

BOND BUYING BRISK AT BIG LOGAN RALLY

Olney and Oak Lane Unite in Demonstration, at Which Girls Unveil Statue

WOMEN ACTIVE IN DRIVE

A wonderful community spirit is that of Logan. Twenty-five thousand persons of Olney, Oak Lane and Logan rallied around the Victory Statue in front of the Emergency Aid headquarters at 4942 North Broad street last night...

E. J. Lafferty was the chairman of the meeting, with John Paxton as his vivacious song leader. Mrs. Charles S. Wurts headed the women's committee...

The women's committee has a valiant corps of workers in the Logan Emergency Aid aides, twenty-two in number: Mrs. John H. Storz, Mrs. Eugene Spence, Misses Flora Mager, Florence James, Dorothy Heffelfinger, Joseph Ostrowski, Hazel Heath, Muriel Johnston, Sarah Campbell, Grace Fulmer, Ethel Seibrecht, Leon Rake, Helen Conine, Elizabeth MacKenzie, M. Baum, Flora Hoff, May Wenzel, Jane Miley, Viola Miley, Violet Myers, Helen Reibert and Mrs. Frederick Fantaigla.

Logan is going to put the loan over with pep and a bang, said Mrs. A. Simon, one of the speakers. "and we shall be one of the first districts to do it. Furthermore, no disabled soldier or sailor who gave his all for us shall ever sell lead pencils in the streets of Philadelphia while there is a man or woman in Logan to see that he gets an education that will fit him for a position of independence and a new start in life."

Major Denig, of the United States marine corps, spoke of his experiences in France, where he was seriously wounded twice. Three boys who spoke roused much enthusiasm. They were Leon Gross, Frank Kessler and Carl Gosang. Mr. Gross and Mr. Kessler had served also on three previous loans.

The statue was unveiled by four little girls, they being Dorothy Lodge, Mary Fisher Wurts and Dorothy Lingerman. Andrew Alexander superintended the unveiling. The chairman gave each girl a basket of flowers in acknowledgment of her patriotic services to the Victory cause.

Other speakers were Edmund W. Kirby, Mrs. R. Parker, assistant chairman of the women's speakers' bureau, and Lieutenant de Wierzbicki, French high commissioner.

Mr. Kirby reminded the assemblage that the total war indebtedness of the United States was only $25,000,000,000, while the country's annual income was $30,000,000,000.

"We are not going to haggle over paying our obligations," he said. "The previous loans we gave to reconstruction. Fifty thousand of our boys are not coming back. Can we pass a golden star and keep our gold in our pocket?"

The Logan Boy Scouts were there with their band and shared musical honors with the Camp Band. The Logan Girl Scouts also were there in full force.

CAMAC STREET GAY WITH DECORATIONS

Unique Entertainment Also Provided to Boost Victory Loan

Camac street between Locust and Spruce, the "biggest little street in the world," was last night transformed into a great hall decorated in every conceivable color for the Victory Loan drive of the artists of the city.

A great canopy has been stretched across the street from roof to roof and inclement weather will have no effect upon the campaign of the artist colony or upon the multicolored and designed decorations with which the street, or hall, has been decorated.

A color effect that rivals in brilliancy and execution anything yet attempted in this city greets the visitor upon entrance between the two grim howitzers, veterans of the American-German front

Five Flavors: Chocolate, Almond, Lemon, Vanilla and Plain. Sold by all grocers in sealed packages. 10¢. Enough for the whole family, several meals. Recipes in each package.

HOLLAND BISK COMPANY, 1000 Locust St., Philadelphia. Makers of famous Holland Biscuits. You'll find our "O-Joy" in every grocery store.

—that guard each of the entrances. The first impression is that of a great hall of flags. They are everywhere. Of course, the red, white and blue of the American standard predominates, but all the emblems of the victorious Allies, as well as the flags of all countries upon the American continents are to be seen. Various colored pennants are suspended from every conceivable place with the great signal streamers of the United States navy streaming down from the place of honor at the canopy top of the converted hall.

Each day between the hours of 10 o'clock and noon and 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, prominent artists will sketch posters in the studio room of the Sketch Club, the posters going to those making the biggest subscription during that day. J. Scott Williams and Charles Chapman, prominent New York artists, opened the series of drawings today.

The opening last night was a gala affair. Plenty of music and amusements and any number of bond sellers encouraged the occasion.

