

PASTORS MAY UNITE IN OPPOSING LOAN

Sunday Movies Denounced as "Unfair and Unjust" to Churches

PARK GAMES DEFENDED

Prominent churchmen who head the Victory Loan committees in various sections of the city may decline to aid in the loan drive, if the plan to show motion pictures on Sundays, April 27, to boost the sales, is carried out, according to the Rev. Dr. T. F. Mutchler, secretary of the Philadelphia Sabbath Association.

Doctor Mutchler's intimation follows the announcement of the Rev. Dr. Percy Shelley, to the Presbyterian Ministers' Association, that the Sunday campaign is an insult to the churches and to Christian people, and that they would be within their rights in refusing to have anything to do with the Victory Loan drive if it was persisted in.

The motion pictures are to be shown on an evening only, April 27, and not on all Sundays during the drive, it was announced today. The plan is to send the films from one theatre to another on that day, so as to furnish inspiration to support the campaign. No admission fee is to be charged.

"Unfair to Churches" When Doctor Mutchler was informed of the project, he said he was unalterably opposed to any motion picture exhibitions on Sundays.

"It is unfair and unjust to the churches," he said. "Sunday is their day. The churches of the city have given the best kind of support to the Victory loan, and for the Victory loan people to arrange motion picture exhibitions on a Sunday night is nothing short of an insult."

"Moreover, it is going to make trouble in some of the Victory loan committees. Feeling is so strong that some of the district chairmen are seriously considering the advisability of disbanding their committees because of this insult."

Doctor Mutchler would not give the names of the district chairmen who were considering this step, but he asserted that those men, prominent in church work, were angry at the proposal.

Doctor Mutchler says an "ulterior motive" on the part of advocates of revised "Blue Laws" is in the plan.

"If they can fill the picture theatres on the night of April 27 for the Victory loan picture," Doctor Mutchler said, "they will go to Harrisburg and tell the legislators that the people of Philadelphia want moving pictures on Sunday."

The Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton, who conducts the Presbyterian city mission work for the trustees of the Presbytery, said he was opposed to Sunday moving pictures, even when used to advertise the Victory loan.

"Sunday is the day for the work of the church," Doctor Fulton said at his office. "It is our day. The churches will be open. I see no good reason for any departure from the methods used in former Victory loan campaigns."

William Findlay Brown, member of the commissioners of Fairmount Park, today reiterated his position with respect to the opening of the city parks on Sundays and permitting tennis, baseball and other athletics to be played. He regretted that his idea had been confounded with the proposition to open the theatres on Sundays, and declared that those opposing the opening of the parks are obsessed with a narrow view of affairs.

Opponents Are Rapped He suggests that rigid Sabbatharians stroll out to the park on Sunday and get a little sunshine and air, adding that he is against a dismal religion which makes Sunday a day of gloom.

"It is only right and just that the property of the people should be thrown open to the people," said Mr. Brown. "The people, if they so desire, have as much right to the property that belongs to them collectively as any man has to his own private yard or any member of a country club to the golf links, and tennis courts of that club. And yet the commissioners of Fairmount Park are asked to say that the people of Philadelphia shall not use their own property in a proper and healthful manner."

"To open the parks for recreation

GALLI-CURCI FRENCH ENVOY, SAYS PUPIL IN QUIZ ANSWER

Germantown Friends' School Student Credits Methuselah With Founding Methodism

Unicorn Called New Kind of Bunion and Barnacle a Former House

The army of occupation is described as "noncombatant" who work in war gardens; and a doughboy is only a boy that has money in the answers boys and girls of the Germantown Friends' School gave in the recent annual information test.

Results of the examination given children of from ten to thirteen years, made public today, disclose all sorts of new things in the world of affairs.

The Governor of Pennsylvania is now "Vare." Galli-Curci has become the ambassador of France to the United States; the Ghetto is a "person who wears a yellow wig," and Methuselah "founded the Methodists."

