Nancy Wynie Talks About Easter and Victory Loan Spirit. Young Imbulance Driver Returns Unexpectedly-E. 1. A. to Manage "Eats" at Horse Show

tory exhilaration remed to strike everybody all at once? The 'hestnut street crowds had almost that carefee, utterly happy feeling that they had who the armistice was signed. Easter came withreal joy, and the Victory Loan started off with an impetus that surely ought to carry it a successfully.

And did you ger see so many stunning clothes? I wish | could stop and tell you about the attracive hats I saw both and off." But I ill tell you about Marjory Taylor's. I sawier coming down Chestnut street with her other in their car, and she had on a dark he-I think it was a suit. but it may hav been a serge dress-and such a pretty live dark hat turned up just a little in back with gay little flowers around the crows It had spring and Easter written all over 1, and it was most becoming to Marjory.

DID you knot that Ned Page, who has D been doing mbulance work in France. has returned? t must have been the most perfect surprisefor his mother. The person who told me abut it said that Mrs. Page knew that he ws in Brest and hoped to sail soon, but that was all; and to her joy he just walked in our day last week. He is named for his father, Edward Sydenham Page, who dig last summer while his son was still oversas. In fact, young Ned has been over more than a year. He left his studies at Priceton to go into the ambulance service jith the Red Cross. I hear he will go back # Princeton soon and finish his studies there. It must be a great comfort to have him pme, for Mrs. Page has had so much sorrow n the last two years.

You remember two summers ago, when she and Mr. Pae were traveling to California and were in he Canadian Rockies, their second son wastaken very ill in Devon, where he and his two sisters were spending the summer, and before his parents could reach home he did. He was eleven or twelve years old and a logly boy. The little girls are nine and ten years old. With their mother they have been at the seashore for a while and just returned to their Devon home about a fortnight ago.

Mrs. Pige was Miss Helen Bickley, a niece of the lat Mr. Thomas Scott, who was pres-ident of the Pennsylvasia Railroad, and a cousin of the late Mr. Edgar T. Scott, who died in France last fall.

HEAR that Constance Vauclain and a corps of Emergency Aid Aides have vol-unteered to take full charge of the cafeteria which will be carried on in connection with the Indoor Hose Show next month. It's going to be had in the Third Regiment Armory, you how, on May 8, 9 and 10, and Mrs. Harrock, who is chairman, you know, tells methat the committee has voted to entertain de hundred convalescent soldiers and sailds on the Thursday and Friday evenings of th show.

The armor is larger than the First City Troop, so it is expected that there will be seating room and the number of boxes will be greater, too. From all I hear the attendance vill be great.

HAVE wen told that the Bellevue Stratford will open a series of dances from 10 until 1 c clock tonight for charity. The opening wek the beneficiary will be the Visiting Nuse Society. The dances are to be held in the Stratford room. Mrs. J. Norman Jakson, who is so active in visiting nurse won and is vice president of that association is chairman of the committee in chargeof the dances, and there will be wo or tree members of the committee at the dance each evening to act as chaperones. This evoing Mrs. Samuel Lit and Mrs.

Louis Wilf will be chaperones. Tomorow evening Mrs, Clarence Warwill be in charge ; on Wednesday, Miss Mary febiger and Mrs. Albert Brubaker will be the patronesses; Thursday, Mrs. MorrisJastrow, Jr.; Friday, Mrs. C. Howard' Chrk and Mrs. Morris J. Lewis, and Saturday Mrs. Tom Dolan, who is president of the Visiting Nurse Society, by the way, and Mrs Norman Jackson. Besides these who have been specially assigned, other member of the committee will assist. They include Mrs. Hornce Howard Furness, 'Jr. Miss Mna Lea, Mrs. Chancellor English. Mrs. Villiam Furness Jenks, Miss Mary Robert Coles, Mrs. Henry Wolf Bikle, Mrs. France T. Stewart, Miss Doris Earle and Mrs. James D. Winsor, Jr.

WELL, did yourver see anything like this town? Wereft you positively thrilled on Saturday whenall the flags were "furled out" and all the faster spirit and the Vic-tory exhilaration semed to strike everybody

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, of Moreland avenue, St. Martins, will entertain at din-ner on Thursday evening before the Easter cotillon of Miss Lockwood's dancing class at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

The women's committees for the Phila delphia Orchestra will hold its annual meeting on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. followed by an anniversary luncheon at 12:30 at the Bellevue-Stratford. Addresses will be made by Mr. Alexander Van Rensselaer, Mr. Leopold Stokowski and others. The luncheon committee includes Mrs. Alfred R. Allen, Mrs. William W. Arnett, Mrs. Matthew H. Cryer, Mrs. L. Howard Weatherly, Countess of Santa Eulalia, Miss Frances A. Wister, president of the women's committee, and Mrs. Charles W. Henry, chairman.

