

GEN. MARCH PRAISES CAMP DIX SYSTEM

Compliments General Scott After Inspection Through Cantonment

28TH MAY BE PERMANENT

By a Staff Correspondent
Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., April 22.—"Dix is about the best equipped and smoothest-working demobilization camp I have seen and I have inspected virtually every camp in the United States."
This is the compliment paid to Major General Hugh L. Scott, camp commander, by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the army, at the conclusion of his inspection trip about the camp yesterday. The general arrived in camp about noon and spent nearly the entire afternoon in visiting places about the camp.
The beautification plan, as started by the Knights of Columbus under the direction of General Scott, also met with favor. After his interview with the newspapermen the general, who was accompanied by his aide, Major Swain, left for Washington.
When asked regarding the parade of the Twenty-ninth standing unit, General March stated that plans were not yet definite. He said that it was likely that the Jersey Guardsmen of the Twenty-ninth would probably return here to be discharged from service, however.
Twenty-eighth Standing Unit
Plans for permanent units to be stationed at Dix are also being held in abeyance pending action by Congress on the 500,000 army plan. The intention of the War Department is to recruit men in this section to fill the ranks of the division here, which will be the Twenty-eighth, so that the war records may be perpetuated through a permanent unit.
Word has been received here that the first units of the Twenty-eighth Division will arrive here next Sunday. They are the men of the staff and field headquarters of the 11th Infantry, medical detachment, supply company and Companies A, B, C, D and E. On the following Tuesday another ship will arrive at Newport News, carrying three officers and twenty-four men of the headquarters of the Fifty-sixth Infantry.

DELAYED CHRISTMAS DINNER FOR TWO YANKEE VETERANS

Mt. Airy Home Menu to Be Contrast to Raw-Cut Meat in German Camp

Philadelphian Tells of Horrible Experience While Prisoner at Rostatt

CHRISTMAS dinner with all the "fixins" except the Christmas tree and the ice and snow that usually accompany the Yuletide festivities, will be enjoyed next Tuesday evening by two returned Yankee veterans, who will also celebrate a double anniversary at the same time.
George Corry, 161 Meelian avenue, Mount Airy, yesterday marked his twenty-second birthday, and Benjamin Freeman, 6822 Chew street, his command in the 10th Infantry, observed the second anniversary of his marriage. Neither has enjoyed a Christmas dinner at home for three years. The dinner will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. John Corry, parents of George.
Corry and Freeman both saw service on the Mexican border and later went to France with the 10th Infantry, Company M. Both were wounded and gassed and Corry was captured by the Germans on July 15 and was a prisoner until December.

BENJAMIN FREEMAN

At Cat Meat Raw
Corry, in speaking of his confinement in a German prison camp, tells of how they were fed on bread made of sawdust and horse hoofs and compelled to work in heat factories. They were starved and beaten and on one occasion, finding a stray cut in the stable in which they were quartered, they ate it raw. The same fate overtook a dog of the "sausage" variety, and he declares a man is not overly particular what he eats when he is starving.
"But, believe me," he said, "that turkey I'm to get will sure taste good to me."
"We were forced to work in factories and on the roads in Germany and when we were unable to work we were beaten and maltreated in a terrible manner."
Corry proudly displays a small silk American flag which he carried throughout the war and which he recovered after taking him prisoner. They found the flag upon searching him and in their rage they split on it, trampled it in the dirt and then gave Corry a beating. After he was able to move he crawled to the spot, retrieved his flag and hid it inside his shirt and brought it back with him.
Men Burned, Others Crucified
Tales of cruel treatment by his captors reads like a chapter on tortures by the Indians. Men were burned at the stake, others crucified and many were literally cut to pieces. Prisoners were taken to the larger towns and, with placards denigrating the United States on their backs, marched up and down the streets.
Corry was taken a prisoner at Chateau-Thierry and was confined for the larger part of the war at Rostatt. Freeman was wounded at the same

MAY 15 IS DATE SET FOR TROOPS' PARADE

8000 Iron Division Men on Way Home and Others to Embark Soon

MORE FROM HERE LANDED

May 15 has been set as the tentative date on which Philadelphia will do honor to the Twenty-eighth Iron Division.
J. Jordon Guelmer, secretary of the Philadelphia Welcome Home committee, has announced that sailings made public by the War Department would indicate that this date probably would be the one on which the big parade and welcome celebration would be held.
With more than 8000 men of that division already on transports, bound for this country, and the others preparing to embark in France, plans for the celebration have taken renewed vigor.
It was announced yesterday by Mr. Guelmer that all relatives and near friends desiring places reserved on the reception stands must have their formal application at the committee headquarters in the Liberty building not later than Friday.
All possibility of a divisional parade here seems to have vanished.

Announce Other Sailings
War Department officials yesterday announced the sailing of several other units of the division, in addition to those announced on Monday. Major General Charles H. Muir, division commander, is homebound bound with units aboard the transport Mercury, due to dock at Newport News on or about May 4.
On the Mercury with General Muir are the headquarters troop and headquarters detachment of the division, the medical detachment and Companies A, B, C and D of the 11th Infantry. The other units of this regiment are at sea on another transport.
The transport Finland, due to dock at Newport News about May 5, has on board detached officers and men from division headquarters, both field and staff, and Companies A to E, inclusive, of the 1094 Engineers, made up almost entirely of Philadelphians.
The plans for a divisional parade were hit another blow when War Department officials announced that the units landing next week will be sent to various camps for demobilization, thus effectively shutting the door to any hope of assembling the organizations for the celebration.
Despite the War Department's announcement that no more divisional reviews will be permitted, officials of the New York welcoming committee have announced a parade of the Seventy-seventh Division, made up of drafted men from New York, to take place soon after the organization lands. Approximately one-third of the division is expected to land at this port, according to word from Washington.
Philadelphians Arrive
Two government freighters, the Pasadena and the Wascina, arrived at Newport News with several Philadelphians yesterday. They were Sergeant Richard A. Luke, 126 Walnut place; Corporal Thomas E. Lafferty, 1498 North Fifty-second street; Leo A. Dehason, 299 Laveau street; Tony Figerski, 3311 Hope street; John A. O'Brien, 1627 South street; Vincent B. Serமான, 1805 South Tenth street; James T. Treichel, 406 Olive street; Lew W. Hentman, 822 Jackson street; and Edward J. Belfield, 7225 State road.
Among the Philadelphians arriving on the Harrisburg, at New York yesterday, were: Captain Arthur W. Herbert, 2519 Green street; John A. Bart, 1906 North Darin street; Walter Stanislawski, 3423 Pliothet street; John M.

SIMS PRAISES SEAMEN

Says Subs Might Have Been Beaten Sooner

Columbus, O., April 22.—(By A. P.)—At a banquet in his honor tonight, Admiral Sims declared the convoy system, depth charges and the hydrophone listening device ended the submarine menace. The convoy system was not adopted earlier, he said, because officers generally believed merchant seamen were not capable of directing movements of ships in large numbers and feared there would be greater loss through accidents than by submarines.
"When we finally tried it, we found the merchant sailors better seamen than we were," he said.

Ten Years' Suffering from Itching, Burning Skin Trouble Stopped by Resinol

Gretna, Va., Oct. 26.—"I suffered for over ten years with itching and burning of my skin. It never broke out at all, but just itched and burned terribly. I tried almost everything, but got no relief. As soon as I began using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, the itching and burning left me almost at once. I used one jar of Resinol Ointment and two cakes of Resinol Soap, and was completely cured." (Signed) Richard T. Shelton.
