

MUSIC FEATURE OF PALM SUNDAY

Notable Programs Arranged for Special Church Services in City

PEROSI'S MASS TOMORROW

Marked by special music and the traditional decorations, Palm Sunday, symbolic of the entry by Christ into Jerusalem, will be celebrated tomorrow in the churches.

Harbingers of the sacred day appeared on the streets yesterday when flower sellers, in addition to their usual wares, offered palm branches.

Probably the greatest musical event in the celebration of the day will be the rendition in the Church of St. Francis de Sales, Forty-seventh street and Springfield avenue, of Rossini's "Stabat Mater" by the St. Madeline's Choral Society, which includes soloists from the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Oratorio in Entirety The oratorio will be given in its entirety, including the very difficult but very seldom sung double fugue number, "In Sempterna Saecula, Amen."

The choir is composed of seven's exceptionally trained voices. The "Tenebrae" will be sung Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Tomorrow, Palm Sunday, the students will sing Monsignor Lorenzo Perosi's Mass for three male voices—two tenors and bass.

Of signal interest in the diversified program, in addition to the "Tenebrae Factae Sunt," will be the presentation of the "Christus Factus Est" and the "Misereatur."

To thousands in and near Philadelphia the attendance Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of Holy Week has become an institution.

In other years the Cathedral choir sang the responses, but next week the psalms, lamentations and responses will be rendered by the seminarians.

CLOSE SHAVE ON MAIN LINE

It'll Have to Be Close Shaves, for Barbers Close Early Mondays

Even barbers have to have half-holidays! Out on the Main Line they are to have Monday afternoon, according to a ruling made by the Main Line Barbers' Association.

Those who call themselves first-nighters or socialize elsewhere Monday nights will have to go shavenshine if they forget to have the operation performed in the city and cannot attempt it themselves.

It's going to mean one of several things—suppliers in the sale of safety razors to commuters, an early rising community Monday mornings or rows of dress clothes under Nat Wilks' visages in the theatres Monday nights.

CAMDEN WINS TERMINAL

Fight With Reading Ends in Definite Promise

As soon as the government restores the Philadelphia and Reading Railway to its original owners, work on a $1,000,000 terminal in Camden will be begun, according to a statement made by Gordon Chambers, real estate agent for the railway company, at a meeting of the harbor commission in Camden City Hall last night.

Mr. Chambers asserted it is costing the company more to operate the terminal in its present state than it will the larger edifice it expects to erect. He agreed to submit plans for the new terminal at the next meeting of the commission.

EXPECT DEMOCRAT TO SUCCEED CARR

Bonniwell, Lank and Clement Urged Upon Governor for Common Pleas Bench

Politicians are speculating on the possible successor to the late Judge William A. Carr, of the Common Pleas Court. Governor Sproul will make the appointment.

Judge Carr was the only Democrat on the Common Pleas bench in Philadelphia county. It is the supposition that Governor Sproul will appoint a Democrat to fill the vacancy.

Among those mentioned for the place are Municipal Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, Edgar W. Lank, chairman of the Democratic city committee, and Public Service Commissioner Samuel M. Clement, Jr. Mr. Clement is a Republican and a close personal friend of the Governor.

It is understood the claims of Mr. Clement and Mr. Lank have been presented to Governor Sproul at Hot Springs, Va., where he is recuperating from an attack of rheumatism.

The death of the late Magistrate John F. Collins will give the minority party at the coming November election an additional magistrate. Under the law the majority party is entitled to two-thirds of the number of magistrates elected and the minority one-third.

Four magisterial places were to have been filled at the November election, the terms of Magistrates Robert Carson, Evan T. Penneck, Maxwell Stevenson, Jr., and James A. Briggs expiring on December 31. The death of Magistrate George K. Hogg and the resignation of Magistrate George A. Persch added two more places to the list.

Under this arrangement the majority party would have been entitled to four and the minority to two. Then the death of Magistrate Collins added another place to be filled, making the proportion four for the majority and three to the minority.

SUNDAY ATHLETICS URGED

Hundreds Write Park Commission Opposing Clergymen Who Ask Ban

Hundreds of letters from all parts of the city have been received by William Findlay Brown, of the Fairmount Park Commission, urging the approval of his resolution providing for healthful and innocent Sunday athletics in the city parks.

The writers favor baseball, tennis and other games, and many of them strenuously condemn the attitude of the Rev. T. T. Mutchler, secretary of the Philadelphia Sabbath Association, and the Rev. Percy Y. Shelly, of the Lord's Day Alliance, the principal opponents of the resolution.

"I feel assured that the resolution will eventually be approved and that the children and young people of Philadelphia will be permitted to enjoy to the full the benefits to health and happiness to be derived from exercise in the open," said Mr. Brown.

