

TURNER Construction Co
1713 Sanson St.

"Turner for Concrete"
The Organization that has done over $50,000,000 worth of government work during the War is now ready to build your factory or warehouse with the same care and dispatch.

BOLSHEVISM IN U. S. ROUSES TEXTILE MEN

Kensington Executives Demand Federal Action to Check Propaganda Here

A demand that Congress take action to check Bolshevism was voiced in a resolution adopted last night in the Manufacturers' Club by Kensington mill owners and managers, interested in the men and managements' textile council.

The resolution was passed after posters, believed to have been put up by Bolshevik agitators in Kensington, were read to the manufacturers.

C. Stanley Hurlbut, author of the men and managements' council idea and its president, said that the manufacturers laugh at the statements of the agitators, because they know they are untrue, but that the workers are misled by them, and should be informed of the truth.

"That is the kind of education we must carry on," he said, "to combat this spread of Bolshevism by telling the true conditions and proving our statements."

Mr. Hurlbut, referring to the visit to the Kensington textile district of John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, to speak against the men and managements' scheme, said that Mr. Golden had left a strike in Massachusetts to come here and oppose the project without having read it.

The meeting of the manufacturers did not bring out the sentiment of the textile workers, particularly those in the full fashioned hosiery trade, concerning the men and managements' council.

Frank McKosky, vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, stated in an interview, however, that the employees are against the idea. He said the proposal had been submitted to the hosiery workers, and that the organized employees of the hosiery mills were opposed to it unanimously.

Mr. McKosky said that no scheme would be approved by the workers that disregarded their demands for a forty-eight-hour work week.

At a special meeting of the National Association of Worsted and Woolen Spinners, conducted last night in the Manufacturers' Club, the advisability of a forty-eight-hour week throughout the spinning industry was discussed, but no announcement was made as to the decision.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

TAX COLLECTED HERE $35,000,000

Many Income Return Delinquents Are Still to Be Heard From

FURTHER INSTALLMENTS

Most of Those Getting Under $5000 a Year Paid Levy in Full, Lederer Says

Approximately $35,000,000 has been collected in income taxes in this district, with many delinquents and further installments on payments begun yet to be gathered.

Of this amount more than $30,000,000 is credited to last Saturday, the last day for payment without a penalty, being received in person, by mail and telegram. Collector of Internal Revenue Lederer has announced.

One remarkable feature of the returns, the collector said, was the fact that the men getting under $5000 a year made out their returns and paid their taxes in full, for the most part, several days before the closing date, while those paying an income in excess of $5000—men who have made their marks in the business world—in many cases delayed until the last possible day before filing their blanks.

Eighty per cent of the taxes on the smaller incomes have been paid in full, while only 25 per cent of the taxes on incomes of more than $5000 have been paid in full.

The whole amount of income tax in this district last year was $163,000,000. The returns this year may be lower. The final statement cannot be made until the last installments are paid.

One penalty delinquent will have to pay when they make their returns is the sacrifice of the privilege of paying their tax on the installment plan. The collector says he has no option other than to make them comply with this rule. The matter of penalties will be reviewed in Washington.

The specific penalty of $1000 for failing to make a return by March 15 will not be imposed upon those who voluntarily file their returns on or before May 1, but some fine will be affixed.

One remarkable feature of the returns, the collector said, was the fact that the men getting under $5000 a year made out their returns and paid their taxes in full, for the most part, several days before the closing date, while those paying an income in excess of $5000—men who have made their marks in the business world—in many cases delayed until the last possible day before filing their blanks.

Eighty per cent of the taxes on the smaller incomes have been paid in full, while only 25 per cent of the taxes on incomes of more than $5000 have been paid in full.

The whole amount of income tax in this district last year was $163,000,000. The returns this year may be lower. The final statement cannot be made until the last installments are paid.

One penalty delinquent will have to pay when they make their returns is the sacrifice of the privilege of paying their tax on the installment plan. The collector says he has no option other than to make them comply with this rule. The matter of penalties will be reviewed in Washington.

The specific penalty of $1000 for failing to make a return by March 15 will not be imposed upon those who voluntarily file their returns on or before May 1, but some fine will be affixed.

HOSPITALITY RUDELY ABUSED

Man Accuses Old Friend of Repaying Kindness With Blows

John Vaser, thirty-two years old, 299 Fairmount avenue, is in the Roosevelt hospital suffering severe lacerations of the head and internal injuries because he gave a night's lodging to an old friend who happened to be stranded in the city.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

John Roman, thirty-eight years old, of nowhere in particular, visited the Vaser home last night and asked to be "put up" for the night. At 4 o'clock this morning Vaser awoke to find himself struggling with Roman, who beat him over the head with a rock wrapped in a towel. Roman dropped his weapon and ran with Vaser at his heels. The race led past the police station at Third and Fairmount, and the police joined the pursuit. Roman escaped. Vaser can offer no reason for the attack.

