Nancy Wynne Reminiscences About Former Dancing Classes; Another Dance Planned; Victory Ball Committee Announces Result of Ball Given During Winter

HAVE you ever seen anything so sweet as the organdie frocks the few younger girls are wearing at the parties this year? I say few advisedly, for many (in fact, the majority) wear silks and satins and georgettes and chiffons and tulles and all the inishing touches of the grown-up's evening frock, but some few of the little girls about fifteen and sixteen and seventeen are wearing the simple open-necked organdie frocks such as we wore at Mrs. Lesley's and Mrs. Madison Taylor's classes and Mrs. John Lewis Jr.'s class and Mrs. W. W. Frazier's: for those ladies were the chaperones of the younger classes when I was a "boy," and I don't remember a frock worn at one of them of any material but organdie or French muslin.

And let me tell you it would have been hard to find prettier girls than those who went to those classes. Henrietta Large and Mary Reakirt and Adelaide Jorda and Nina Archer and Josephine Brinton, Rhoda and Eleanor Morris, Hops Tyler, Lalla Paul, Edith Meade and Eleanor Lewis and Edith Taylor and Lalite Lesley-gracious, but they were pretty, and such perfectly sweet dresses!

Well, for several years no little girls have worn these dainty frocks because there aren't any little girls any more, it seems. However, they are back again, and I heard one mother saying at a party recently that she was "going to make Mary wear an organdie frock like Sarah and Margaretta Harrison." They are the daughters of Mrs. Joe Harrison, who was Margaretta Large, you know. She is an older sister of Henrietta, who married Stevenson Easby. In fact, when I think of all those attendants of some of the old Saturday evening classes, nearly every one is married now. Mary Reakirt married Bob Large, who died about two years ago. Her children are now going to the dancing classes. and so are Nina Archer's. She married Arthur Baugh, you remember, and Adelaide Jordan is now Mrs. Daniel Farr. The two Morris girls, Rhoda and Eleanor, are now Mrs. Trenchard Newbold and Mrs. Stacy Lloyd, respectively. Josephine Brinton married Ernest du Pont, Hope Tyler is now Mrs. Bob Montgomery and Lalla Paul is Mrs. Paul Mills. Edith Meade married Horace Francine and Eleanor Lewis is Mrs. Clifford Wheaton Vaughan, of New York and this city; while Edith Taylor married a New York man, I can't just remember his name, and Lalite Lesley married Richard Berridge, an Irishman, and lives in Ireland.

AND speaking of Lalite, did you know she is coming over from Dublin this summer, now that the ban against sailing has been raised, and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lesley, and will bring her children with her? Isn't that lovely? It's been so long since they could meet. And I hear that Kitty Dohan, who married Major Edward Barnard Hankey some years ago and has been living in England, will also probably come over with her child to visit her mother, Mrs. Michael Dohan. When I hear of these joyous happenings I realize that there is one good, thing about war: you have so much better times when it's over than you had before because you appreciste your good times so much more.

FITHERE'S no doubt about it, dancing is coming back strong. Every few days you hear of another one for a different benefit-for people generally haven't quite ack to giving dances just simply fo the sake of giving them; there always has to be some beneficiary. And the latest I've heard of is to be given at the Academy on May 5, which is Monday. And the beneficiary is the Business Girls' Club, 804 Pine street. , Do you know about that place? It's a boarding house for selfsupporting girls, and it's an awfully nice place. There are thirty-three boarders now and there have been that many since the thing was started about three years ago. Now the board of managers wants to hulld another house to take in all the applicants-I hear that there is a long waiting list-and so they're giving this dance. The board, by the way, is headed by Mrs. George Fales Baker and includes Mrs. Thomas S. Stewart, Mrs. Dimner Beeber, Mrs. Everett Bernard, Miss Helen Louise Coates, Mrs. George D. Ross, Mrs. Levi Hammond, Mrs. Edward Schmidt, Mrs. William C. Hess, Miss Helen R. Welsh, who is treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Taylor Jackson, Mrs. Charles H. Ludington, Mrs. R. John Hughes, Mrs. George H Strawbridge and Mrs. Alexander Martin, There are a lot more, but those are the only ones I can think of right now. I guess the dance will be quite a party and, being at the Academy, it ought to be a large one, anyhow.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Churchman, Jr., Miss Gretchen Clay, Miss Kitty Brinton, Mr. Arthur Merritt, Mr. Frank Schwab, Mr. Arthington Gilpin, Jr., and Mr. Suydam Cutting, of New York.

Mrs. Lewis R. Dick will give a dinner in honor of Miss Frances McCollin on Thursday evening before the concert of the New Century Club chorus, at which Miss Mc-Collins's prize cantata, "The Singing will be sung. There will be eight Leaves," guests.