Judge John M. Patterson presided at Charles Pies, director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, was the principal speaker. Thaddeus Rich, musical director of the Philadelphia Orchestra, conducted the singing by a chorus of fifty voices.

Then three-round boxing exhibitions were arranged for the sports division, and held in the alley running in the rear of the clubs on the east side of the street.

All the clubs will maintain open house during the drive and every club will be lavishly decorated.

The patronesses for the afternoon teas, which will be given each day at the Plastic Club in Camac street during the Victory Loan drive of the artists of the city, are: Mrs. Joseph Pennell, Mrs. Walter Taylor, Mrs. J. Roulton Miller, Mrs. Trenchard Newbold, Mrs. Edithman B. Morris, Mrs. Archibald Backlie, Mrs. Benjamin Chew, Mrs. Joseph Lodge, Mrs. Stacey B. Lloyd, Mrs. Robert Strawbridge, Mrs. John B. Thayer, Mrs. Williams, Caldwell, Mrs. Charles DuCasta, Mrs. Edward Browning, Mrs. W. Howard Pancoast, Mrs. T. DeWitt Cuyler, Mrs. Charles Lee, Norman McLeod and Mrs. Barclay Warburton.

GLoucester's Drive FOR LOAN PROGRESSES

The Victory Loan drive is making headway in Gloucester city. Business men of the city and representatives of the various organizations gathered in the City Hall last night and attended a meeting called by Dr. Harlan S. Miner, the city chairman.

The main speaker of the evening was M. F. Middleton, chairman of the Camden County Liberty Loan committee, who said that Camden county is going over its quota in quick time. Gloucester's quota is $257,546 and this amount, he said, will be raised within a week.

The city has been divided into districts, and committees appointed for each district. Other committees were appointed to look after the manufacturing establishments, and Victor Mason and Elmer Knodder will solicit the shipyards. Boy and girl scouts and the school children also will take part in the drive.

Yesterday afternoon the drive got under way at the Pusey and Jones shipyards. The campaign committee of the plant assembled the 4000 employees and, after a few patriotic selections by the shipyard band, and with the officials of the plant sitting on the platform, Judge John B. Kates, of the Camden county courts, appealed to the workers.

TO SHOW LOAN FILM AT ACADEMY SUNDAY

Poles and Italians to See Campaign Movies at Mass-Meeting

CHURCH REGRETS ATTACK

Moving pictures for the Victory Loan drive will be shown on Sunday at the mass-meeting of Poles in the Academy of Music, and again on Sunday, May 4, when the Italians hold their big mass-meeting at the same place.

In a statement, issued through the foreign division of the Victory Loan committee, the Italian and Polish churches, declared themselves "utterly out of sympathy with any attack upon loan-campaigning on Sundays, and fully convinced that it is their duty to turn over the church just as far as necessary to further the campaign."

"A foolish outbreak" was the comment of several Philadelphia clergymen yesterday when they learned of the Rev. Dr. George C. Stanton's attack upon the Victory Loan drive and the official display by the Victory Loan officials of moving pictures on Sunday. Doctor Stanton spoke at the Presbyterian ministers' meeting Monday.

The ministers were unanimous in expressing their disapproval of any attack upon the Victory Loan. On the other hand, they deplored the showing of moving pictures on any Sunday.

The official Victory Loan moving picture, "The Price of Peace" will be shown tonight at a patriotic rally in the South Philadelphia High School, under the auspices of the South Philadelphia division of the women's Victory Loan committee. After the picture, speeches in behalf of the loan will be made by men and women prominent in the management of the campaign.

"No one must attempt to boycott the Victory Loan," said the Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton, secretary of the Presbyterian City Mission. "Every American must support the government. We prayed for victory. Now we must pay for it. Every man and woman must help to put the loan over the top."

MAIN LINE REACHES ITS $1,145,400 QUOTA

Only Thirty-three Hours Required to Go Over Top

Within thirty-three hours after the campaign started, the Main Line district, from Overbrook to Malvern, exceeded its Victory Loan quota of $1,145,400 yesterday, beating its campaign plan of "Over the top in forty-eight hours" by fifteen sixty-minute intervals.

Bryn Mawr's collections took a tremendous leap ahead Monday night at the Liberty Loan rally in the firehouse, at which pledges of more than $70,000 were received at the end of the meeting.

