INSIGNIA FOR WAR HEROES

Lapel Buttons Designate Service in Army Here and Abroad

Official lapel buttons to be worn by men who served in the United States army during the war will be ready for distribution in about ten days.

Bronze and silver buttons will be issued. All men wounded in action will wear the silver. There is no distinction in the design of the button to indicate whether a man saw foreign service or not. The design is a star with a wreath around it. In the center of the star are the letters "U. S." It was designed by A. A. Weinman, of New York.

All men on discharge will receive them as soon as the supply is large enough to begin distribution. Men already discharged can get them by showing their discharge papers at the nearest army post, recruiting station or camp.

TROLLEY BOYCOTT PLANNED IN CAMDEN

"Walking Clubs" and Jitney Bus Revival Suggested as 7-Cent Fare Protest

COMMISSION UNDER FIRE

Organization of "walking clubs," boycotts against the trolleys, and revival of the jitney bus lines legislated out of business, are remedies which 200,000 street-car riders in Camden and vicinity will seek to put into effect against the restoration of the seven-cent car fares.

Acting under a decision of the Public Utilities Commission of New Jersey, handed down Saturday, the Public Service Railway Company restored the seven-cent fare on all of its lines immediately after midnight yesterday.

As soon as action of the utilities commission became known, communities all over southern New Jersey began to take steps to find relief from what they consider an excessive charge for trolley transportation. The railway company successfully contended that it could not operate at a profit except with a seven-cent fare system.

Commission Under Fire

The fury of the car riders was not limited to the company alone, but was also directed against the Public Utility Commission. As retaliation for the commission's decision favoring the company a mass-meeting was urged. Demand will be made upon the state Legislature to abolish the commission or take from it the power to alter company rates.

Capes and escorting it up to the docks at this city. This has not been definitely decided, however. It was reported Saturday that the Madawaska would reach here tomorrow, but wireless from the ship today said she would not get here until Tuesday. The battleship Vermont, bringing additional units of the Fifty-third Pioneer Infantry, also is due Wednesday. There are a great many Philadelphia and other Pennsylvania men in this outfit. They saw service in some of the big battles leading up to the Argonne thrust and were held in reserve at that fight. The battleship New Hampshire arrived today with units of the Fifty-third, among which there were a good many Pennsylvanians, some of them from Philadelphia. The Fifty-third probably will be sent to Camp Dix for demobilization.