It was an examination which covered all fields of day-to-day knowledge and the results are said to have been surprisingly good by teachers of the school. The best informed student in the school was Saparta Fritz, Jr., who answered correctly ninety-two of the 100 questions given.

Dalie Purvis, a senior, and Louise Birch, a girl of the second class, were tied for second with ninety correct answers. In the intermediate school, Kermit Fischer led with sixty-four.

The boys of all the classes led the girls in their answers. In the senior class the average for boys and girls was 68.33. The boys showed 77.45 and the girls 63.05. Similarly in all the classes the boys were ahead of the girls. Tests in other years showed similar results.

One of the questions asked was "What is a Busy Bertha?" To which was answered, "Another name for a French woman" and "a nurse for wounded soldiers."

A dromedary was described as a place where students board and also as a day. A barnacle was a house that was formerly a barn. A unicorn is a new kind of bunion.

The students were asked to explain what well-known initials such as T. N. T., A. E. F. and H. M. S. stand for.

exercise is a thing entirely distinct from the question of the theatres. The latter proposal, if regarded as a commercial enterprise, is a debatable question."

Of the opponents of the opening of the parks Sunday afternoons, Mr. Brown said:

"These people don't have to go out into the parks on Sundays, but I am not so sure that it would not be a good thing to compel them all to do it, and to force a little sunshine and air into them. These opponents seem to proceed on the theory that if persons indulge in healthful and invigorating exercise they therefore do not worship God. The great God never intimated that the Sabbath should not be spent in reviving the physical body and the mentality from the oppression of the work-a-day week in restoring to man the vitality he needs for the labor of the new week. The original Sabbath was not established as a day of worship, but as a day of rest.

"The people ought to be educated so as to learn that religious worship and wholesome recreation can be righteously combined. Under the proper influence the institution of the Sabbath as a day of rest and recreation as well as a day of worship will be a great thing for the churches. The churches ought to teach that doctrine; if they do, I am sure they will extend their influence by it. The Sabbath of worship and recreation, too, will be an immeasurable benefit to the community."

Girl Attacks Bull Goring Father Whittings, N. J., April 16.—Henry Baker was attacked by a bull on his farm and so badly gored he was obliged to go to a Philadelphia hospital for treatment. The animal knocked him down and did not further attack him until he tried to rise and then it gored him viciously. A fifteen-year-old daughter, with a pitchfork, attacked the bull, which turned on her, but she pluckily kept jabbing the fork into the head of the animal until one of the prongs penetrated an eye, and it retreated.

Some Weird Discoveries Disclosed by Students

Germantown Friends' School students have discovered these facts about the world:

Galli-Curci is the French ambassador to the United States. Vare is now Governor of Pennsylvania.

A doughboy is merely a "boy with money."

Methuselah founded the Methodists. Busy Bertha is a "nurse for wounded soldiers."

The Ghetto is a person with a yellow wig. A unicorn is a new kind of bunion. A dromedary is a place where students board.

Among the answers was this explanation of H. M. S.: "Home Missionary Society." David Lawrence, the journalist, was credited with having furnished the name for the St. Lawrence river.

Not only was the doughboy credited with being a "boy with money," but he was further outlined as "an army cook" and as "a soldier, because the Secretary of War is named Baker."

Biblical students may have a shock in learning that Mordocai is now classed among the "Forty Thieves." And there is a thrill for students of history in the belief of one student that the "great American who died at Sagamore Hill" was Abraham Lincoln.

Two other local units—Base Hospital Unit No. 29, the University of Pennsylvania organization, and Base Hospital No. 38, the Jefferson Hospital base—sailed from New York on Monday and are due to arrive on April 27.

One thousand Philadelphians serving with the Fifty-second Pioneer Infantry, which landed at New York on Sunday and proceeded to Camp Dix, were released from service at that camp today. This means there will be no parade here of the regiment as a unit.

In addition to praising the Twenty-eighth in a letter, General Pershing has also announced a number of promotions in the unit for bravery in action.

