

Philadelphia Begins Victory Loan Campaign : Court of Honor Center of Drive Activities

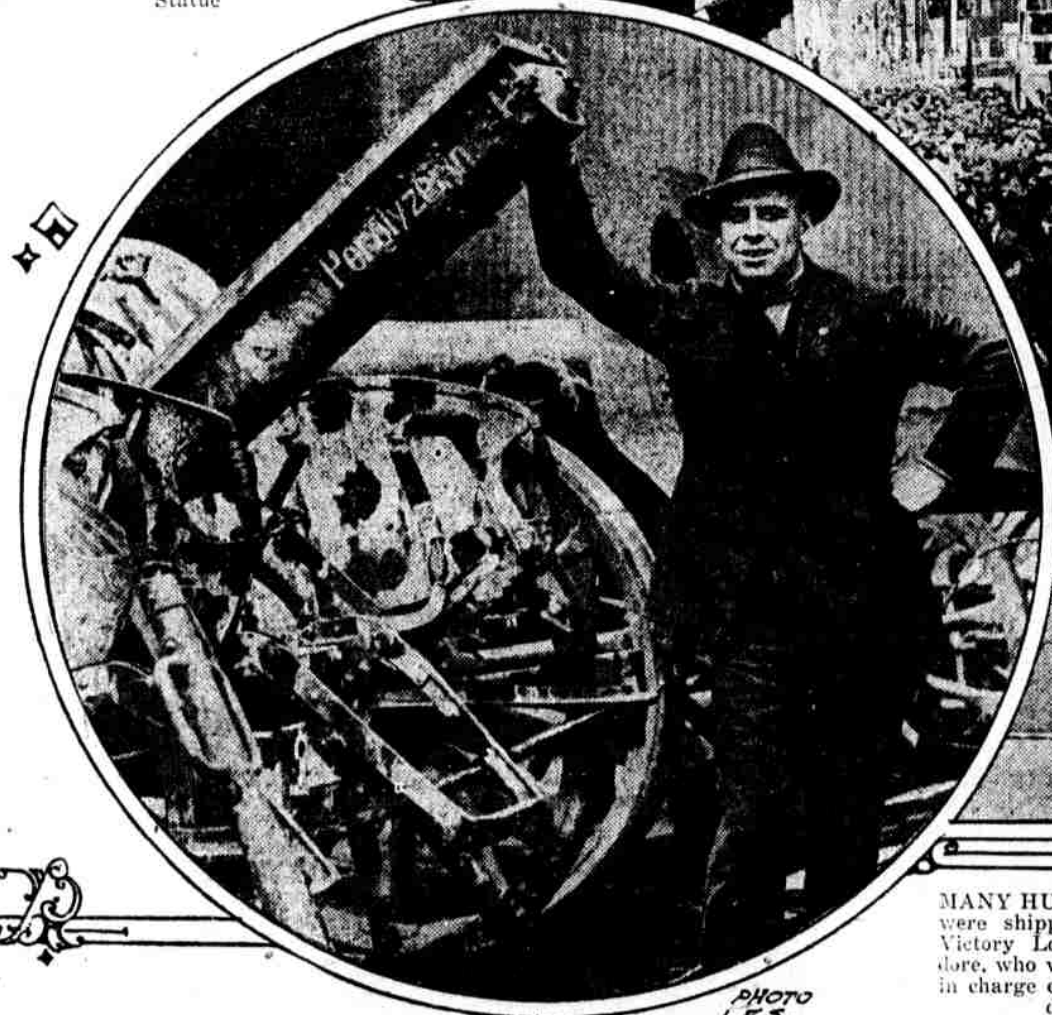

"JAZZING" for Victory. A Loan band concert on South Penn square in front of the Victory Statue

VICTORY WAY on Broad street, with trophies of war and gay with fluttering Allied colors, was the center of the Loan activities