Major Griffith plans to retire, after twenty years of military service. He commanded the students' army training corps at the University of Pennsylvania until its disbandment, then becoming professor of military science and tactics. A reception is planned by the Penn students for Major Griffith upon his retirement.

HEY, UPPER! UPPER! YOU GOT ANY EGGS?

Jewels of Ice-Box Hazard Now in Time-Honored Easter-tide Game

"Upper! Upper! Who's got an egg?" Is the war cry of the little Easter gambler now reverberating through the city streets.

All Philadelphia kids and ex-kids know what this means. The boy of red sporting blood accepts the challenge on the spot. He makes a drive on the refrigerator and digs out the harpest and "point-i-est" egg from mother's big basket of choice hen fruit.

If mother complains, he assures her he will bring back enough for the family breakfast. Then he dashes out to "pick" the challenging kid waiting anxiously at the door.

The youngster who issues the challenge claims the advantage of his adversary, so he holds his egg "upper" and hits that of his opponent.

As a result many mothers from now until Easter will see lots of cracked eggs in their refrigerators. Do not blame the dealer, although he does charge you fifty cents a dozen, but bear in mind that the eggs may have been wounded in battle. Such casualties are not necessarily fatal to these jewels of the ice chest. They can be used for frying purposes and play the star part in the family omelette just the same as though they entered it from an unbroken shell.

And when you hear the cry "Upper! Upper!" let it resound. It may mean more eggs in your family basket.

UNITED CLUBS PLAN SURVEY OF SCHOOLS

Rotarians Express Willingness to Contribute Funds in Tackling Problem

SESSION MONDAY NIGHT

A survey of the schools of Philadelphia is to be the first aim attempted by the Congress of Club Presidents, an organization of local club heads, mostly business men, whose first meeting will be held next Monday evening in the Adelphi Hotel.

Business men sponsoring the new organization feel that in many clubs in this city is a powerful force for the solution of civic problems, not merely in outlining plans, but in having the plans consummated.

The school situation here, according to Walter Lee Rosenberger, temporary president of the new organization, is regarded as a business problem to be studied just as carefully and completely as big manufacturers study every detail of their plants.

Brands Criticism Unfair

"One of the most unfair features of the agitation concerning the public schools," he said, "is the unjustified and unintelligent criticism leveled at the Board of Education. It is regrettable that personalities regarding members of the board should be allowed to creep into the discussion."

"On Monday evening, when Calvin N. Kendall, New Jersey state commissioner of education, addresses us on schools, we are going to have a discussion that is entirely impartial and not applied particularly to Philadelphia."

Mr. Rosenberger said the Board of Education was in favor of a school survey, but hesitated at the cost it involved.

Forty-five Clubs Affiliated

"We have intimated to the board that if necessary we would provide the necessary funds," Mr. Rosenberger said.

If the cost of a survey were $25,000, he added, it would only be one-fifth of 1 per cent of the $13,000,000 spent annually for the schools here.

Forty-five clubs have been asked to affiliate themselves with the congress of club presidents and twenty-three have joined so far.

Mr. Rosenberger said all club officials will be welcomed at the meeting Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Adelphi Hotel, whether they have received invitations to join the new organization or not.

Gustave Groben, sixty-two years old, 3442 North Tenth street, was fined $7.50 today by Magistrate Wigley for trying to use a transfer which he had picked up on the street. Groben got on a Germantown trolley and offered the transfer in payment of his fare. He was arrested by a detective of the Rapid Transit Company and taken before the magistrate.

$700 MINIMUM SALARY

Teachers of New Jersey Get Increase Under New Law

The smallest salary to be paid school teachers in New Jersey, under an act passed by the state Legislature and now waiting the signature of Governor Edge, will be $700 per year.

This means an increase for many teachers of the lower grades. At the present the minimum salary ranges from $35 up to $60 in many districts.

The teachers are much pleased with the passage of the act, although some of them who have been teaching for five or six years do not feel that new teachers should receive as much as themselves.

BREST IS HEALTHFUL FOR TROOPS OF 28TH

"Horrors" of Embarkation Camp Discounted by Philadelphia Medical Officer

LAUDS GEN. S. D. BUTLER

When the Twenty-eighth Division reaches Brest it will find the embarkation camp 100 per cent efficient. This is the statement made today by Lieutenant Colonel L. W. Bremerman, a native of Philadelphia, and a graduate of the Central High School and Jefferson Medical College, who has just arrived home from overseas.

The colonel said he had learned a large number of persons in this country had written to their friends and relatives with the American expeditionary forces in France, describing the "horrors" of the camp at Brest.

He paid high tribute to Major General S. D. Butler, who came from Chester county and who commands the port of embarkation.

The women's hospitality committee of the council of national defense met yesterday to arrange for the care of families of Pennsylvania soldiers who may come from other parts of the state to witness the parade of three or four units of the Iron Division.

