YOUNG TWIRLERS SURPRISE TO MACK

Jing Johnson and Johnny Watson Win While Scott Perry Loses

MAY START SOCKS SEIBOLD

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK Special Staff Correspondent Traveling With the Athletics

New York, April 30.—Cornelius McGillicuddy opined some time ago that if he got the pitching the A's would be very likely to surprise the talent in the Ban Johnson household; the A's have been getting the pitching.

The shooting of these three youngsters proves that Mack will get the pitching this year if the early work of the trio can be taken as a criterion of their midsummer form.

There are two other young men on the Mack payroll who are likely to cause rival managers a lot of worry. One is Seybold, who was baptized Harry and called Socks from the time he first played ball on the back lots.

Twice Mack has intended to start Seybold and just as many times he has changed his mind. Seybold seems to be in great shape, and it is probable that he will make his 1919 debut this afternoon in the final of the series against the Yanks.

No Fault of Perry's Perry's pitching has not been a disappointment to Mack, but the results obtained while the big Atlanta boy has been in the box have been disappointing to the Tioga citizen.

New York writers were boasting Ernie Shore, the former Red Sox hurler, before the game, and they were strangely silent after the ex-Bostonian got the bounce from Huggins in the seventh yesterday.

For three innings he looked that good, but in the fourth he cracked and in the seventh he fell apart. He walked Knopp in the fourth and Burns followed with a triple and Witt with a single for the first two runs.

After Witt beat out an infield hit in the seventh, Shore went to sea, passing Thomas, Perkins and Johnson and forcing in Witt. That was enough for Huggins, who sent Mogridge in from the bullpen.

Shannon fooled the left hander by batting right handed, and he wined a double to right, scoring Thomas and Perkins. Both's infield rap admitted Johnson and Shannon registered the final run when Pipp threw wild to second.

Bingles and Bungles

It's about time they take Pat Moran and Sid Reda seriously in the National chase for the pennant.

Phil and Dodgers may be square in the series, but Jawm Coombs will go gunning for the Red Sox yesterday.

Pat Moran had a right to feel a bit impatient at Detroit yesterday.

The Phils spoiled the perfect score of the Dodgers, and Washington halted the winning march of the Red Sox yesterday.

Fred Toney, who some time ago announced that he had quit the Giants and baseball, got his Tennessee diploma at midnight last night.

Just to prove that Jawm Coombs plays no favorites as manager of the Phils, Coombs bunched himself yesterday in the first inning when, coaching at the third-base line, he caused Les Albano to unnecessarily slide into the hot corner.

By the way, the Boston Red Sox not only lost a ball game, but first place on the Eastern coast yesterday.

Mitt Stock deposited the only run of the duel between the Cubs and Cardinals, incidentally it was the only victory registered out of six starts this brush by Major Branch Rickey's toilers.

All that the Cornell baseball team needs to see to win this season is to get a catcher by the name of Thread. They have the usual every body who went out to St. Lawrence College nine yesterday.

Cleveland breathed a sigh of relief about its pennant hopes yesterday when Gus Morison turned in a five-hit shut-out over the Braves.

Schoolmaster Ray Fisher, whom the Yanks couldn't use because he failed to turn in victories regularly, registered his second straight triumph for Pat Moran yesterday when he held the Pirates to three hits.

No less than five double plays were pulled off in the unexpecting Cardinals by the Cubs yesterday. Merkle was the only player to figure in all five of the double playings.

The Giants lost another chance to pick up the Braves, when cold weather intervened at Boston yesterday.

After seeing the Giants and Dodgers in action the better Pat Moran's Red Sox took to us.

Wilbur Cooney of the Pirates, rated one of the best southern drivers a pay check, has yet to win his first 1919 decision.

It's a tough life for Bill Kiern. For the second time he breezed through a Phil Dodger game without a single complaint being filed against his decisions.

BIG THREE VICTORS AGAIN IN PHILA. CUP MATCHES

Merion, Without Mrs. Barlow, Whitewashes Philmont; Country Club and North Hills Lead Suburban League

By PETER PUTTER

There were no surprises in the Philadelphia Cup series yesterday. Philmont had made such a fine showing against Huntington Valley last week that it was thought the team might make Merion work hard, but the champions had an easy time of it, and this in spite of the fact that Mrs. R. H. Barlow was not there to play on the team.

Huntington Valley made a much better showing against Old York Road, and the team is better balanced than it was last week.

Merion, without Mrs. Barlow, was the most acceptable substitute, and after the last hole was played and the smoke blew away, Philmont had not been able to win a single match.

The Philadelphia Country Club has been trying for some time to break into the big league. It was the favorite last year, but Old York Road spoiled the team.

Country Club players have made up their mind that this is their last year in the Suburban League.

PENN FRESH MEET COMBINED SCHOOLS

Annual Track Contests Are Scheduled for This Afternoon at Franklin Field

FAST TIMES ARE EXPECTED

Cocher Lawson Robertson will send his freshmen track team against the combined preparatory schools of this city at Franklin Field this afternoon.

Robertson has a good squad of yearlings this year. Standing out prominently is L. A. Brown, of Seattle, Wash., who did close to two minutes for the half-mile on an outdoor track several months ago, equalling a University record made by the late Frank Walker, Penn half-mile, in 1917.

Brown ran the final lap for the freshman one-mile relay team last Saturday. Robertson thinks Brown should do under two minutes for the half-mile if pressed this afternoon.

Other freshman entrants include R. B. Smith, Jack and Jones, in the 100 and 220-yard dashes; Gronquist, Baehle and Brewster, the latter of the University interscholastic half-mile champion, in the quarter; Kennedy and McKenzie, former Central High School runner, in the mile; Amrign, in the two-mile, and Weedon, Stein and Manuel in the hurdles. The first event will be held at 3:30.

Field entrants include Frank and Townsend, in shot put; Stein and Bannerman, broad jump, and Reynolds and Wells, high jump.