Ardmore, which was over the top by noon Monday, was above the $40,000 mark yesterday.

In previous loans the Main Line has led in subscribing the quotas early in the campaign, but the quick work this time beats all records, and the men's committee freely admits that the larger part was paid by the women.

Mrs. Romach's principal aides were the chairman of the local committees, who included Mrs. George E. Snyder, Bain-Caywood district; Mrs. C. P. Fowler, Narberth; Mrs. Horace Sellers, Ardmore No. 2; Mrs. H. L. Whittemore, Ardmore No. 1; Mrs. Charles S. Starr, Haverford; Mrs. Casper W. Hucker, Bryn Mawr No. 1; Mrs. M. P. Burlingame, Bryn Mawr No. 2; Mrs. Clarence Dolan, Rosemont-Villanova; Mrs. Floyd Chadwick, chairman Main Line Victory Chorus, and Mrs. M. J. Ensign, publicity chairman.

STATUE UNVEILED AT GERMANTOWN

Buy Bonds to Bring Us Home, Is Message From Overseas

MAJOR DENIG SPEAKS

"Tell the people of the United States to bring us home."

This message from the American army of occupation in Germany, simple though it was, stirred the hearts of the 10,000 persons present at the Victory Loan statue unveiling in Germantown last night more than any other and resulted in the selling of thousands of dollars' worth of bonds.

Lieutenant Vincent Bolognini, of the French army, three weeks ago with the Americans in Germany, delivered the message after aiding Mrs. W. B. Gurley, designated by former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo as a "100 per cent American" because her three sons were in the army and she and her daughter were engaged in war work, unveil the statue in Vernon Park.

The program was opened with prayer, after which Major Robert Feing, a veteran of the famous Fifth Regiment of Marines, told some of the experiences of that organization. The audience was breathless as he told of the wealthy preparations for a night attack, the laying down of a heavy barrage and finally the victorious charge into the enemy trench.

He asked the people at the gathering if they would fall the soldiers in Germany now. The fighters, he said, set a good example. In the third Liberty Loan the Second Division, to which he was attached, received a 100 per cent subscription.

Sergeant Joseph Walker, a veteran of the 117th Trench Mortar Battery, wounded forty-seven times during his fourteen months of action, told the people to subscribe if they wanted the soldiers returned quickly.

The program was in charge of the allied Victory Loan committees of the Germantown men and women. Mrs. James Starr headed the delegation of workers of the National League for

Now — the True Test of Patriotism

Under the stress and terror of war it didn't take a great deal of patriotism to buy bonds.

But your bonds helped crush German militarism, brought Victory and again we are at peace.

Now, when the enemy no longer threatens, you are put to the true test of patriotism.

Be the first to subscribe — show the peoples of the world that America can finish the job in the glorious manner in which her army and navy overcame every obstacle before them.

GOODRICH TIRES

'BEST IN THE LONG RUN'

we 'Own' our Home!

"I CAN look back and laugh now at the worries and discomforts that were always with us when we rented our house. With troublesome rent payments, the constant need for repairs that our landlord seldom made, the uncertainty of living in some one else's house, moving from place to place—I sometimes wonder how we stood it as long as we did.

"We wouldn't have remained renters for a minute if we had known then how easy it is to own a home. For four years we paid rent—a total loss.

"One day, this was eleven years ago—John said, 'No more renting for us —We'll own our home!'

"We found that we needed but four hundred dollars in cash to take immediate possession of the very house that we had always wanted. We also found that we could very easily borrow the rest of the money and pay it back in monthly installments.

"Eleven years later we're still here. Eleven happy years, too. It was just as easy as paying rent to pay off our loans—easier, in fact, because every time we paid rent, we realized that our money would never come back to us. Paying for our home, on the other hand, was merely taking money out of one pocket and putting it in the other.

"When repairing or decorating is needed, we have it done. Our home is always in order and much pleasanter and more livable than any rented house could be. Our lawn is well kept, our garden is blooming—in short, we live in a real home atmosphere."

A case of this sort is a common occurrence nowadays. City residents, particularly Philadelphians, are coming to realize that it is just as easy and much more advantageous to own than to rent.

You, yourself—if you can afford to rent—you can afford to own. And it is inevitable that soon you, too, will tire of rent troubles and rent wastefulness and the uncertainty of living in some one's else house. You will decide to own your home.