The members of the committee present were: Mrs. J. Willis Martin, Mrs. John C. Groome, Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, Mrs. James Starr, Mrs. Henry C. Boyer, Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Mrs. Louis R. Madeira, Mrs. L. R. Page, Mrs. Woodville Bohlen, Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, Mrs. A. H. Lea.

DEAR FOLKS:

WHEN you work hard and conscientiously to achieve a result and you feel down deep that you have succeeded — don't you like it very, VERY much when somebody comes along that you know is an expert and he tells you that your work is splendid and he congratulates you?

Is it not just human for all of us to like to hear praise of our work?

Well, I saw a very happy group of workers assembled in the CANNED GOODS DEPARTMENT of the Wilson & Co. plant, Chicago, on Friday, March 14th.

I call your attention to the fact that "FRESH" WITH SIX LETTERS carries with it 60¢ back so far as the Wilson & Co. organization is concerned. It fits the Cycle of Six, which is such a dominant factor in the business and brings so much happiness and success.

In the group of workers was Thomas E. Wilson, President of Wilson & Co., who is as intense and as enthusiastic as any of the 25,000 workers in his organization. There were also in the group three Vice-presidents of the company. I mention this to prove what I have been telling you, that the Wilson & Co. organization represents DEMOCRACY OF WORK, which starts with the head and goes all through the ranks. One man is as good as another in this organization; one woman is as good as another; and both men and women are on a basis of equality in the matter of recognition and reward for service well rendered.

Now I will tell you why they were so happy:

ALFRED W. McCANN, THE FAMOUS PURE FOOD EXPERT HAD JUST FINISHED TASTING AND TESTING THE WILSON & CO. CERTIFIED BRANDS OF CANNED MEATS, VEGETABLES AND FRUITS, AND THEN SAID: "I TAKE OFF MY HAT TO THESE PURE FOOD PRODUCTS. YOU HAVE PRODUCED A VERY FINE AND A VERY UNDEFULF LINE, AND I CONGRATULATE YOU."

Wouldn't it make you happy if you, like the Wilson & Co. workers, had been working hard to perfect food products and felt sure that you had succeeded, to have Mr. McCann—a man who knows what pure food is—tell you that you had achieved a wonderful result?

You bet it would.

Well, the Wilson & Co. workers are the same kind of human beings as you are—so they were made very happy when Mr. McCann, who had selected at random from the immense stocks of canned goods—cans of Corn, Peas, Beans, Apples, Meats, Preserves, etc.—and had them opened up and then tasted and tested them—gave them his splendid endorsement.

I know Mr. McCann personally and intimately. He is an honest, fearless, able man. Nobody on earth has ever yet been able to control his opinions or his pen. Both are owned by himself and by nobody else.

I know he meant what he said when he told those workers that their Certified foods are O. K. in all particulars, and I know also that if he had not thought they were O. K. in all particulars, the tender of a million dollars cash on the spot would not have made him endorse them.

Mr. McCann could have been rich by now had he wished to barter his honor—but he has kept himself clean and straight—AND POOR, as most men do who are intent and intent in doing things to help and protect humanity.

I did not know that Mr. McCann was in Chicago until he walked into the Wilson & Co. restaurant, which, by the way, is a big, democratic affair where officials and workers dine together in the same way that members of a family meet at their own dining room tables.

He told me he had come to Chicago to investigate the Wilson & Co. business because his interest had been aroused by reading these letters that I am writing to you. At the end of the day he was good enough to say that he found everything exactly as I have described it to you—that is to say, that there is Heart, Honor, and the Square Deal all throughout the Wilson & Co. organization.

Mr. McCann and I once spoke from the same platform at Sagamore Beach, Mass., where intense people gather and discuss the big problems of the day. I will never forget the great ovation Mr. McCann received on that occasion. He is a very dramatic and very intense speaker. He had carefully prepared a speech, but after its delivery the large audience insisted on his continuing to talk. THAT I WANTED TO HEAR MORE ABOUT HIS CRUSADE AGAINST IMPURE FOODS.

He talked for an hour longer, and then the audience consented to his stopping only because it was time for lunch, but even then, they exacted a promise from him to resume at the afternoon session. He did speak again at the afternoon session, and held his hearers spellbound for hours.

HIS WORK HAS ALWAYS BEEN VERY STRENUOUS AND HONEST. HE HAS CONTRIBUTED TREMENDOUSLY TO THE HIGH STANDARDS THAT NOW PREVAIL IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PURE FOODS.

When he returned from Chicago he wrote some wonderful articles about his visit to the Wilson & Co. plant which were printed in the New York Evening Globe. He knows, and so do I, and I think you are beginning to know, that the slogan used by Wilson & Co.—"THE WILSON LABEL PROTECTS YOUR TABLE"—means what it says.

Sincerely, WILLIAM C. FREEMAN, 250 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
