

M'NICHOL HERO ON DIAMOND AS WELL AS COURT

M'NICHOL STARS IN PENN-MACK SERIES

Danny Proves First Baseman of Great Worth to Coach Roy Thomas

FINAL BATTLE TODAY

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK
DANNY M'NICHOL, who came near being a bench-warmer on the Penn baseball squad, rapidly is moving to leadership among the Red and Blue ball tossers in both fielding and batting.

When the Quaker candidates first reported for practice, Daniel announced that he was after the second-base post. He played that position with the freshman nine last season, and believed himself more fitted for play around the middle station than in any other territory.

Not only has he been a star at bat, but he also has shone afield. In the first game he handled eleven chances without a slip, and repeated with the same number in the second without an error.

In the first two games, Danny even outscored George Burns. The latter didn't connect safely once on Saturday out of five tries, although he was issued one walk, and on Friday he hit once out of three official attempts for an average of .143.

In the three games played by Penn this season, M'Nichol has handled thirty-seven opportunities cleanly, and has batted .545. Against Trusman he got three hits out of five trips to the plate.

The Mackmen took the series from the Quakers, the first game by 9-1, and the second by 5-0, but the defeats have been credits to the students instead of deficiencies.

The final game of the series will be played this afternoon and it is likely that two more of Mack's soldier athletes will be seen in action. Ray Bates and Frank Murphy, both of whom have been in France, are expected to report.

Bates made a big splash with his hitting two years ago with the A's, and if he regains his slugging form, Fred Thomas will have to hop to hold down his third base job.

The Mackmen will play one more exhibition after today's game before they enter into the five-game series with the Phils for the city championship.

The first contest of the series with Jack Coombs' club will be staged at the Phils' park.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 14.—More than fifty players have already entered the golf tournament of the local season, which opens here tomorrow.

Scraps About Scappers
WILLIE JACKSON and Frankie Britt come together in the main session at the Olympia tonight. This will be Jackson's first appearance here in two months and his first meeting with Britt since the New England boy beat him here last February.

Eddie O'Keefe will be featured in the semiwind-up, taking on Young Norman, the Brooklyn boy who once stopped Johnny Campi. O'Keefe exhibited in an opening bout in his comeback and his showing warranted the promotion to a semiwind-up position.

In the other bouts, Johnny Green meets Whitey Fitzgerald, Patsy Tyson faces Duke O'Brien and Young Hoppe opposes Young Medway.

George Chaney handed Jack Russo a beating in the National wind-up last Saturday night, one of the six rounds. Russo's body was milled him to start, clinching alone, Young Chaney drew with Charlie Hooper, Willie Hanson stopped Young Hoppe, and the second rounder, Charley Vial beat Lieutenant Short and Billy Carson before even with George Chaney.

The featherweight champion will be here again this Saturday night, featuring the show arranged at the Philadelphia Hotel in Charleston, W. Va. In the other bouts and prize to be in competition for Johnny Mahoney, the Hazleton, Pa. fighter.

Artie Root and Joey Fox will be the wind-up interludes at the Olympia on Monday night. These are two of the leading featherweights and both are making a desperate bid for a meeting with Kilbane, the champion, in a fight which is expected at the Olympia April 28.

There will be no show at the Atlantic City Sporting Club on Thursday night and the bouts will be postponed to Friday evening, as this is Holy Week.

Joe Burman and Patsy Johnson will be the headliners at the National on the evening of April 16.

HOW JOE WRIGHT VIEWS DEFEAT OF PENN OARSMEN AT ANNAPOLIS

COACH JOE WRIGHT, of the Penn crews, had no alibi for the defeat of the Red and Blue at Annapolis last Saturday. Though not satisfied with the showing of his men, he realizes they did their best under the conditions. Discussing the race and Penn's future plans, Coach Wright said: "Don't alibi for us; we simply were beaten by a stronger crew. "Coach Glendon has the finest lot of Navy oarsmen that I ever have seen. They should never lose a race. "I intend to switch the men back to the old shell. They'll be in the old boat in the race with Yale next Saturday. "Most of the time the Navy rowed a forty-one or forty-two stroke, and I think we hit forty for the entire stretch. "I intend to make no shake-ups until I see how the men do against Yale. I look for them to strike their championship stride in this race. "We were beaten by about three lengths, and I still insist that our time was better than 7 minutes 34 seconds, as sent out from Annapolis. "The Navy varsity was timed in 7:17. On the Schuykill we consistently do the Henley course in less than 6:40, which shows the big difference in water conditions. "Wilson, our No. 7, 'caught a crab' about 100 yards from the finish, but it had nothing to do with the final outcome, as the Navy had virtually won the race by that time. "The victory of the Navy was mighty pleasing. My freshmen also did splendidly considering that they were up against one of the browniest and best-looking plebe eights I ever have seen."

Knight, in Marathon Golf, Runs Behind Schedule

Playing Over Whitmarsh Course Local Golfer Covers 72 Holes, Averaging 86 Per Round, in an Effort to Play 126 Holes Today

By PETER PUTTER
FRED W. KNIGHT began his morning at 6:15, five minutes before dawn broke, to play seven rounds of golf over the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course. In playing the 126 holes he believes that he can make an average of eighty-five strokes for each round of eighteen holes.

He finished the first nine holes in forty-four and the second nine in forty-three, for a total of eighty-seven strokes. It took him one hour and forty-five minutes. He began the second round of his long journey at 9:25 and ended it at 10:15, and his scores were forty-four out and forty in, for a total of eighty-four strokes. Knight was four strokes behind at the end of the first four rounds of his golfing marathon. His average was 86.

