To Trace War's Origin

H. H. Hainings, author and scientist, will give his first lecture this season for the University Extension Society in Witherspoon Hall this evening. "The Historic Background of the War," is the title of the lecture. The lecture is profusely illustrated. In this lecture Mr. Hainings traces the roots of the war into the obscure and little known, to dig up rubbishes and show with new grain if a new harvest is to be expected.

FIRE IN PAPER BAG STORE IMPERILS NEARBY FAMILY

Hyman Gorstein, With His Wife and Daughters, Gropes Through Smoke-Filled Corridors to Safety When Flames Destroy Building at Fifth and Bainbridge Streets

The Gorstein family was asleep at the time. Dense volumes of smoke rapidly filled the rooms and hallways of the house. Neighbors, aroused by the patrolmen, called to Gorstein and rushed in the building. After much difficulty the family was aroused and led through the smoke-filled halls to the street. Occupants of other houses in the vicinity also rushed into the street in scant attire. The flames were subdued only after a stubborn fight on the part of the firemen. The windows of the restaurant were smashed and the interior damaged by smoke and water. The origin of the fire is unknown.
