11 EVENTS IN PENN MEET

By TED MEREDITH

A NUMBER of countries have been named as possible hosts for athletes at the 1920 Olympics. America. England, Sweden, France and Italy all were anxious to stage the classics, but, according to the latest done, the international track games will go to Antwerp. It will be the first time Belgium has done the entertaining.

The last Olympics were held at Stockholm in 1912. The championships for 1916 were supposed to be decided in Germany, and the stadium had been erected for the games, but everything went flooie when the war came. The inter-Allied meet in France will be the nearest approach to the Olympic games even years. nce 1896 Paris, St. Louis, London and Stockholm each staged the games once, and twice they were held at Athens. If the games do go to Antwerp, I am sure the meet will be a success from every angle. The Belgians are hospitable folks and will make the visiting athletes feel as if they were competing in their own backyard.

Cornell Makes Bid

Speaking of awarding championships, understand Cornell is preparing to make a bid for the intercollegiate games of 1920. Two years ago the Ithacans made an appeal for the carnival on that occasion of its spring day celebration. but the blight of war stopped all plans.

Cornell is still hoping for the games on the new Schoelkopf Field, but unless the L. C. A. A. A. a sees fit to change its mind, the classic for 1920 will be held on Franklin Field. It has been the custom to alernate between Fennsylrania and Harvard and as the Crimson has the meet this year, it is expected that Penn will receive the award next Right now Penn managers are busy planning for the three meets which will be held this month. The first will be the varsity meet on April 12, the second the interfraternity championship on April 15 and the third the relays on April 25 and 26.

Varsity Meet April 12

in the varsity meet there will be ten events open to all runners and one interdepartmental relay of a half mile closed to students in the Wharton, college, en-gineering and dental departments. The department teams will consist of eight

The events listed on the program are as follows: 100 and 300 yard dashes, 600yard run, three-quarter-mile run, 120-yard low hurdles, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, javelin throw and shot-put. As an added feature, Coach Robertso has arranged for a graduate-undergrad-uate relay of a half mile, each contestant running a furlong. The graduate team will be made up of Tom Lennon. Larry Scudder. Frank Dorsey and my-self. Tom Lennon is the only sprinter on the team which makes a "good" half-

Lancaster Veteran Pennsgrove, N. J., April 5.—Joe Alli-son, of Wilmington, sprung, a surprise here last night by decisively beating the veteran Leo Houck, of Lancaster, in every one of the eight rounds at the weekly show of the Pennsgrove A. C. Allison scored a clean knockdown in the schools, fifty-one prep schools, fifty-one grammar schools and ten parochial schools on the list,

In the preliminary bouts, Jack Kantknocked out row knocked out Jimmy McCabe, of Philadelphia, in the fourth round; Kid Rainey stopped A. Doty, of Wilmington, in the second round; Young Frankel, of Wilmington, knocked out Biliy Mack, of Philadelphia, in the first round, and Mike McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, knocked out Al Mitchell, of Wilmington, in the third round.

PENN FENCERS BEHIND

Score but Two Points in Intercollegiate Championships

New York, April 5.—The annual in-tercollegiate fencing championship got under way in the Belvedere room of the Hotel Astor last night, with Columbia, Navy, Yale, Pennsylvania and Harvard represented. The Navy team has not sustained a defeat so far this year, Co-lumbia has a good record, losing only to Navy.

Navy.

At the end of the first twenty-five bouts last night, the local collettans led the Navy by two wins at 9 to 7. Harvard was next with five wins while Permsylvania and Yale were tied with two wins each. The meet will be terminated tonight in the grand ball room of the Astor, with forty-five bouts scheduled for the afternoon and evening.

GYM MEET AT PENN

Not in Penn Relay Games

Yale is the only big college in the Yale is the only big college in the East that is not entered in the Penn relay carnival, and Illinois is the only institution of national repute in the Middle West that will not send a team to this city for the annual games. One of the outstanding facts concerning the classic this year is that there is no favorite for any of the college championships. In each of the big events at least four colleges have equal chances, according to the advance done.

Beats Young Coster

Battling Murray, the hard-hitting Italian flyweight, added another win to his rapidly growing list when he outfought Jack Eile, the New York tid-bit, in the Cambria A. C. wind-up last night.

Murray did most of the forcing, hit the cleaner and harder blows and outboxed the willing little Gotham importation. In the second round Murray made a protest, claiming that felle had his gloves. The mitts were cleaned and the battle progressed without interruption.

Eile staged a raily in the last round, but it wasn't enough to change the tide of battle.

Rewpie Callender brought joy to