Mrs. C. L. Lockwood and her daughters. Miss Elizabeth Lockwood and Miss Louise Lockwood, who have been spending the winter at 1503 Locust street, will return to their home in St. Martins lane, St. Martins, this week.

Mrs. H. H. Ragg, of 501 Bryn Mawr avenue, C'fnwyd, is giving a card party and homemade cake and candy sale at her home this afternoon for the benefit of the local branch of the Woman Suffrage Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William, F. Read. of St. Martins lane, St. Martins, have taken a house at Bay Head for the summer.

Mr. F. Lewis Barroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leeds Barroll, of St. Martins, left yesterday for Wilmington, N. C., where he will act as best man at the wedding of Miss Mary Hargrove Bellamy and his brother, Mr. J. Leeds Barroll, Jr., on Wednesday.

Mr. Fred Philip Smith, son of Mrs. M. E. Smith, of Moorestown, N. J., formerly of Overbrook, who has been serving in the American ambulance with the French army for the last two years, arrived at New York yesterday. Mr. Smith has been wounded and has been awarded the Croix de Guerre.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Falck have bought a house on the corner of Springfield avenue and Lincoln drive, St. Martins, into which they expect to move on May 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Storm, of 5230 Cedar avenue, West Philadelphia, are re-ceiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Kathryn Mercedes Storm.

Friends of Licutenant W. J. Jegen. Thirtieth Infantry, Third Division, will be glad to know that he is leaving the army of occupation for his home in Glenside.

The fourth subscription dance of the series which the Torresdale Golf Club has been giving will be held on Friday evening at 9 o'clock. The committee includes Mr George H. Hervey and Mr. Frederick K.

The North Philadelphia branch of the Emergency Aid will give a dance this eve-ning at the Philomusian Club. Mrs. Robert R. Porter, chairman of the entertainment committee, is in charge of the affair.

GABRILOWITSCH HERO OF ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Remarkable Performance of Mozart and Weber Feature of a Fine Program

Two geonductors of American orchestras. Gabrilowitsch, of Detroit, as soloist, and Ysaye, of Cincinnati, as composer, were features of Saturday night a concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra at the Academy of Music The concert was one of the most interesting of the season. It opened with the seldom heard "Fidelio" Overture of Beethoven though why this fine work should be so per sistently neglected in favor of the No. 3 is hard, to understand. It contains none of the melodies of the opera, but is fully the equal of the others as music and is an ad-vance in orchestration, notably in the use of the melodic born. The solo born part also contains an arpeggio passage which Strauss has almost exactly paralleled in the "Till" motif of "Eulenspiegel."

The overture was followed by the first ap pearance on the program of Mr. Gabrilo witsch in the D minor Concerto of Mozar It is not going too far to say that this wa the finest Mozart playing that has been heard in this city in years, if indeed better was ever heard. The surface simplicity of Mozart is the trap into which nearly all his inter preters fail. To play Mozart well, perfect art and perfect sincerity are required. Mr Gabrilowitsch showed both in his extraor dinarily beautiful reading of the concerto.

He made no attempt to force into the world an emotional element which the composer did not intend, but read the concerts with rare beauty of tone, absolute fidelity to text and spirit and without any attempt to make passages written bravura in Mozart's day sound bravura in the modern sense. The result of this masterly reading was that Mo-zart shone forth in all the glory which is rightfully his, but which very few artists are great enough to bring home to an and ence. It was a wonderful performance in its implicity and fidelity.

Mr. Stokowski followed this fine work with a splendid interpretation of the Schu mann D minor Symphony. The poetry of the composition was properly made the high point, and the architectural lines from move ment to movement were closely observed. It was one of his best performances of the sea son, and the orchestra played it unusually well.

