

TROOPS GUARD PARIS IN MAY-DAY STRIKE

All Industry Ceases in France. No Food Served in Capital

WORKMEN IN IRELAND IDLE

By the Associated Press

Paris, May 1.—While Paris and a great part of France were tied up today by labor's twenty-four hour general strike...

The most conspicuous feature of the government's measures against possible trouble was the occupation of the Place de la Concorde by cavalry to insure the enforcement of the order against street demonstrations.

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon detachments of infantry quickly occupied positions near the Hotel de Crillon, headquarters of the American peace delegation...

The cessation of work for the day was virtually complete. While not a wheel was turned on any of the transportation systems during the forepart of the day...

All restaurants and cafes were closed and guests in the hotels went hungry if they had not supplied themselves with food beforehand.

A persistent rain throughout the forenoon gave the city a dismal and gloomy appearance. Some amusements stores were open, but were expected to close at noon.

London, May 1.—(By A. P.)—All Irish workers except those in the northern parts of the island have entirely ceased work today.

Although the one-day strike will not be observed in the north there will be labor demonstrations and processions in the cities there.

Buenos Aires, May 1.—(By A. P.)—May Day was celebrated by a general twenty-four-hour strike over all the republic.

In holding up the package addressed to Senator Overman, the postmaster at Salisbury acted in accordance with general orders to all employees of the postal service to make every effort to prevent delivery of suspicious mail matter.

It was announced this morning that the only bomb package thus far opened here was the one addressed to Postmaster General Burleson, Inspector Owen Egan, of the Bureau of Consular Affairs, said the fifteen others would be unopened during the day.

Although all the packages identified were sent from New York, the postal authorities believe others may have been sent from other cities, and post-offices throughout the country have been warned to watch for suspicious looking parcels.

Examination of the typewritten addresses on the packages indicated, according to the police, that they were made on the same typewriter. There were a number of misspellings.

Police, home defense guards, and if necessary, marines from the League Island barracks were ready today to deal with any attempt at disorder by the Bolsheviks.

To guard against violence every one of Philadelphia's policemen was on duty all day. It has been announced that the police will be armed with the latest type of automatic rifles, shot guns, and also machine guns.

Several injured men, members of the "Soldiers and Sailors' Alliance," tried to enter Metropolitan Hall, 712 Fairmount avenue, at 10 o'clock this morning, but were barred by the police.

The home defense guards were mobilized late yesterday afternoon and given final instructions. They are on duty today to assist the police if necessary.

FOR THE TEETH Liquid—Powder or Paste SOLD BY DEALERS EVERYWHERE

DEAR FOLKS:

I am sure you will be interested in learning that workers in the Wilson & Co. plants in Chicago and in ten other cities are an American loving group of citizens with a genuine regard for American institutions and customs.

A great many of these workers came to America from foreign countries and found here an opportunity to enjoy liberty of thought and action—to educate their children—to acquire comfortable homes—and to live under conditions that bring them happiness and prosperity.

It will astonish you to learn, as it did me, that the workers in the Chicago plant alone saved $1,700,000 from the first of May until the end of December, 1918. This means that every worker averaged a saving of over $226 during this period,—and they are saving at the same ratio during 1919.

Furthermore, these Wilson workers throughout the country are buying $1,000,000 of Victory Liberty Bonds.

Does this not represent substantial citizenship? Does it not also indicate that Wilson & Co. are standing by their workers in a helpful, practical way?

There is another angle about this thing that I want to bring to your attention. The workers are engaged in producing Pure Foods. They buy the foods they produce for use in their homes.

They have learned how to use these foods in an economical way. They know that Good, Wholesome, Honest Food bought and used carefully, is more sustaining, more nourishing, more economical, than the buying and using of indifferent foods.

Quality in food counts for far more than quantity. Workers are enabled to buy the foods they produce at the retail stores maintained in connection with the Wilson & Co. plant in Chicago.

They buy them at cost, plus the expense incurred in maintaining a sales force and setting apart space for the purpose in the main building, which stands at the entrance to the plant.

The workers are not allowed to run bills or to buy extravagantly. They are advised to buy only enough to nourish life in a wholesome, satisfactory, healthy manner—to fit them for their work.

Furthermore, the Wilson & Co. plan of service to their workers includes definite and helpful suggestions as to how they can use the foods they produce in the most intelligent and most economical way.

These suggestions come from the Domestic Science Department, at the head of which is a young woman who started to learn to cook when she was eight years old—due to the necessities of her household. Her father had died and she was the eldest of several children. Her mother needed her help.

The mother—a wonderful woman—taught her daughter to use the best materials in cooking, telling her that a little of the very best went so much farther than a whole lot of stuff of poor quality.

Well, this little girl grew up to be a wonderful cook. She became fascinated with the world of food. She educated herself on profits realized from teaching others how to cook. She studied the food question from every angle. She knows what is what.

She is a wonderful help in the Wilson & Co. organization by suggesting to workers how to use good foods economically.

Isn't there a suggestion in this story to you, Dear Folks? Shouldn't you buy only those foods whose quality you are sure of?

And you, Wilson & Co. send their food products all over the world, bearing the significant slogan "The Wilson Label Protects Your Table."

That means what it says. Workers see to it that everything sent out represents integrity and quality.

Why not? Don't they know what is good? Don't they themselves eat what they produce? Would they eat what they produce if it were good? Would they eat the Wilson & Co. foods if they did not feel they got more of satisfaction and strength and physical power out of them than if they bought something not produced by their own honor and that of the house for which they worked?

I never saw such a spirit in an organization as that which is exhibited by the workers in the Wilson & Co. plants. Their faith is wonderful to me.

They are proud of the Wilson & Co. Certified Brands, which embrace now pretty nearly everything in the food line—such as Ham, Bacon, Canned Vegetables, Meats, Fruits, etc.

They are likewise proud of the Meats, Poultry, Eggs, Coffee, Butter, Lard, Oleomargarine, etc., which go under the Wilson & Co. Label. The Wilson Label Protects Your Table.

Story No. 14. Don't you think you should buy Wilson & Co. food products?

Sincerely, William C. Franke
