YALE TO COMPETE IN PENN'S RELAYS

Elis Forward Belated Entries in Distance Medley and Two-Mile Relays

ALSO IN SPECIAL EVENTS

Yale University yesterday sent a somewhat belated but nevertheless welcome entry to the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival slated for April 25 and 26 on Franklin Field. Yale will run in the distance medley relay championship on Friday and in the two-mile championship on Saturday.

Yale should be a strong contender for each of her championship races. Yale will not have to go on the outside as a post entry for feeling sure that they would enter. Doctor Orton put them in the race.

SCHOOLBOY FUMBLES

THERE was a great ball game out at the Northeast High athletic field yesterday afternoon. The opposing teams, the A and C class nine, were fighting it out for the lead of the Inter-class League.

It was a regular pitching battle, even though the C class connected for no less than thirty-nine hits, by unofficial count, because of Hill's poor support.

Your first thought of the Liberty is that it has a beauty and a charm of individual style that set it quite apart from other cars. Your first ride in a Liberty reveals the astonishing fact that a car may possess unusual road steadiness and balance without being either cumbersome or costly.

KINNEY MAY ANSWER A'S PITCHING PROBLEM

Former Red Sox Relief Southpaw Hurling Good Ball for Mack—Perry Also Gives Great Exhibition Against Baltimore in Final Game

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK. BIG BILL KINNEY may be one of the answers to Connie Mack's pitching problems. The former Red Sox relief pitcher has been coming through in great style for the A's this season.

There was no change in the whiffing of the Orioles when Big Bill went on the hill. Jack Dunn's birds were held by one scratch hit in the last four innings. Mack likes Kinney. "I like Kinney," said Mack after the game, "and I believe he will make good."

Only 31 Bat. Both Perry and Kinney exhibited great hitting yesterday. Only thirty-one Orioles faced the Mack pair in the nine innings.

Carl Fletcher of Lower Merion High School and co-holder with Bill Fildes of the eastern Pennsylvania doubles championship, should win most of his matches.
