

TO REMOVE FOE'S MILITARY POWER

Treaty Limits German Army and Restricts Nation's Naval Strength

London Times-Public Ledger Service (Reprinted from this morning's Public Ledger.)

The military and naval conditions are undeniably severe, but not in our opinion a whit more stringent than the safety of Europe and of the world requires.

To Destroy Militarism

Still more fatal to the early revival of militarism are provisions designed to destroy the institution which breathes its evil spirit into the old German army and into the German people.

Similar measures are taken to prevent the German army from re-organizing from its demobilized ranks.

Allow For No Planes

Germany is to have no airplanes after October 1 and no dirigibles. The air forces are to be demobilized and all aviation grounds within 150 kilometers of the right bank of the Rhine are to be dismantled.

How much further her obligations are to be enforced remains obscure, and she is to have thirty years—a long day—to pay what an inter-Allied commission shall decide to be the whole sum she is to pay.

Stick to Demands

The demands of the Allies and the United States in regard to the renunciation of all Germany's overseas "rights and titles," to the restoration of Alsace and Lorraine, to the Saar basin, punishment of German crimes, the future of Schleswig and the "corridor" from Poland to Danzig do not differ essentially from those described as probable in our Paris correspondence.

China Makes Protest

China's objection was made by her foreign minister, who said that, in the opinion of the Chinese delegation, the Kiao-Chau settlement was made without regard to justice for China or the protection of China's territory and integrity.

Camden Woman Missing

The Camden police have been asked to search for Mrs. Mary Dietz, sixty years old, 732 Carman street, Camden, who left her home yesterday morning.

Teuton Envoys Receive Peace Treaty; Strips Germany of Military Power

League of Nations Leads

Immediately following is the first chapter, the covenant of the league of nations, the text of which already has been printed.

The terms of the treaty spell the end of Germany as a military power. She is deprived of virtually all her fleet, her army is cut down to nominal dimensions, and she is sharply restricted along lines through which she might seek to work militarily to rehabilitate herself.

Economically, also, the future course of Germany is hedged about with stipulations to insure her ability to pay the indemnity demanded, but to prevent her from exploiting her old-time resources as a struggling competitor of the nations about her, which she overran and devastated during the war.

Thus Germany, for a period of years at least, will be deprived of the coal output of the rich Saar basin, which goes to France in repayment of the damage caused by the destruction of the French mines. She, likewise, is compelled to make restitution for damage in other ways done to France, Belgium and the various other countries which suffered from Teutonic depredations.

There has been much discussion of the question whether the German delegates would sign the treaty. The Germans at first proposed to send messengers to Versailles to take the treaty to Berlin, but they were made to understand that delegates, with power to sign the terms, must be sent, and this was done.

Italians Are Present

Allied representation at the ceremonial today was made complete by the arrival in Paris this morning of Vittorio Orlando, the Italian premier, and Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister, who, it had been feared for a time, would not be present because of the tangle over the Adriatic question.

Last Toucher on Treaty

The plenary Peace Conference completed its work yesterday, so far as Germany is concerned, and at a special plenary session communicated the terms of the peace treaty to all the powers represented at the conference.

May Probe Conduct of War

General expectations are that soon after it meets the new Congress will begin investigations into many questions and charges made in connection with the conduct of the war.

This bill gives the city the option of cleaning its own streets. Personally I think the measure should have been sent to the committee on public health and sanitation.

Brussels Report Also Says Military Security Probably Will Be Guaranteed

ASK A $500,000,000 LOAN

By the Associated Press

Washington, May 7.—The Belgian official information service in a statement issued last night, based on official advices from Brussels, said that the associated governments were endeavoring to complete some arrangement whereby Belgium would be released from liability for loans contracted during the war.

The statement issued by the information service also said that plenipotentiaries from Belgium, England, France and Holland would meet soon to consider a new agreement which would replace the treaty of 1839 and which would guarantee additional military security to Belgium.

The Brussels advices were said to indicate that the towns of Eupen and Malmedy, given to Prussia by the congress of Vienna, would be returned to Belgium along with the Forest of Houtegou, a portion of which now lies within Belgian territory, and the Walloon district of Moreaet, comprising about two square miles, which before the war was neutralized and was administered jointly by Germany and Belgium.

Brussels, May 7.—(By A. P.)—The Belgian Government has decided to ask the Allies or the United States for an immediate loan of $500,000,000.

Without such aid, the country will be lost, said M. Jaspar, minister of economics, to the Associated Press. This loan will be secured by German indemnities. It will not suffice for Belgium alone with the priority indemnity to the extent of half a billion dollars. This sum will not be forthcoming for a couple of years and it is impossible for Belgium to hold out that long.

Even with the removal of the burden of her war debt, Belgium is under an enormous weight, financially and economically. With this sum, and with an equal sum loaned immediately to Belgium, the country will be able to reorganize. Otherwise, it will be impossible to go on. It is well known that 750,000 people are idle here, and the Belgian government is now paying 50,000,000 francs to them each month, pending the reopening of factories and the resumption of work by the people.

Czernin Tells Secrets

Vienna, May 7.—(By A. P.)—Count Czernin, the former Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, who was not placed under arrest as once reported, is writing a book, in which he publishes many personal letters by the former German emperor and the former Austrian emperor. He also relates much secret history, part of which concerns the United States.