RUMMAGE SALE FOR JEFFERSON HOSPITAL

Family Moving Out of Country Home Donates Entire Furnishings to Institution

The modern rummage sale is not only a fixture with the large coterie of society philanthropic workers, but has become an enterprise, which organization and efficiency has evolved into the largest money making plan ever adopted. Not only is the treasury of a worthy charity reimbursed by these sales, but the poor at large are also benefited as they are given an opportunity to purchase superior articles at a most moderate price.

At a meeting held during last week by the social service workers of the Jefferson Hospital, final preparations were made for a large rummage sale. Mrs. David Lewis. chairman of the special committee appointed for the sale, presided at the meeting, with Mrs. Howard Davis, who is secretary of the organization. The sale opens on Wed-nesday at 800 Chestnut street. A feature of the sale will be the window displays which will be changed daily, giving exhib its of the many valuable donations that have been received. Mrs. Harold Mason, who has charge of the jewelry and silver departments, will arrange the window dec orations assisted by Miss Dorothy Huey and Miss Sarah Wilkinson.

A prominent family of the suburbs, who are giving up housekeeping, have practi-cally given over the entire furnishings of a very beautiful country home. including car pets, upholstery, curtains, pictures, furniture and brie-a-brac. Charity will be benefited both coming and going, at the toy department, which is under the management of Miss Marion Button, for a member of the committee has volunteered to buy the entire stock, giving the toys to the Home-Relief Society, who issued an appeal for toys for the poor tu bercular children.

Easter flowers, potted plants and fruits will be displayed by Mrs. Alba B. Johnson and Mrs. William Green, who suggest that all Easter purchases be made in charity's name through this department. A model little hat shop, where many new and ex-clusive models will be shown on professional manikins, will be under the direction of Mrs. Howard Davis, who will have every kind of sample, from an old lady's. bonnet to an infant's cap.

Many beautiful new gowns have been donated by prominent dressmakers of the city These will be sold in the department run by Mrs. John M. Fisher and Mrs. Alice Gilpin. Mrs. E. P. Bland will sell men's clothes, while the entire clothing depart ment, as well as the bric-a-brac. under the management of Mrs. E. J. Klopp and Mrs. Thomas McCrae. A wonderfu collection of books, including scientific works, fiction, poetry and magazines, will be sold at the little book store under the direction of Miss Martha McAllister.

Other members of the social service de partment who are interested in the success of the sale are Mrs. Daniel Baugh. Mrs Franklin Baker, Mrs. Walter Bryant, Mrs. Joseph Priestly Button, Miss Mary Converse, Mrs. John C. Da Costa, Mrs. J. Leslie Davis, Mrs. James Forney, Miss Lila Fisher, Mrs. Edwin Graham, Mrs. Clar-ence Geist, Miss Ann Hinchman, Mrs. Horatio Gates Lloyd, Mrs. Vincent Lyon, Mrs. Charles M. Lea, Mrs. Walter M. I HEAR the final meeting of the Victory Ball committe took place last week, and Mrs. Henry Brinton Coxe, who was chairman of the affair, you know, called the meeting. Mr. Thomas Reath, who was treasurer, made a very satisfactory report, I should say, for after all bills have been paid they have in the treasury on hand to date (and said date was April 3) $7426. Considering what the expenses of that ball must have been, I think it's quite remarkable that they cleared that much, don't you? I have not yet heard of the returns for the Ball Triumphant, but I guess they were pretty big, too, though of course their tickets were $9 cheaper than the others. The Victory Ball was held on February 13, in the Academy, you remember, and they had the loveliest tableaux. The proceeds of the affair are to be given toward the Temple of Victory to be erected on the Parkway in honor of the men and women of Pennsylvania who have been in the service of their country during the recent NANCY WYNNE. war.

The system should be thoroughly gone over by experts entirely unattached to it. The investigation should go just far enough to establish facts. It is not an opening for a lot of theorists to exploit their pet schemes, but a sensible plan to bring out both the good and bad points of our school management.

The survey proposed by Joseph W. Catharine, a member of the board, last April at the regular monthly meeting of the board would provide for just the things which have been outlined by Mr. Watson and by other members of the congress of presidents.

Women prominent in social and philanthropic endeavors will co-operate with the lub in raising money to increase the size of the club quarters.

The club offers a safe, comfortable and wholesome shelter to women who are employed and living away from home. The charges are in accordance with the salaries earned by the women. It is tastefully furnished and homelike. Limited accommodations hamper the growth of the work in so large a field, and a long waiting list spurs the managers to raise funds. Thirtythree is its present capacity. It was organized in 1916.
