

FINANCIAL NEWS—CLOSING NEW YORK AND PHILADELPHIA STOCK QUOTATIONS

SELLING CONFINED TO BEARS WHO HIT PETROLEUM STOCKS

Important Movement on New York Exchange Is in Railway Equipment Issues, Which Are Strong—Mining Issues Gain

High Points in Today's Financial News

Bears made efforts to bring about declines in New York market, but gained little headway. Railway equipments scored wide advances. Curb brokers could scarcely keep up with active market. Corn declined sharply on heavy selling. Cotton was quiet and steady to firm. Francs receded to a new low level, and sterling yielded a trifle in foreign exchange market. Bar silver continued in large demand in New York.

New York, May 13.—About half the Street was busily engaged all through today's trading in seeking stocks in which reactions could be forced, and those who were engaged in this work were busily employed also in circulating reports about a decrease of public buying and a disposition on the part of big interests to liquidate large holdings.

As a matter of fact most all the selling in which declines occurred came from those who have taken a position on the bear side and are fighting the upward movement.

They were successful in causing recessions in the petroleum group, but it was commented on that, while Texas Company and Sinclair were left apparently at the mercy of the bear traders, Mexican Petroleum was constantly bought and in the late afternoon that stock became strong and moved more than 4 points.

The most important movement in the general list during the day was the demonstration in the railway equipment stocks, which carried American Car and Foundry up more than 6 points to above 103 and caused advances of substantial extent in Baldwin Locomotive and American Locomotive.

United States Steel common made a gain of 3/4 in the early trading to 102 1/2, but receded in the afternoon.

New York Airbrake was one of the strongest specialties, advancing 5 1/2 points to above 78, but the greatest gain was made in Incohesive Magneto, which rose more than 7 points to the new high record of above 104.

Many other stocks, including Central Leather and American Hide and Leather were in urgent demand at advancing prices.

In the railroad stocks the feature was the further advance in New York Central to above 78.

In the early trading the strength of mining issues attracted attention, due to the higher prices of bar silver.

Trading in bonds was very active with many securities in urgent demand, but as usual the heaviest attention was given to so large a section as to demand almost all the attention of dealers. The Liberty fourth 4 1/2s and other issues showed a strong tone and made moderate gains, reflecting the influence of the oversubscription to the Victory loan.

Trading in stocks today on the New York exchange totaled 1,439,100 shares.

New York, May 13.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review this afternoon is as follows:

While trading was still at the rate of well over a million shares in today's stock market, business was conducted in far more orderly fashion than has been the case in recent sessions.

Price movements disclosed a reserve of strength which, without being pronounced, was none the less convincing that thoughts were not concentrated on liquidation.

There was, indeed, further taking of profits in the oil group, and elsewhere an occasional soft spot was to be discovered. These rather served to accentuate the quiet character of equipment, traction and steel issues, along with individual shares like American Linseed, Central Leather, Maxwell Motor, Wilson Company and United States Industrial Alcohol.

The copper, again impelled by the striking advance in silver prices in London, enjoyed a substantial rise early in the day, but later subsided, with a good part of the gains cancelled. The silver stocks themselves, such as American Smelting and Refining, United States Smelting and Refining and Federal Smelting and Refining, were well bought throughout.

The lesser steels, like Incohesive and Gulf Steels, made the best gains in that quarter.

Broadly speaking, it may be said that the steel, copper, equipment and standard rails have very considerable distance to go to catch up with the movement which the rest of the list has already experienced, and for this reason Wall Street would not be surprised to see more attention devoted to them from certain groups of speculative dealers.

The standard calls were firm, while the minor rails, including St. Louis and San Francisco, Rock Island, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Mississippi Pacific, Texas Pacific and New Haven were distinctly strong.

As far as peace news was concerned, the street was disposed to await the ultimate issue of whether Germany would sign or not, although there was little doubt about that.

There was a further advance in copper metal prices with differentials for deliveries. Hitherto a set price has been the rule, but now a considerable demand for the metal from abroad, other than from belated sources, was noted.

Trading turned dull in mid-afternoon and prices in general worked irregularly from the top levels. Steel ruled fractionally above par. Bonds were more active with Liberty's firm. A greatly improved tone in railroad issues was noted. Traction bonds were strong, particularly Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Interboro.

As was anticipated before and during the Victory Liberty loan campaign, there has been considerable commercial financing announced this week to date. Several items of this character were announced today, including Norfolk and Western, $2,500,000; Sun Company, $1,000,000; Jewel Tool, $3,500,000, and several stock offerings.

Time money was still largely nominal with bids confined to 5 1/2 to 5 3/4 per cent, while the banks mainly held out for 6 per cent. Call loans were quoted at 5 1/2 per cent, with renewals at the same rate. There was a somewhat easier tendency in commercial paper.

Foreign exchange was featured by a new low level in francs at 6.23 francs to the dollar. Sterling was slightly lower.

Cotton was steady to firm in quiet trading, the market awaiting the government consumption report, which will be out tomorrow.

Corn and oats were weak.

TONOPAH STOCKS IN DEMAND AND GAIN ON LOCAL 'CHANGE

P. R. T. Stock Advances and Big Gains Are Made by General Asphalt, Brill and Baldwin Locomotive

Stock trading was moderately active today on the Philadelphia exchange, with price changes irregular, but the undertone of the market was strong. Interest in early transactions centered in the Tonopah issues, Tonopah Belmont rising to yesterday's top record of 3 1/2, while Tonopah Mining turned upward 3/4 to 3 1/4, a new high record for the year of 3 1/4. Demand for these issues was a direct reflection of the higher prices of silver metal in New York and London, which were also responsible for advances today in most mining issues on the New York exchange.

Rapid Transit stock became prominent later in the session, with its price up 1 point to 26 by mid-afternoon, the renewal of activity, after a long period of inactivity, being attributed to the Street to rumors of probable steps at an early date for higher fares. The Transit certificates, however, were not active and declined 1/4 from yesterday's close. Union Traction made a substantial gain, while Philadelphia Traction held steady.

J. G. Brill claimed attention by the fairly large sales on which it advanced 2 points to 49, the high level of last week, and both General Asphalt common and preferred made wide advances, reflecting the effect of a circular issued by members of the exchange and the statement on extension and stronger financial plans made today by President A. W. Sewall at the annual meeting in Camden.

Electric Storage Battery yielded a fraction, Lake Superior Corporation was unchanged after an early advance, Philadelphia Electric was unchanged and United Gas Improvement receded slightly, following sales at the previous closing level.

Baldwin Locomotive was more active than usual and followed the course on the big board, advancing more than 4 points. Midvale and Steel common were firm, but both of these issues were slow.

Pennsylvania Railroad was up a little and Lehigh Valley steady.
