Territorial Claims Just and Peace Conference Report Doubted by Hagemans

SEES HARD FEELING ARISE

"I was amazed and nonplussed," said Paul Hagemans, Belgian consul general here, and president of the Philadelphia Consular Association, in referring today to the reports from Paris that Belgium's territorial claims had been reduced by the Peace Conference delegates

"I cannot possibly believe the report," he said. "Doctor Dillon said a few days ago that the Belgian demands, were justified and would be granted by the conference. I am inclined to believe the accuracy and logic of Doctor Dillon's opinion rather than other re-ports. I look to see the statement repudiated.

If the news is correct then I can see no reason for it unless they desire t favor Holland at the expense of Belgium. It looks to me as though they desire a strong Holland and intend to maintain a weak Belgium.

"And what was Holland's attitude during the war? Her primary purpose was to make millions and to trade with Germany at the expense of Belgium Belgium endured what it did for Holland's sake. Had Holland not con-trolled the Scheldt England could have come in and saved the day at Antwerp.
