Largest City in the World

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Would you please tell me which is the largest city in the world, London or New York, and the population of each one?

New York is the largest city in the world, with a population of 5,727,492.

London comes second, with 4,522,964.

JANE.

There are a great many chiropodists will be working on an equal basis of in the city who make a specialty of treating such trouble as you describe. In the business section of the telephone you will find the list of them. As prices differ, I cannot tell you the exact charge for the treatment.

Or this bill, so that all manufacturers will be working on an equal basis of time.

Safer to Test Seeds Before Planting One of the greatest lessons taught by the war has been saving. It is as important in gardening as in anything else, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington. In order to save time and effort which would be lost by planting worthless seed, all gardeners should test their seeds before they plant them.

For larger testings a pan or tray may be used. Small lots of the larger seeds, like corn and beans, may be sprouted in the tester for pianting in the garden to save time. Some states have a pure seed law, which protects the gardener; but try to purchase seeds of a reliable seedsman, ne matter if the price is high. It will pay in the end.
