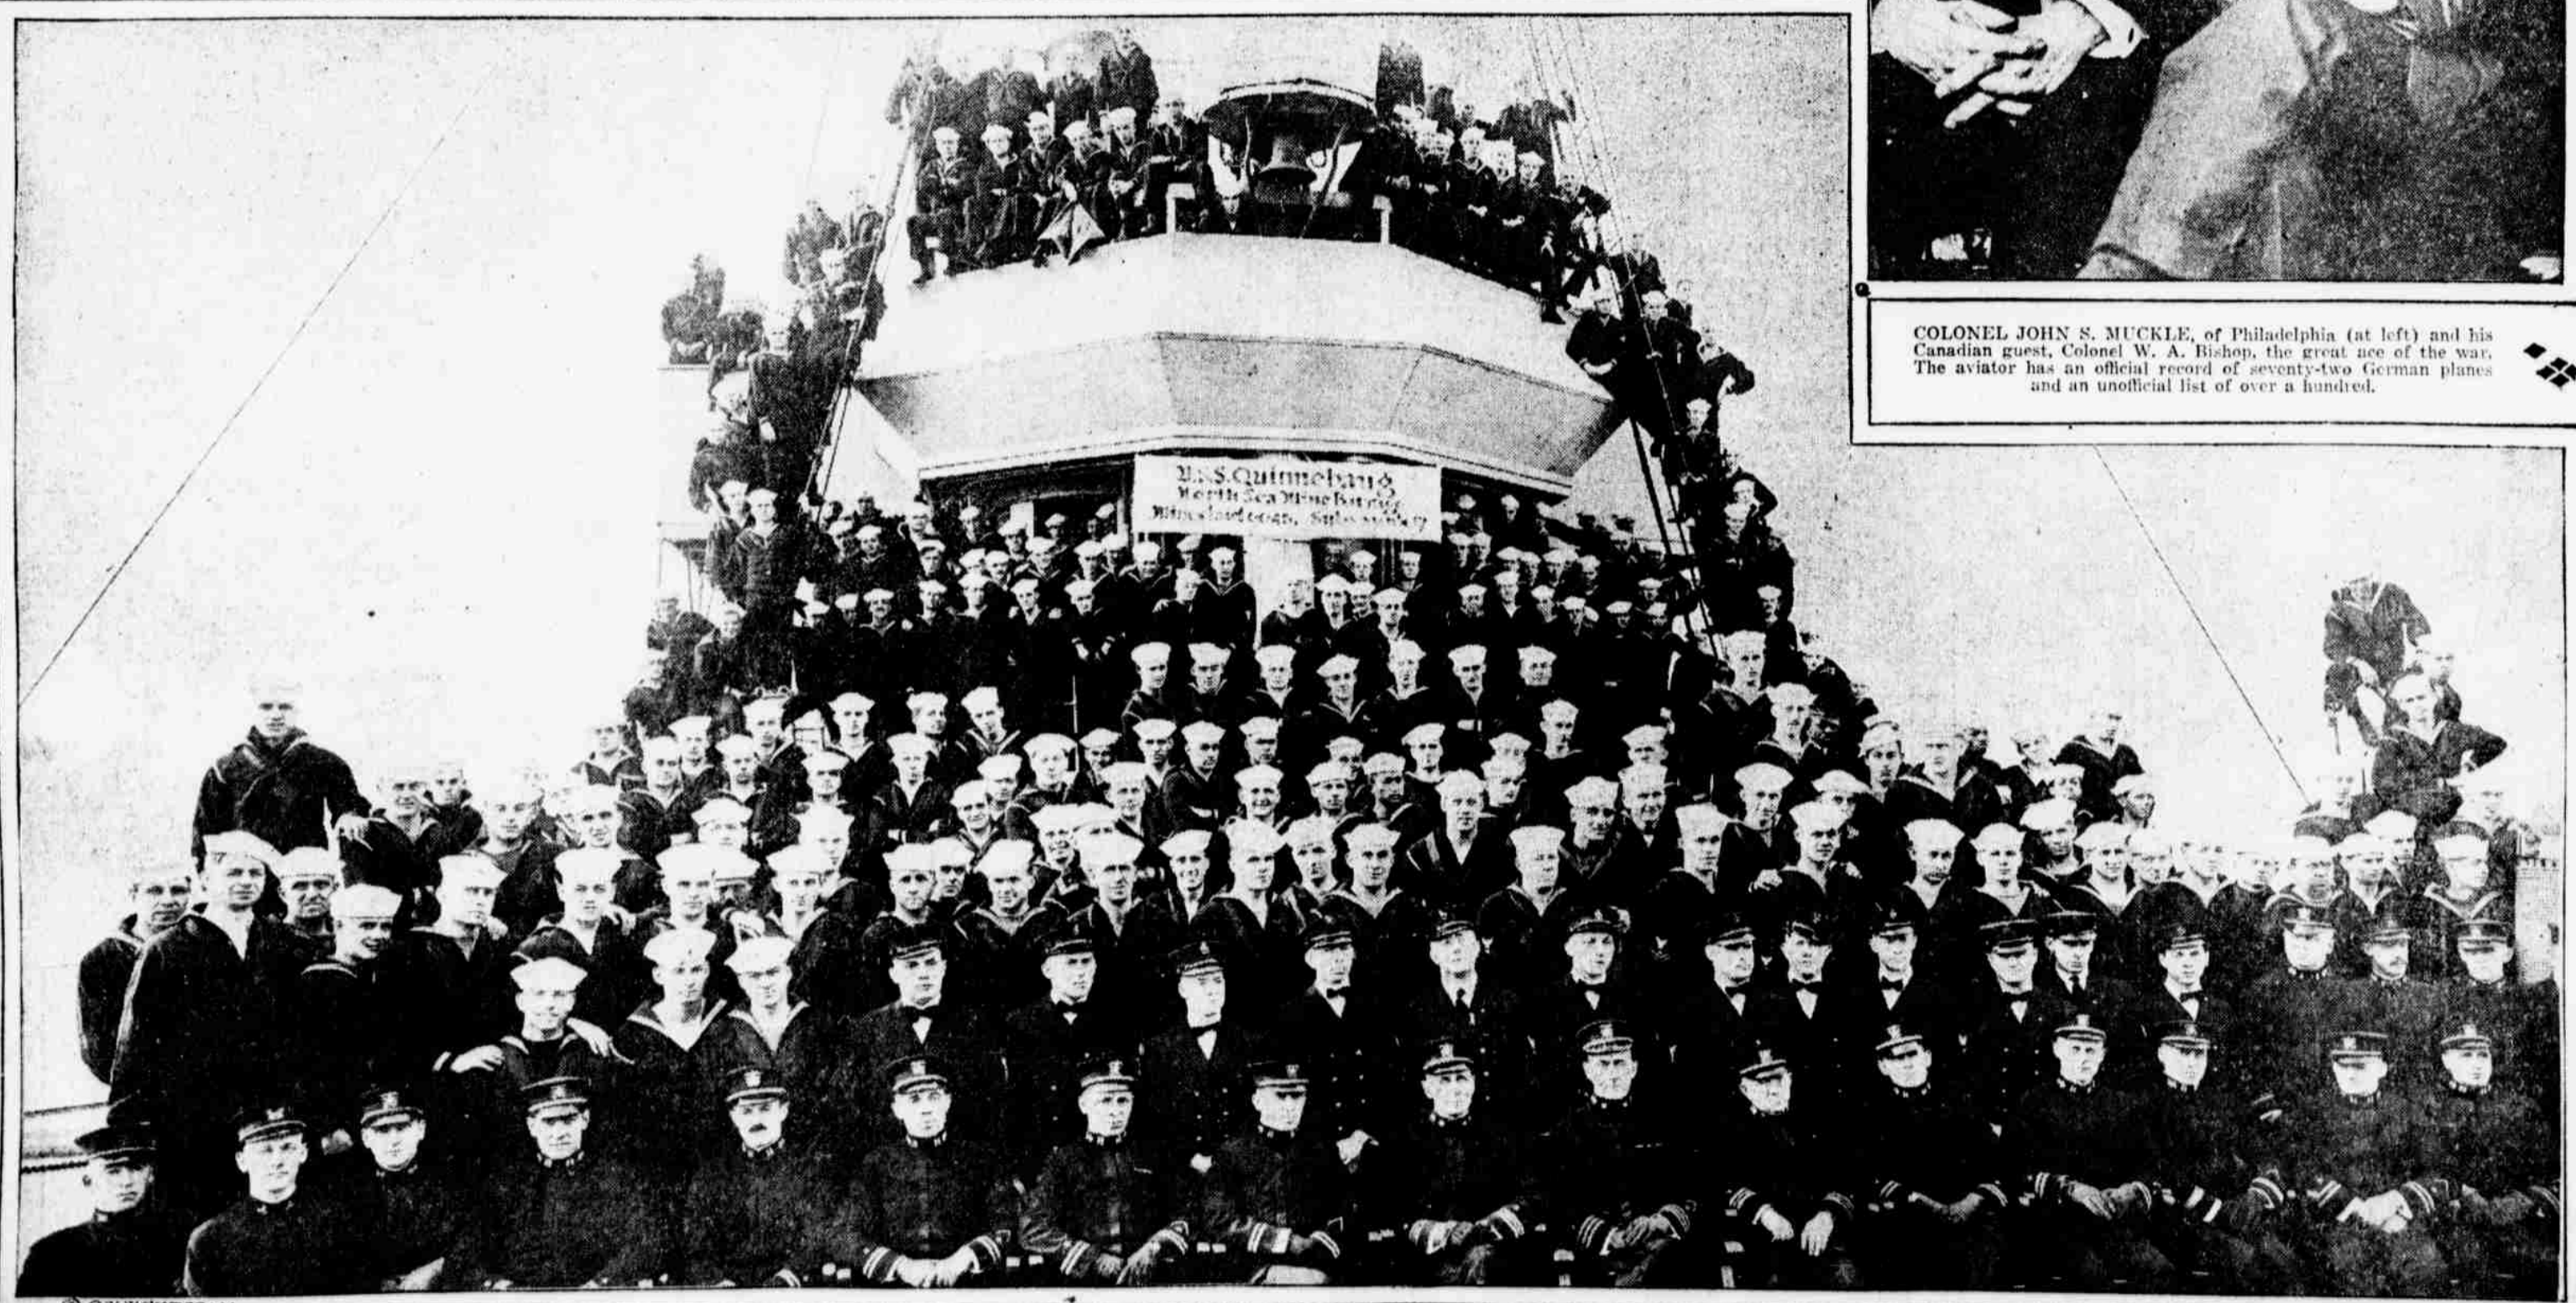

PRESIDENT WILSON RECEIVES the freedom of the city of Rome in the Italian Chamber of Deputies in the presence of King Victor Emmanuel III of Italy.

HEROINE OF A HUNDRED HAIR-BREADTH (FILM) ESCAPES—Miss Pearl White on the strand at Palm Beach, Florida.

COLONEL JOHN S. MUCKLE, of Philadelphia (at left) and his Canadian guest, Colonel W. A. Bishop, the great ace of the war. The aviator has an official record of seventy-two German planes and an unofficial list of over a hundred.

OFFICERS AND CREW OF THE U. S. S. QUINNEBAUG, now at the Philadelphia Navy Yard after nearly eight months' service in the North Sea as a mine layer. The Quinnebaug has a record of 6045 mines laid. These mines sank seventeen submarines. The Quinnebaug was formerly the Old Dominion liner Jefferson.