Philadelphia Boy "Didn't Like Look" of Breach in Defenses

AT CHATEAU-THIERRY Jersey Lad Helped and Was Also Decorated for Bravery

"That gap in the wire in front of my trench doesn't look good to me," Private James E. Puncio, of this city, told a French officer at Chateau-Thierry last June, when the Germans were making their desperate drive toward Paris.

Although several French soldiers had been killed in trying to close the gap, Puncio climbed the trench parapet, ran forward through a storm of fire and repaired the wire entanglements.

Machine-gun bullets and pieces of shrapnel struck him as he ran back to his own lines. His right leg was shattered and later amputated. The plucky Philadelphian, whose home is at 5441 Palethorp street, was returned to this country and has been at the convalescent center at Camp Dix for several months.

France yesterday placed her official seal on Puncio's heroism by bestowing the "Medaille Militaire," the highest honor that can be conferred on an enlisted soldier. The presentation was made at Camp Dix.

Puncio was a member of the machine gun company of the Seventh Infantry. Preparations have been made for him to study electrical engineering at the University of Pennsylvania.

The young Philadelphian was aided in his wire-repairing exploit by Private Charles F. Gallagher, of Roebling, N. J. Gallagher, who also was mustered out of service, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre. He has been asked to return to Camp Dix for a formal presentation of the cross.

CAPTAIN W. G. LONG

CAPT. WALTER LONG WEDDED

English Girl Bride in Liverpool of Former Philadelphia Reporter

Word was received today of the wedding of Captain Walter G. Long, a former reporter of the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER and Miss Annie Neilson Humphrey, a pretty English girl, at Liverpool.

The wedding took place at the Presbyterian Church in Liverpool on March 11. It was a picturesque ceremony and was attended by many American and English officers and enlisted men. The couple were married by Chaplain McElroy.

After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Long went on a short honeymoon. Captain Long subsequently returned to Coblenz, Germany, where he is with the army of occupation. Captain Long, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Long, and is attached to the Second Ammunition Train of the Second Division. His home is in this city, at 1225 West Allegheny avenue. He enlisted at the outset of the war and won his commission at the Fort Niagara officers training camp. Although constantly in source of action he went through the war unscathed.

Limit French Rule in Sarre

Indemnity May Be $25,000,000,000 Most of the day at the council meeting was given over to the matter of the Rhine frontier and reparations, but the question of the responsibility of the former emperor and others for the war was touched on for the first time.

The chief remaining details of the reparations question involve the points whether French and British pensions will be included, and whether the specific amount demanded will be named in the treaty. Indications from one source are that the total will amount to between $20,000,000,000 and $25,000,000,000.

May Stretch Out Payments It is said it will be possible to avoid naming a total by defining the character of the payments over a period of years without precisely defining what the total would reach, and efforts are being made to find a formula which would express this idea.

It is understood the plan is considered advantageous, chiefly for friendly countries where expectations have been aroused, of a total much larger than will be allowed.

Envoys to Visit War Zone The French Government has invited all delegates to the Peace Conference to visit the devastated regions of northern France on Sunday. It is planned to take the delegates to the former battle zone on a train which will leave Paris Saturday night, going to Lens, Arras and other cities in the coal and manufacturing centers which suffered from the war.

Members of the American delegation will go, but it is yet unknown whether President Wilson will be one of the party.

A delegation of American Jews, including Colonel Harry Cutler, Louis Marshall, of New York, and Judge Julian W. Mack, of Chicago, was given a hearing today by the American peace delegation on the proposition to include in the covenant of the league of nations a section protecting the interests of Jewish and other minority populations in backward states.

1919 ROAD BUILDING MAY BREAK RECORDS

Secretary Houston Says if States Seize Their Opportunity It Will

By the Associated Press Washington, April 2.—Adoption of plans to expedite highway construction under the enlarged program recently authorized by Congress are expected to result in more miles of roads being constructed this year than in any other in the nation's history, Secretary of Agriculture Houston announced today. If all states take advantage of the opportunity offered and make available for road building sums equal to those apportioned by federal road officials a total of $242,800,000 may be expended.

As the result of a conference March 1 between the Secretary and highway commissioners of eastern and middle western states, the Department of Agriculture, through the Bureau of Public Roads, has taken up with the railroad administration the question of freight rates, which are represented as being one of the principal obstacles in the way of active resumption of highway building. Secretary Houston also has taken up with Secretary of War Baker the question of releasing from the army highway engineers, in order that their services may be utilized.

"During the war," Secretary Houston said, "it was necessary to curtail road construction because of the difficulties of securing transportation, materials and services. Now that the situation has changed the work will be resumed and vigorously prosecuted notwithstanding conditions are still abnormal in some respects, especially with reference to the prices of materials. It is not believed the people of the nation can wait for prices to recede before beginning industrial operations. Such hesitation will add to the difficulties instead of lightening them."

Secretary Houston, discussing the amount of money available, says it is so great he doubts whether states in all cases will take up their share of the funds offered by the federal government until 1920.

Discussing the act as amended, Secretary Houston points out it places only three limitations on the types of roads to be constructed. These are: That the roads shall be substantial in character; that the amount contributed from the federal treasury in connection with any road shall not exceed $20,000 a mile, and that the road must be a "rural post road" as defined in the act as amended. Very few important roads will be debarred from receiving federal aid.

Japanese Land Deal Is Denied by Mexico

Continued from Page One embassy cabled to the Japanese legation at Mexico City yesterday a request to inform the embassy upon the reported negotiations between Japanese subjects or companies and the Mexican Government concerning the purchase or lease of Mexican land for agricultural purposes.

It was learned in both American and Japanese official quarters yesterday the Japanese Government itself is not interested in any actual or contemplated efforts by Japanese citizens to obtain lands in Mexico, and further, there is no desire or intention on the part of the Tokyo authorities either to test the Lodge resolution or to countenance any movement which is not wholly legitimate and universally recognized to be such.

The impression is gaining headway in Washington that the Japanese question is being raised for purely political purposes, and that if it is carried much further the national sensibilities of the Japanese might be needlessly hurt.

Inquiry in authoritative circles disclosed that instead of 800,000 acres of land in Lower California that Japanese interests some time ago desired to obtain from the California-Mexican Land Company, of Los Angeles, about 50,000 acres.

Several Japanese merchants, neither representing nor backed by any Japanese syndicate, and without any official sanction, owned negotiations about two years ago with the Los Angeles company, not for the purchase, but the leasing of the land.
