

78TH DIVISION MAY BE HOME MAY 30

"Lightning" Soldiers Expect Their Discharge by July 4, Dix Hears

THEY WON MANY HONORS

Camp Dix, N. J., April 18.—Word received from officers and men of the Seventy-eighth Division says they are preparing to leave billets near Semur, and by May 15 expect to go on the ships that will take them home.

That the Seventy-eighth upheld the honor of Dix in every way is more apparent each day as the men arrive home. Particularly is this true of the Jersey men in the 311th and 312th Regiments. Among the men awarded Distinguished Service Crosses by General Pershing on his third visit to the men were the following members of the 311th: Lieutenant Lee S. Hultsen and Lieutenant E. W. Mills, Sergeant C. A. Robbins and Joseph H. Faber, Company B; Sergeant Joseph C. Hennessey and John Zavadsky, Company D; Corporal Raymond Schroth and Corporal George G. McDonald, Company E; Corporal H. L. Loomis, Company F; Privates J. S. Aldridge, Jr., and L. E. Slover, Company B; Private Eugene, Company D, and Walter F. Burke, medical detachment of the 311th.

To Colonel Robert McBeck, of Wilmington, who left here as major in command of the 307th Machine Gun Battalion, has been awarded a Distinguished Service medal by General Pershing.

Major General Hugh L. Scott, camp commander, next Friday, will present a Cross de Guerre to Private James Earley, of Pittsburgh, a member of Company A, Third Infantry, who is now at home, but will return here for the presentation and to be guest of honor of Company 3 of the convalescent center. Although an infantryman, he helped a machine gunner to carry on a successful advance into the German line until he fell wounded.

Deaths of a Day

JOSEPH C. WARE

Commission Merchant Dies at His Home in Oaklyn

Joseph C. Ware, a member of the firm of Buzby & Ware, commission merchants in fruits and vegetables, 116 Dock street, died yesterday of diabetes. Mr. Ware, who was thirty-seven years old, is survived by a widow and two children, a son and a daughter. He had been identified with the fruit and produce trade during his entire business career and ten years ago became a member of the firm of Buzby & Ware. The funeral will be held on Monday from his home in Oaklyn, N. J.

Dr. John D. M. Cardeza

Dr. John D. M. Cardeza, seventy-three years old, died Tuesday at the home of his son, Dr. John Martinez Cardeza, of Brooklyn. He was a cousin of Thomas Drake Martinez Cardeza, of Germantown, and was well known in Chester, where he practiced as a physician for forty years. He was a graduate of the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania. He leaves a widow and one son. The funeral will be held tomorrow. Burial will be made at Chester.

Mrs. Mary K. Grahn

Mrs. Mary Kurtz Grahn, widow of the Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn, died at the Mary J. Drexel Home, Corinthian and Girard avenues, Tuesday. Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Fresh vegetables and fruits from the South and California—fish or game or berries—here you'll find them any day in the year, served as the St. James—and only the St. James—can serve them. The very last word in cuisine has made the St. James famous the length and breadth of the land.

The St. James Walnut at 19th Street W. B. Johnson, Manager o'clock. The interment will be private. Mrs. Grahn, who was eighty-five years old, was born in Gettysburg, Pa. She came to the Mary J. Drexel Home about twelve years ago, shortly after the death of her husband. She is survived by two sons, the Rev. Ernest M. Grahn, of Albany, N. Y., and Harry W. Grahn, and one daughter, Miss Anna C. Grahn. The Rev. Dr. Hugo Grahn was formerly secretary of the board of managers of the Mary J. Drexel Home. He was also pastor for many years of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Fourth and Carpenter streets.

Albert Wilby

Albert Wilby, a retired butcher, died suddenly at his home, 3808 Manayunk avenue, Wednesday, at the age of seventy years. A widow, two sons and five daughters survive. Mr. Wilby was born in Leeds, England, January 7, 1849. He came to this country in 1873 and started as a weaver. After a few years he entered the butcher business, in which he continued until his retirement two years ago. Wilby was a former vestryman of St. Stephen's P. E. Church and was also a member of the St. George Society. He will be buried tomorrow in St. Timothy's graveyard, Roxborough.

Mrs. Anna M. Keyworth

Mrs. Anna Maria Keyworth, widow of Daniel F. Keyworth and mother of Dr. Faunce K. Webster, died yesterday at her home, 1806 Spring Garden street. She was seventy-five years old and had been ill but four days of pneumonia. She had been a widow eleven years and was a niece of the late Senator David K. Lushy, of Maryland, a second cousin of Senator George Washington Coverington, of Cecil county, Md. She was the daughter of Joshua Turpin and her stepfather was the Rev. Charles H. Keyworth, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Baltimore. Funeral services will be held Monday, at 2 p. m., at 1820 Chestnut street. The interment will be in West Laurel Hill cemetery.

COMMERCE BODY EXPLAINS POSITION ON SANSOM STREET

"General Principle of Ordinance Approved, Rather Than as Amended or to Be Amended," Says Statement

The following statement was issued yesterday from the publicity bureau of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce: "The action taken by the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce on April 15, supplementing the action of the board of directors of the chamber at a meeting held April 10, was an approval of the following paragraph in the report presented by the committee on municipal affairs: 'The proposed bridge and tunnel across Sansom street, as proposed by the Curtis Publishing Company, was discussed by this committee, and it was decided that the Chamber of Commerce should endorse this project as outlined, with the understanding that the street should be left open to traffic.'"

"The proposed bridge and tunnel across Sansom street, as proposed by the Curtis Publishing Company, was discussed by this committee, and it was decided that the Chamber of Commerce should endorse this project as outlined, with the understanding that the street should be left open to traffic." "Following the meeting of the executive committee, an article prepared by this bureau was sent to the newspapers in which it was stated that the ordinance prepared for Councils and on which a public hearing had been held by the joint committees of finance and surveys of Councils, had been approved by that joint committee and that it was this action which the executive committee of the chamber had endorsed. This was a misstatement of facts, and when it was found so to be an effort was made to correct it by telephoning to the newspapers that it was the general principle of the ordinance which had been approved, rather than the ordinance as amended or to be amended. The publicity bureau of the chamber assumes full responsibility for the confusion which has occurred in connection with this subject."

PLAY PIERS TO REOPEN

Chestnut and Race Street Recreation Structures Ready June 1

War rules suspending the use of the recreation piers at Chestnut and Race streets' river front, which went into effect September 14, 1917, have been withdrawn, and the board of recreation is making plans for opening the river breathing places early in June. Tennis courts will be a new attraction this year. A petition signed by 100 business men and commission merchants in offices near the river was sent to the board of recreation, asking that the courts be established. It was found possible to erect five courts on each pier and still allow room for the seating of 2000 spectators.

Gymnasium classes will be planned for men, women and children, and the board, in co-operation with Doctor Krusen, will have a trained nurse on duty on the piers who will instruct mothers in baby welfare and safety-first measures.

Jumps to Escape Steam

When the steam gauge of his engine broke this morning, William Mack, twenty-one years old, of 1323 South Hollywood street, a fireman for the Pennsylvania Railroad, jumped through the cab window to escape the steam and suffered severe lacerations of the face and hands. He was taken to the Poly-clinic Hospital. The engine was standing at Thirtieth street and Gray's Ferry road.