Then came two novelties, the prelude to the opera "Fedra," by Pizzetti, a young thalian composer, and a poem, "Exile," for divided violins and violas, by Y-saye. The former is a work of the new Italian school and presented some interesting and original features, both in orchestration and in thought. The general melodic scheme is that of a sublimated Puccini. The harmonization is modern but not radical enough to offend senses attuned to the old classic harmoni system and the orchestration contains some emarkable effects, among them the continned use of the violas in the higher reg ister as a melodic instrument and an un usual double trill of great length in the contrabasses. The work is complex in construction and will bear another hearing. Mr. Ysaye's Poem was also interesting and bears out in a general way the idea which it is meant to convey. Like most music composed to a strict program, it would have been meaningless without son hint as to its general intention, so vague is the total scheme and so wandering the melo dies. It is composed with great knowledge of the total tonal resources of the violing and violas in their various registers, as all are much divided, and was finely played by the members of the orchestra who took par in it. Nevertheless it is too long for a com position containing no part lower in register than an alto, and the absence of bass tones became apparent long before its close. It was ingenious, but the work will not make Mr. Ysaye's fame as a composer overshadow

The concert closed with a builliant perof Weber's Concertsmek f

Mr. Gabrilowitsch. Here again he demenstrated his high artistry, for in it he displayed the very qualities he held so admirably in check in the Mozart Concerto. It was bravura playing of the highest order in the numerous brilliant passages, but always with the same exquisite tone quality which he showed in the previous work. The work contains enough good melodies to make half a dozen concert numbers, and while it must be admitted that they do not always "fit" in their relation to each other and to the composition as a whole, still the artist made them all sound consistent with his fine sense. of balance. At the close he received as much of a reception as any planist who has played here this year, and deservedly, for it was as fine a performance as the season has shown.

Plea for Korean Independence

to the Editor of the Econing Public Ledger. Sir-Mr. James Price in an address before the Philomusian Club yesterday, made the statement that "Korea is not quite ready for independence." He pointed out that owing to Japanese supervision, Korean education has not been up to the mark; that Korean students are not permitted to study such subjects as history, law and economics in Japanese schools, and that Koreans are not permitted to come to America for their education. Therefore, according to Mr. Price, Korea as a nation is not quite ready for independence. The statements are very misleading to the casual reader. A careful perusal shows they are fluconsistent. Does Mr. Price know that the Koreaus

Koreans, cannot ever reach such as he terms "ready for independence" Korea has a distinct history and antional ity of her own, and the average Korean can compete with the average Japanese in any sphere of human activity, provided he is given an equal opportunity with the Japan ese. . But this is what he is denied in his native land, and I may add, that equality of opportunity is the essence of American democracy, which is the very thing the Korean people are fighting for.

If a man like Mr. Price does not believe that Koreans ought to have this precious treasure of western civilization, viz, the equality of opportunity, then he is not sincere in his belief in American democracy.

As a matter of fact, the educational level of the Korean has been lowered tremendously since the Japanese occupation of Korea. Through the so-called educational regulations passed by the government, the Japan ese authorities have the absolute control of the Koreau school system, and thereby deliberately oppose higher education among the Koreans, who would rejoice in having the opportunity of taking the higher studies in the East and also in America.

The only way, and a deep reading of Mr. Price's words emphasizes that the only way. is to grant Koreans their independence, so that they may prove their capacity for independence. To deny them this opportunity on the assumption that they are not ready for it, is like telling a young man that he must get education, but that he should never read a book or hear a lecture of educational value. /The Japanese received their civilization from Korea, and the Korean people are the only people in the East open-minded enough to receive the doctrines of Christianity. They have incorporated these into their political ideas, a fact which has been so well demonstrated by the proceedings of the present congress in Philadelphia, and the reports of missionaries abroad. As Christianity is regarded in America as embracing the best and highest in education, this is the supreme proof that Koreans are capable of self-government, even surpassing the Japanese. I shall appreciate your courtesy in publishing this letter. Thanking you for the splending assist ance you gave through your columns to our congress, I beg to remain, respectfully yours, HENRY CHUNG.

Famine in Homes

April 17.

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledges Sir—I was very much interested in an ar-ticle in the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER, under the caption. "Houses Few, Rents High, No Relief Near."

I have been a builder all my life, not a jerry builder, but a square deal man; if I could not honestly recommend my house for.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy E. Smalley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smalley, of 141 East Coul-ter street. Germantowa, to Mr. Hiram L. Wynne, Jr., of Roxborough, on Thursday evening, April 17. by the Rev. William L. Rearick, of the Talanage Memorial Church. Roxborough, Mr. and Mrs. Wynne will be at home upon their return from their wedding trip at 4559 Peckin street, Roxboroura.

I will close this epistle with the request if you wish to help to conquer the famine o houses in Philadelphia you could take up the matter perhaps with some liberal-minded money party who could deal with a builder on this old time basis of mutual interest between landowner and builder. I never failed in any undertaking I started. M character and reputation is A-1. Vouched for by bank president, trust company, merchants and nuterial merchants. Never had a lien filed on my houses. Don't have to turn the corner afraid to meet my employers. RENWICK MOFFETT Philadelphia, April 17.