Both letters were read to the entire division by the various company commanders on March 29. The letter telling that the Twenty-eighth had lost none of its splendid morale after being taken from the firing line to rest center after the armistice was signed was particularly relished by the men, who have found it harder to maintain their record in the comparative quiet of the rest center than at the front.

Many prominent Philadelphians are among those named for promotions by General Pershing in his list of advancement in the Iron Division.

In the list of promotions are Walter A. Davenport, formerly a newspaperman here, who climbs up to a captain; Joseph D. Eisenbrown, a relative of Magistrate Eisenbrown, who becomes first lieutenant; Major Edward J. Meahan, formerly captain in the First Regiment, National Guard of Philadelphia, is lieutenant colonel; Joseph H. Thompson, of the famous Tenth Regiment, National Guard, becomes a colonel; John Aiken, who was captain of Company H, Tenth Regiment, National Guard, becomes a major; First Lieutenant Samuel A. Crozer, of Chester, Pa., member of the family of manufacturers, becomes captain, and Wayne E. Fluck, formerly of Palmyra, N. J., who becomes a first lieutenant.

Plans outlined include a branch in every community, the circulation of "endless chains" of pledges throughout the country, and a nation-wide campaign of publicity through the columns of the national press.

PERSHING PRAISES THE GALLANT 28TH

Tells of Pride in Division's Record on Eve of Their Sailing

PIONEERS ARE DISCHARGED

Gen. Pershing Praises Heroic Twenty-eighth

"In view of this record the officers and men of the Twenty-eighth Division may proudly carry home with them the gratitude of the Allies with whom they fought and the pride of their fellows throughout our forces."

I want them to know of my own appreciation of the part they played in the victories which are to the credit of American arms." — GENERAL PERSHING.

The Twenty-eighth—Iron—Division, now in the Le Mans embarkation area, France, awaiting orders to proceed to Brest has been highly praised in a personal letter from General Pershing.

The letter is addressed to Major General William H. Hay, commander of the unit, and traces the history of the division from the time it had its intensive training with the British, in the spring of last year, to its review before General Pershing on March 10.

Two other local units—Base Hospital Unit No. 29, the University of Pennsylvania organization, and Base Hospital No. 38, the Jefferson Hospital base—sailed from New York on Monday and are due to arrive on April 27.

One thousand Philadelphians serving with the Fifty-second Pioneer Infantry, which landed at New York on Sunday and proceeded to Camp Dix, were released from service at that camp today. This means there will be no parade here of the regiment as a unit.

In addition to praising the Twenty-eighth in a letter, General Pershing has also announced a number of promotions in the unit for bravery in action.

Both letters were read to the entire division by the various company commanders on March 29. The letter telling that the Twenty-eighth had lost none of its splendid morale after being taken from the firing line to rest center after the armistice was signed was particularly relished by the men, who have found it harder to maintain their record in the comparative quiet of the rest center than at the front.

Many prominent Philadelphians are among those named for promotions by General Pershing in his list of advancement in the Iron Division.

In the list of promotions are Walter A. Davenport, formerly a newspaperman here, who climbs up to a captain; Joseph D. Eisenbrown, a relative of Magistrate Eisenbrown, who becomes first lieutenant; Major Edward J. Meahan, formerly captain in the First Regiment, National Guard of Philadelphia, is lieutenant colonel; Joseph H. Thompson, of the famous Tenth Regiment, National Guard, becomes a colonel; John Aiken, who was captain of Company H, Tenth Regiment, National Guard, becomes a major; First Lieutenant Samuel A. Crozer, of Chester, Pa., member of the family of manufacturers, becomes captain, and Wayne E. Fluck, formerly of Palmyra, N. J., who becomes a first lieutenant.

Plans outlined include a branch in every community, the circulation of "endless chains" of pledges throughout the country, and a nation-wide campaign of publicity through the columns of the national press.

TICKETS LIMITED TO 28TH'S CLOSE KIN

Admission to River Boats and Grand Stand Depends on Relationship

For the benefit of inquirers as to the distribution of tickets to river craft which will meet the incoming transports of the Iron Division, and to grand stands for the parade, the Philadelphia welcome home committee today furnished the following information:

First. Only the next of kin—mother, father, sister, brother, son and daughter—to any soldier of the parading units are entitled to tickets.