DEAD SOLDIERS' KNAPSACKS YIELD OFFICER'S ONLY FOOD

Lieutenant Charles S. Tiers, Just Returned From France, Tells Experience

Lived for Seven Days on Edible Taken From Fallen Doughboys Packs

LIVING for seven days on food he was forced to take from the knapsacks of doughboys who had been killed during the drive in the Argonne was the experience of Lieutenant Charles S. Tiers, just returned from France.

The rolling kitchens had been shot up by the enemy's shelling, so this was the only food obtainable.

Lieutenant Tiers' adventures commenced in crossing over. He was with the Seventy-ninth Division, on the transport America. It was a dark night in mid-Atlantic. The America was in the company of four other ships taking men over, three in a line with her and La France at her stern.

"We were in a submarine zone, and some of the ships carried lights," said the officer. "The great vessel, carrying 6000 doughboys, struck a ship and went through it like a piece of cheese.

"Cries for help came from the water; but we could see nothing. After a while twelve men climbed on board in the darkness. They were survivors of a crew of fifty from a German submarine tender whom we had run down. Their ship sank so swiftly that only one boat had been able to push off, and they were lucky that they found us in the deep darkness that prevailed.

"The peculiar thing is that this tender probably belonged—the men were afraid to admit it—to an enemy submarine which had been lying in wait for us. We heard its buzz as it rose to the surface between two of our vessels to charge its batteries. The noise of its buzzing made inaudible the silent lightless passage of our five transports, and so, while they failed to get us, we got them.

"In the Argonne Forest drive I acted as liaison officer. From a high hill I saw the attack of the Americans upon Montfauxen, which we took from the Germans, who had held it since the beginning of the war. Then we went on to Nantillon. The Germans had a dugout there which we took. It was in a hillside and its windows faced German guns. Some one left a light there at night, the enemy's guns registered us, and they commenced a shelling of our shelter which lasted thirty-six hours and killed many of our men. It was a hot place, a bad little hole.

"However, I escaped that as well as all the sniping, shelling and machine-gun attacks unharmed. And when Kaiser

CHARLES S. TIERS

Bill called it off I was in the vicinity of Amiens, in the British section.

Lieutenant Tiers II, 541 53 West Wall, but late. He had seen considerable service with the First Pennsylvania Cavalry in Mexico before he enlisted, on the 20th of August, 1917.

URGES MEXICO TO JOIN LEAGUE

Resolutions Introduced in Senate Praise Wilson's Proposals

Mexico City, March 19.—(By A. P.)—There were many "public today" resolutions introduced in the Mexican Senate, but not yet acted upon, in connection with the league of nations project. One of these resolutions expresses "sympathy and admiration" for President Wilson, which it admires and applauds, by realizing and manifesting the desire that, if it has the opportunity, the Mexican people form a part of the proposed league of nations.

Thus far these resolutions have been the only expression available in any way indicating Mexico's stand relative to the proposed league. No official statements have been forthcoming.

BROCKWAY "THE RIGHT WAY" TRUCKS

AT THE MOTOR TRUCK SHOW

Space 22

BROCKWAY MOTOR TRUCK CO. 234 Market Street

"OkeH" Records

"You can get it on an OkeH"

Double faced—85c each.

GLANCE AT THESE HITS

Sand Dunes—One Step.
Kirmanshah—Fox Trot.
Cuban Dreams—Fox Trot.
Sensation—One Step.
St. Louis Blues.
Good Bye France.
End of the Rainbow.
Bluebird Blues.
Have a Smile.
Always Chasing Rainbows.
Sometime.

Besides over a hundred others just received.

HEAR THEM AT

Blake & Burkhart's
Branch Store, 204 South 11th St.
Columbia Grafonolas and Records

FOREIGN SEAMEN DODGE U. S. TAX

Scores of Aliens Cheated Government Out of Import. Is Charge

TRUE, SAYS OFFICIAL

Evade Payment by Swearing They Intend to Live Here, It Is Said

Scores of foreign seamen have cheated the United States out of the 8 per cent tax imposed on alien seamen who do not make their home in this country, it is said.

These tax dodgers, according to government officials, evaded the penalty by swearing they intended to live in the United States, and it has been shown in several instances that they had not the slightest intention of doing so.

When informed of the report of the tax evasion by alien seamen, United States Shipping Commissioner Smith said today that it was true. He proposes to call the matter to the attention of collector of Internal Revenue Lederer.

An affidavit was taken by scores of the alien seamen on what is known as

Form 1078. This sets forth that the signer intends to live in America. Commissioner Smith expressed his indignation at the attitude of these tax dodgers.

"Alien seamen have had an increase of 200 per cent in wages as a result of the war," he declared, "yet a great number of them resorted to this petty method of cheating the United States out of its just tax."

It is highly probable that an investigation of many cases will be made immediately by federal authorities.