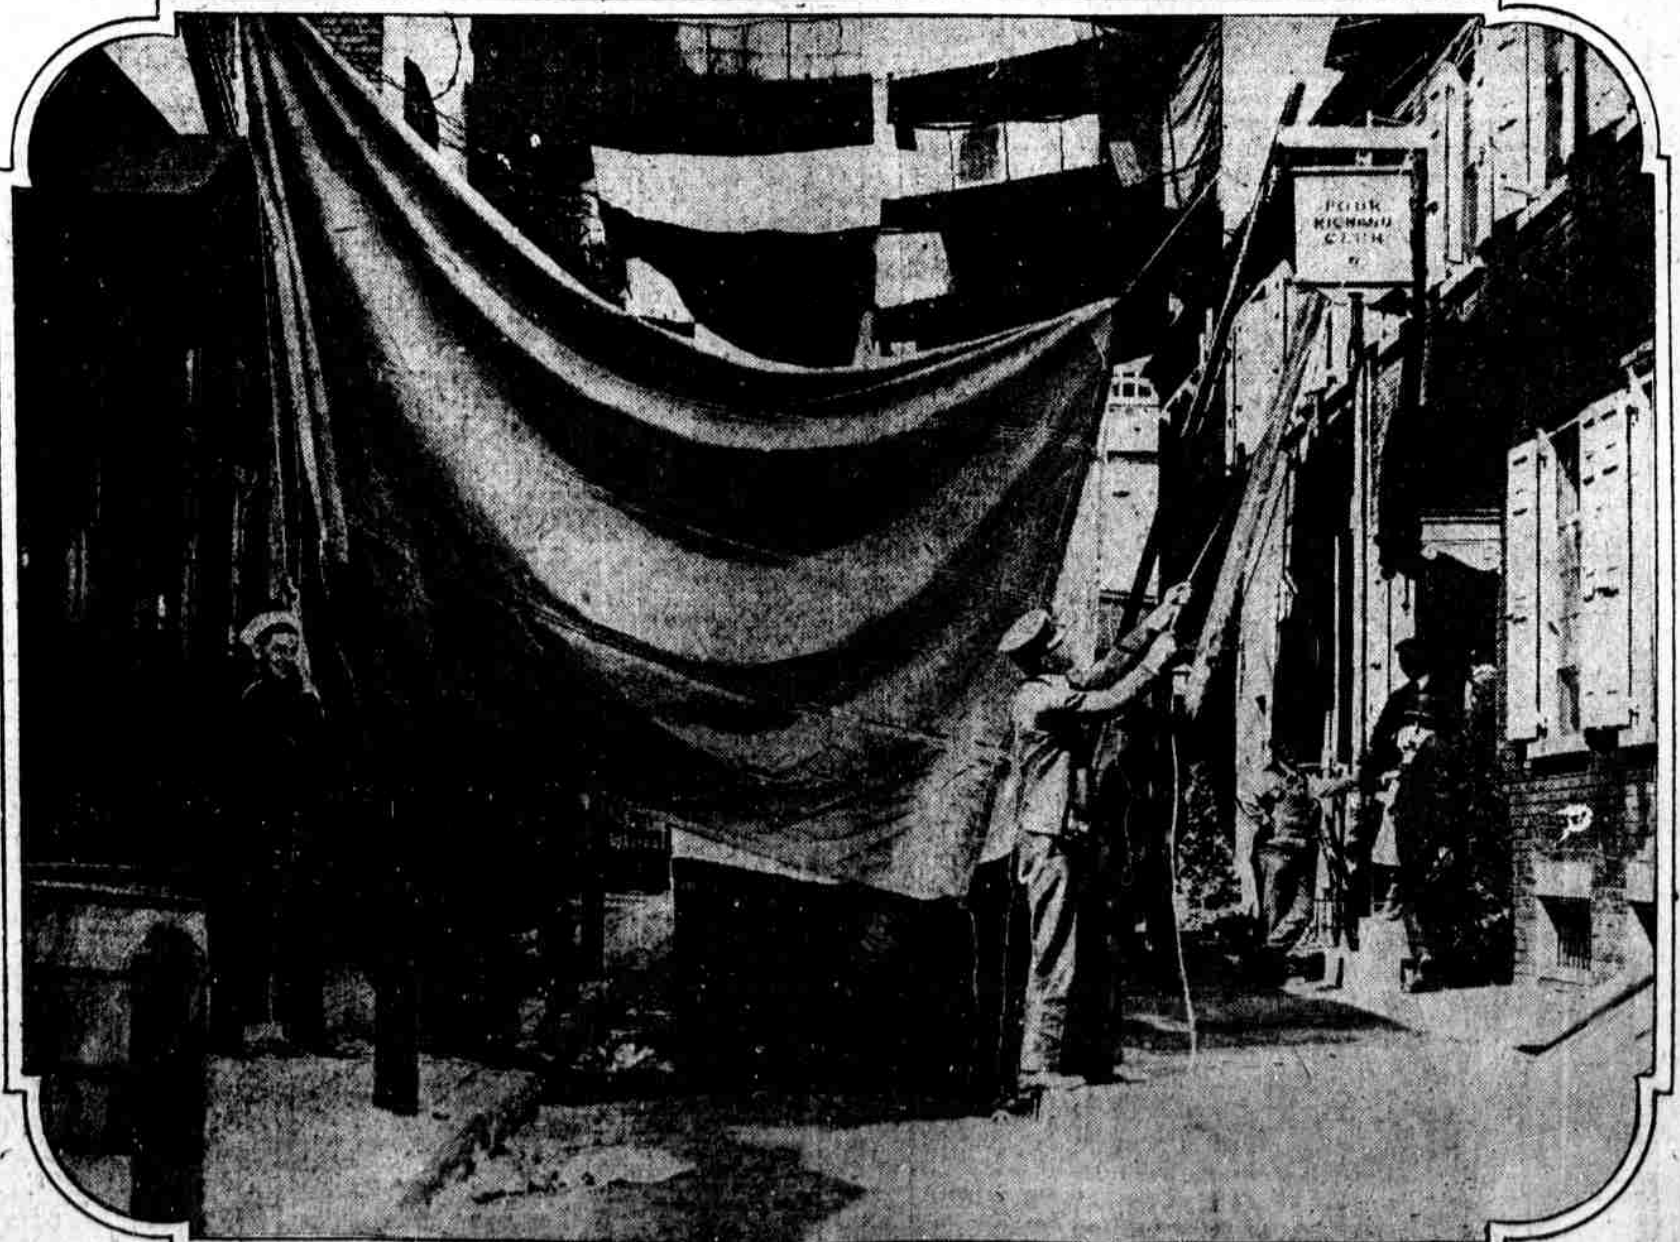

A YOUNG BOND salesman of St. Monica's Junior Naval Establishment explaining the merits of the investment

MANY HUNDREDS of German field pieces were shipped to America to aid in the Victory Loan. Bob Bradley, boss stevedore, who went over with General Pershing in charge of the first stevedore contingent, directing the unloading

"BUY, BUY, BUY!" resounds throughout the town. Busy workers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Women's Victory Loan Committee campaigning for the Loan

CAMAC STREET, the thoroughfare of little clubs, between Locust and Spruce streets, putting on its carnival clothes for the Loan. The fronts of the several clubs will be decoratively transformed. Across the street great banners will be hung; at night fantastic lanterns will illumine the scene