Second. A letter from the soldier relative, or some other evidence, must be presented either in person or by mail, to the Philadelphia welcome home committee on the first floor of the Liberty Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, as sufficient proof that the request is being made by some one next of kin to the soldier.

Third. A stamped and addressed envelope must be left with the committee. The tickets will be printed and mailed as soon as the final decision is made on the date of the reception and parade. The decision will depend upon the time of the arrival of the division units.

Already 2000 requests for tickets have been received. The seating capacity of the grand stands, which will be placed either at City Hall or along the Parkway, has not yet been figured. And the number of persons whose requests for tickets will be granted can not be determined. It is assured, however, that physical conditions will prohibit the accommodation of the thousands of relatives who will ask for tickets.

George G. Fitter George Gorgas Fitter, aged sixty-one, died on Monday in a sanitarium in Morton, Delaware county, after ten years' illness of tuberculosis. Before his health failed Mr. Fitter was the Pennsylvania representative of A. G. Spalding & Bros., manufacturers of athletic goods. He was a native of this city, a son of Washington and Rachel Gorgas Fitter. He was educated at Nazareth Hall and was a member of the West Side Presbyterian Church, Germantown.

Mrs. Katharine Browning Mrs. Katharine Browning, wife of Charles H. Browning, of Ardmore, died last night in the University Hospital after four months' illness. Besides her

Deaths of a Day WILLIAM M. GOODES

Artist and Illustrator Dies at His Home in Roxborough

William M. Goodes, an artist, whose original ideas and skill in sketching won for him wide fame as a comic illustrator and cartoonist, died yesterday after a week's illness of uremia at his home in Roxborough.

He was born sixty-three years ago in Portage county, O., while his par-

RICH-DEEP TONES Are the voice of this season in color schemes of custom-made outer coats. These tones include "Midnight Blue," "African Brown," "Royal Red," and other soft artistic dyes that enable you to wear to impart personality and individuality to their cars. We extend a cordial invitation to you to visit our plant and see for yourself how perfectly we can remodel your car and bring it up to date. We are located on Market Street, at Tenth, Camden, close to the city hall, in the city of Camden, N. J. STOP IN AND SEE US. Chas. S. Caffrey Co. Camden, New Jersey ents, who were Philadelphians, were living there. They returned to this city with William when he was two years old. Mr. Goodes began his career as a lithographer, and while following that he took courses in the Academy of the Fine Arts. Soon after he was placed in charge of the art department of the John D. Avil Company. While connected with the Historical Publishing Company he illustrated the Henry M. Stanley book, "African Jungles." He also illustrated Bill Nye's last work, "Comic History of England." For a time he was associated with George V. Hobart when the playwright was writing comic sketches.

For twenty years he contributed the comic sketches for Lippincott's Magazine. Other publications to which Mr. Goodes was a frequent contributor included Puck, Judge, Harpers' Round Table, Texas Siftings and the Century. He followed his profession until his last illness.

