16 STARS IN PENTATHLON

By TED MEREDITH THE western teams arrived in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, took the kinks out of their legs on Franklin Field and announced they were ready to meet all comers this afternoon when the Penn relays get under way. The schoolboys will take up most of the afternoon, but at 2:30 p. m. the big event of the day will start with the Pentathlon, when sixteen men compete for the collegiate all-round champion-

One of the promising competitors in this event was seen yesterday in Haddock, of Kansas. This man comes with a great record, but he has a field against him which will be hard to beat.

Gilfallan, of Notre Dame, another all-round man, worked out with a team- WILSON RESIGNS mate. Eddie Mechan, a Philadelphia boy. Gilfallan looks fat to me, and 1 to not see how he expects to hold his own against the others in the running Business Pressure Causes Merevents. However, he has jumped twenty-one feet six inches and in order to do this he must have considerable speed. The other men who will be strong contenders for the all-round title are Bartles, of Penn; Thompson, of Dartmouth, and Le Grende, of Georgetown. Penn Looks Good The first relay event for the colleges will start at 4 o'clock, when the sprint medley is staged. This will be a great tion as president of race. With three teams so evenly B team soccer clubs.

balanced, while the Smoky City is deending on its star to make up the losses of his teammates. I know that if Shea is right he can take care of twenty vards, but if he is called on to make up a greater distance it will be more than could be expected of him. This race de pends primarily on the half-miler, and here is where Chicago comes into the

Bessie Ryan's Natatorial Crown Captured by Philadelphia Turngemeinde Mermaid

Catherine Toy, of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde, was crowned a clampion last night. The fair natator finished first in the 220 yard swim of the Middle Atlantic District A. A. U. title meet in the Turngemeinde pool at Bread street and Columbia avenue. The youthful mermaid's victory was a distinct surprise. Miss Toy captured the event in the last few yards. In all the ten laps previous to the last Irene Guest, of the West Branch V. M. C. A. had set the pace for the new inteholder, although itse latter was only inches behind her. The time was 3m. 18s.