These tax dodgers, according to government officials, evaded the penalty by swearing they intended to live in the United States, and it has been shown in several instances that they had not the slightest intention of doing so.

When informed of the report of the tax evasion by alien seamen, United States Shipping Commissioner Smith said today that it was true. He proposes to call the matter to the attention of collector of Internal Revenue Lederer.

An affidavit was taken by scores of the alien seamen on what is known as

Form 1078. This sets forth that the signer intends to live in America. Commissioner Smith expressed his indignation at the attitude of these tax dodgers.

"Alien seamen have had an increase of 200 per cent in wages as a result of the war," he declared, "yet a great number of them resorted to this petty method of cheating the United States out of its just tax."

It is highly probable that an investigation of many cases will be made immediately by federal authorities.

Caution asks: "What Are Your Records Worth?"

You have expended money in creating many business records—in mechanical devices for record making—in salaries for keeping those records accurate, up-to-date and adequate.

This money has not been wisely invested unless you safeguard the records which this vast expenditure has produced. Where do you keep your records?

THE SAFE-CABINET

"The World's Safest Safe"

Science now offers this maximum protection for all business records and documents. Years of experience have proved it superior. It has saved its contents when fire has destroyed all else. It bears the Class A and Class B Safe labels of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

There's a size and style to meet every requirement. Investigate today. Tomorrow may be too late.

THE SAFE-CABINET CO.
1204 Walnut Street
DEAN HARBUTT, SALES AGENT
Walnut 6664 Rate 1549

LOSE FAITH IN COMMUNION

Germans Turning Away From System of Councils

True Shade SOCKS

You must pay the price, why not get full value. True Shade socks cost the same as ordinary socks, but they wear longer because they are knit to the feet and the fabric is therefore not subjected to strain.

The soldiers and workmen's councils for the Minden and Bielefeld districts, the newspaper also reports, have declared against the system of councils as a factor in the permanent political system and have issued a warning against communism, for which it declares the workers are not ripe.

A. R. UNDERDOWN'S SONS
202-204 MARKET STREET
Established Since 1838

LAST SALE OF THE SEASON!

Final and Only Clearaway

OF

SPRING OVERCOATS AND TOPCOATS

formerly $20, $25, $30, $35, $38, $40

now to be closed out at $15 $20 $25

Spring Overcoats and Topcoats formerly $20—reduced to $15

Spring Overcoats and Topcoats formerly $25, $28, and some $30—reduced to $20

Spring Overcoats and Topcoats formerly $30, $35, $38 and $40—reduced to $25

Single-breasted and double-breasted models; conservative models, loose-fitting models, snug-waisted Spring Overcoats—Staple blacks and Staple Oxfords, grays, blues, tans, heather mixtures in knitted fabrics, beautiful herringbone patterns faced with gray silk to front edges and skeleton lined; velvet collars and self-cloth collars; fly fronts and button-through fronts, cravenetted cloth raincoats—Spring Overcoats for every taste and temperament at prices for which we cannot produce them today!

Bargains in Suits!

Medium-weight and Winter Suits at savings up to $10! Will pay you to look them over!

$17.50, $19, $25

Winter Overcoats

At prices that they can't be duplicated for next Winter! You will be ahead of the game if you buy one and store it away!

PERRY & CO.

"N. B. T."

16th & Chestnut Sts.

BAILEY BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths

Altar and Chancel
Sterling Silver Fittings
Electro Plate and Brass

Special Drawings Furnished for Honor Rolls and Memorial Tablets of Bronze or Brass.

After all, "Quality" is the main thing to consider when you buy.

Goods that are "cheap" are generally just that and nothing more. If you really want to save money you should invest in goods that will give satisfaction and long service.

The type of merchandise that Reed's sell is the sort that makes lasting friendship and continuous customers.

JACOB REED'S SONS
1494-1496 CHESTNUT STREET

The Centemeri Seven
Kid Gloves That Are

The Flower of France

"Art is long but Time is fleeting." It requires months merely to prepare the skins that yield the soft and beautiful French Nationale Kid of which these gloves are made—

But the feminine lover of the exquisite has only minutes to see the 70 styles we have received from our Grenoble factory.

So we have selected seven styles which she can least afford not to see—

A group representing the full flower of master glovercraft and the culmination of a half-century of Centemeri experience—embracing every type and color—the novelty, the conventional, the formal.

If you cannot see each beautiful flower in our spring garden of gloves, at least do not miss

The Centemeri Seven which is to say:

The Fielder 4.00	The Seville 3.00
The Bandolette 3.00	The Elaine 3.00
The Van Dyke 3.50	The Isere 3.00
The Mousquetaire Button length . 4.50

Comprised of these seven gloves, or any number of your own selections, a Centemeri Glove Wardrobe provides the perfect Easter Remembrance.

Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

123 South 13th St.
(New York Store, 400 Fifth Ave.)