Mr. Goodes when a young man was a member of the State Feacibles and served with that command in the Pittsburgh riots. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Margaret E. Goodes; a son, Edward A. Goodes, and a brother, Thomas A. Goodes.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Admitted to the bar in 1860, Sir Auguste became a conservative in politics and sat in the Quebec Assembly from 1874 to 1879, later serving as solicitor and attorney general. He was a judge for seven years, and later sat in the House of Commons. Keenly interested in sport, especially yachting husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Roberta Browning. Mrs. Browning, who was well-known in musical circles, was active in war relief movements in the Main Line section.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Admitted to the bar in 1860, Sir Auguste became a conservative in politics and sat in the Quebec Assembly from 1874 to 1879, later serving as solicitor and attorney general. He was a judge for seven years, and later sat in the House of Commons. Keenly interested in sport, especially yachting husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Roberta Browning. Mrs. Browning, who was well-known in musical circles, was active in war relief movements in the Main Line section.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Admitted to the bar in 1860, Sir Auguste became a conservative in politics and sat in the Quebec Assembly from 1874 to 1879, later serving as solicitor and attorney general. He was a judge for seven years, and later sat in the House of Commons. Keenly interested in sport, especially yachting husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Roberta Browning. Mrs. Browning, who was well-known in musical circles, was active in war relief movements in the Main Line section.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Admitted to the bar in 1860, Sir Auguste became a conservative in politics and sat in the Quebec Assembly from 1874 to 1879, later serving as solicitor and attorney general. He was a judge for seven years, and later sat in the House of Commons. Keenly interested in sport, especially yachting husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Roberta Browning. Mrs. Browning, who was well-known in musical circles, was active in war relief movements in the Main Line section.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Admitted to the bar in 1860, Sir Auguste became a conservative in politics and sat in the Quebec Assembly from 1874 to 1879, later serving as solicitor and attorney general. He was a judge for seven years, and later sat in the House of Commons. Keenly interested in sport, especially yachting husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Roberta Browning. Mrs. Browning, who was well-known in musical circles, was active in war relief movements in the Main Line section.

Frederick W. Sutton Frederick W. Sutton, aged sixty years, a building contractor, died yesterday at his home, 35 East Seymour street, Germantown, after two years' illness. He was a member of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection and of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, a widely known Lutheran minister, died yesterday in the Mary Drexel Home. She was in her eighty-sixth year.

Sir Auguste Real Angers Montreal, April 16.—Sir Auguste Real Angers, K. C., lieutenant governor of Quebec from 1887 to 1892, died here Monday night of pneumonia. He was eighty-one years old.

Silverware at Unusual Prices The reductions in prices of sterling silver and silver plated ware, during our annual clearance sale, are particularly surprising in view of the generally prevailing high prices. This sale, conducted for the purpose of clearance of certain items, will be continued throughout this week. S. Kind & Sons, 1110 Chestnut St. DIAMOND MERCHANTS—JEWELERS—SILVERSMITHS Goods purchased during this sale may not be exchanged.

OPPENHEIM, COLLINS & CO Chestnut and 12th Sts. Exceptional Values for Tomorrow Girls' Smart Spring Capes $13.75 $9.75 $18.75 Navy serge capes in full flare style, with coatee front and sailor collar in red or blue, trimmed with buttons, very youthful and becoming. Special 9.75 Smart capes of navy serge in full flare model, with sailor collar and tie of faille silk in rose, tan or turquoise; attractively trimmed with buttons. Special 13.75 Attractive navy serge capes with belted coat effect of self color, Copenhagen, red or reindeer; graceful flare back with convertible collar. Special 18.75

BONWIT TELLER & CO The Specialty Shop of Originations CHESTNUT AT 13th STREET Bontell Jersey SPORTS CLOTHES Sports clothes tailored expressly for Bonwit Teller & Co. and made from all-wool Jersey in heavy, medium or light weight, in styles suitable for all occasions in town or country. SUITS, 29.50 to 45.00 Coats, Capes & Jackets 19.50 to 37.50 Coat Illustrated 25.00

REID AND FORT Founded in 1894 Imported Neckwear for Easter Just in time for Easter selling, a limited selection of the finest imported silk neckwear has arrived. In an exquisite array of colors and all-over designs $2.50 Young Men! Men! Just Four More Days To Select Your SUITS for EASTER They're Ready Here—And Of The Finest Quality $35 Tailored For Us By The Kirschbaum Shops FOR the quick selection of a suit or top-coat where would you find a better place than one of these convenient R. & F. stores? No worry about style—every Kirschbaum model here is of the latest and best design. No worry about fabrics—ours are all-wool, 100 percent. No worry about quality—nothing in materials or workmanship except the very finest ever gets into a R. & F. cabinet. Above all, see the fine flannels and unfinished worsteds at $35—a big money's worth. REID AND FORT 1204 CHESTNUT STREET 11 SOUTH 15th STREET