INJURED SEEKING JOBS

Weight of Fifty Applicants, Answering Advertisement, Causes Collapse

Seventeen women were hurt when part of a mezzanine balcony collapsed at 9.30 o'clock this morning in the store of Joseph G. Darlington & Co., 1126 Chestnut street.

The women injured were all applicants for employment. About fifty persons had answered an advertisement, and had crowded the store employment office, on the mezzanine floor. It collapsed under their weight.

The names of the injured, so far as they have been learned, follow:

Store Employees Escape Injury

None of the store employees was injured. Because of the early hour when the accident happened, there were comparatively few shoppers in the store.

Miss Anna Haggood, of 1412 Master street, told how the accident occurred.

Miss Haggood had gone to the store to look for work. Although she fell with the others, she was unhurt.

"It was about half-past 9 o'clock," said Miss Haggood, "when I saw about fifty girls and women crowding the mezzanine. Suddenly there was a noise of wood cracking and the part of the mezzanine where we were stood and blue. Her injuries were of a minor nature.

The fall of the balcony wrenched away some of the telephone wires, and the first floor was partly cut off from telephonic communication. A woman shopper rushed across the street to the offices of the American Express Company and sent in a hurry call for the Fifth district police station and the Jefferson Hospital ambulances.

Some Sent to Hospitals

Some of the injured were removed to nearby hospitals in patrol wagons and ambulances. Others were

FIRE AWAY, CALIFORNIA CUPID

Nine Youths Yearning to Wed Lonesome Western Girl

Nine men, young and hopeful, seek the "job" of husband to the Los Angeles, Calif. young woman with "expressive eyes" who appealed to the police here to help her find a spouse.

Three of the men appeared at the office of Superintendent Robinson today, and said they had the qualifications laid down in the young woman's letter. Their only fault, according to James H. Lambert, secretary to Director Wilson, was that they didn't resemble the likeness enclosed in the young woman's letter. The picture resembled a movie star with bushy hair. None of the applicants had it. Those who applied in person were handsome, according to Mr. Lambert. The others committed themselves in writing, and may or may not be on the Romeo order.

"I am honest and handsome," wrote one young man. Another said: "I have $470 in bank and two diamond rings. I am tired of running around. I want a good cook, who also can mend clothes. I have nice clothes and a stand-up collar."

League of Nations Poll Shows 'Ayes' Still Gaining

Affirmative Voters Greatly Exceed Opponents at University and Other Places, Where Advocates Also Lead

The strength of those Philadelphians who favor the plan for a league of nations, as proposed at the Paris Peace Conference, grows with the passing of each hour, according to the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER poll.

At the Chestnut street and Market street ferries the plan of a covenant among great nations was carried by a vote that exceeded 2 to 1. A poll taken in front of Independence Hall, memorial of the beginning of American liberty, shows that the plurality in favor of the league exceeds 3 to 1. And the ballots printed in this newspaper and marked now show a ratio of 4 to 1 in favor of the league.

The total ballot thus far tabulated shows 6276 for and 2746 against the plan of the league of nations as it now stands.

The EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER's printed votes show 892 persons for and 220 against the league of nations.

Those opposed to the plan for a league of nations showed additional strength yesterday during the second day of the poll at the University of Pennsylvania, which closes Friday in the offices of the University's daily paper, the Pennsylvania.

Starting on Monday with 33 for and 5 against the league the vote yesterday showed 76 for and 37 against the plan. This canvass of Philadelphia will end on Saturday afternoon, when the last ballot will be printed. Readers who have formed an opinion for or against the present plan for a league of nations and who have not yet mailed their votes to this newspaper are urged to do so within the next three days.

On Monday there will be a recapitulation of the vote with a resume of the arguments introduced for and against the plan which has been proposed at Paris. The names of many of the voters will be published.

The battle of the ballots conducted throughout the country shows that the league is leading by a margin of about three to one.

The question, however, has been put differently by the newspapers in other cities.

Difference in Questions

In New York, for example, the question asked "do you or do you not favor a league of nations"—in other words, the principle of a covenant of this kind. Whereas, the question propounded in this city is "do you or do you not favor the plan specifically put forward at the Paris Peace Conference." Thus a person favoring an amended plan, if

VARE IS OUTBID DEFER DECISION FOR PARK WORK

All Rival Contractors Offer Lower Proposals for Buildings

AT LEAGUE ISLAND CONTROL STATE, CHARGE

Senator Vare was outbid all along the line by rival contractors today for the construction of buildings at League Island park.

The bids were opened by Joseph L. Baldwin, assistant director of public works. The improvement bid upon was for the erection of additional comfort stations and a superintendent's building and stables. Separate bids were received for the plumbing, heating and electrical and other equipment.

Senator Vare already has performed work for the city at League Island park at a total cost of millions. This was his second failure to be low bidder for the supplemental work. Two years ago, in May, 1918, he offered to build the bathhouse, bandstand and overlook and one comfort station, for a total of $185,000. This was considered excessive and the bid rejected, the work being re-advertised.

Vare bids $302,291.50. For the same work Senator Vare's present bid is even higher, being $305,512.50 as made today. The work as planned now by the city engineers calls for the construction of additional comfort stations and the superintendent's building and stables. The Vare bid for all the work, exclusive of lighting, heating and installation of electric appliances, was $302,291.50.

Lower bids for the buildings in their entirety were offered by several contractors. William H. McCloskey, Jr., bid $272,000; Edward Pay & Son bid $265,850 and Henry E. Eaton bid $292,100.

Each firm bid separately on the different parts of the work. The lowest possible combination bid, made up of the lowest bids offered by the firms bidding in competition with Senator Vare, would come to a total of $258,091, for the construction work alone, and not counting in the lighting, heating, grading and electrical installation.

Department Estimate $272,000. The Department of Public Works estimated that the improvements at League Island Park should not come to a total cost greater than $272,000. If the lowest bid aggregate a larger sum than this it rests with the director, at his discretion, to reject any and all bids and re-advertise.

Bids were submitted by many firms for the heating, lighting and electrical installation work. The bids merely were opened today. They will now be scheduled and submitted to the director for action.