The Whitmarsh star would have played under 85 but for seven penalty strokes, three of which came on the so-called unlucky thirteenth hole. Three times Knight drove out of bounds at this hole, and on three occasions drove the ball into the Wissahickon creek.

Howard Histine, of the St. David's Golf Club, accompanied Knight on his marathon and scored the feat. The scores follow:
FIRST ROUND
Out..... 5 6 4 4 6 5 5 5 3 4-41
In..... 1 5 4 6 6 4 3 5 5 4-42-84

SECOND ROUND
Out..... 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 4 4-44
In..... 6 4 2 4 5 4 4 4 5 4-40-84

THIRD ROUND
Out..... 5 6 5 4 4 3 4 3-42
In..... 5 6 5 7 5 4 6 3 6 6-48-130

FOURTH ROUND
Out..... 5 6 5 5 5 5 5 5 4 4-44
In..... 4 5 3 3 4 4 5 4 5 4-40-84

The weather conditions were perfect, although at times he had to contend with a stiff breeze. The fairways and greens were in perfect condition, although in the early morning hours before the sun had a chance to dry them out the greens were slow.

There are two three shot holes on the course, the third and the eleventh, and to offset these there are four one shot holes, the fourth, ninth, twelfth and fifteenth. On these short holes twos and threes will be a material help in cutting down the total. The Wissahickon creek courses as a hazard on the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, fourteenth and fifteenth holes so that it will be an easy matter to collect strokes on these holes. There is also a water hazard on the thirteenth and in addition the course is well trapped.

In other words Knight will have to play very consistent golf to get away with his idea. Another thing that will make the attempt difficult is the character of the ground and the time of the year. Golfers in this district are still playing winter rules which permit the player to tee the ball anywhere but on in the rough and hazards. Knight has had very little opportunity to play what we know as the summer rules, where the ball is played wherever it lies, and that is system under which he is playing today.

He is a very consistent medal play scorer. He won the low score for the qualifying rounds at Hala and at Atlantic City and he has also won the Joseph Henry Patterson Memorial Cup, a thirty-six hole medal play competition and in which some of the best golfers of Philadelphia have entered.

BASEBALL MOGULS SEE DIRE CHANGES

Johnson Thinks Federal Verdict, If Sustained, Means Commission's Doom

LEAGUES TO SEPARATE

Chicago, April 14.—Revolutionary measures to safeguard baseball from all future legal attacks were forecast by Ban Johnson, president of the American League, upon his return from Washington last night. Some of the changes predicted by the president of the American League as a result of the $240,000 damages awarded Saturday to the Baltimore club of the former Federal League, by a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court are:

Dissolution of the national baseball commission, the "supreme court" of baseball.

Absolute severance of relations with the National Association of Minor Leagues.

Revision of the players' contracts eliminating the ten days' reserve clause.

The American and National Leagues, together with their club owners and officials and certain officials of the defunct Federal League, were defendants in the $200,000 suit for damages brought under the Sherman anti-trust law.

President Johnson said that an appeal would be taken to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia and, if necessary, to the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The verdict, of course, is a blow to baseball," President Johnson said, "but we are not particularly distressed, as it was nothing more than we expected under the circumstances. We were bound to expect no matter what a ray of sunshine because of the fact that we can appeal. If the verdict had been brought in our favor, it would have been denied that privilege."

While declaring that he did not care to ridicule the verdict or the justice of the court, President Johnson said the attorneys for the Baltimore club "talked like Lenin and Trotsky."

"You would have thought that we were on trial in Russia," the American League executive said. "We were charged with all manner of crimes. The attorney for the plaintiffs referred to me as the 'czar' of baseball and gave the impression that we were on the threshold of a penitentiary."

"Baseball has been conducted under the present system for forty years, and the system has been successful in keeping the sport clean and retaining the dignity of the game. If we have been wrong in our operations, then, of course, we want to know about it."

What methods? The American and National Leagues would adopt to govern themselves would be among the early developments, President Johnson said. "The leagues would be obliged to conduct their affairs independently, and the national commission would have to be abolished if the verdict is sustained," he said.

In the final for the North and South championship, Tilden downed Iohya Kumagae, 1-6, 6-2, 6-7, 6-4. In the finals of the mixed doubles Miss Marion Zinderstein and Vincent Richards won from Miss Florence Ballin and Bill Tilden.

Along Boathouse Row
The Schuylkill Navy oarsmen, who are conditioning themselves for the coming regatta, found the chill wind which was blowing over the course yesterday somewhat of a nuisance in smooth rowing. Virtually all the prominent clubs were represented in the day's rowing.

The Pennsylvania Barge Club has a second four-oared shell crew already lined up for the second four-oared shell event of the American regatta, which has been in full training since last week. Boat No. 2, skippered by No. 2, McCarty, No. 3, and Mollard, are the men who have had most rowing experience and already have a good run on their shell. Fred Koester and Franz Feder, Schmidt are training as a junior double shell crew. The men have had their debut in the Schuylkill Navy regatta.

Captain William Schmidt, of the West Philadelphia Boat Club, is training out a centipede crew made up of McCormick, boat No. 2, McHenry, No. 3, and Boyle, to try for honors in the American regatta in the second quadruple shell event. Doyle and George Harrow also will row as a second double-shell crew.
