CLASH OVER MEMORIAL

Collingswood Mayor Favors Shaft, but People Want Building

Indignation is expressed in Collingswood, N. J., over the attitude of Mayor "Tom" Jack against the will of hundreds of citizens expressed at a public meeting in favor of a "memorial of service" in the form of a building in honor of over 300 boys of the town who entered the army and navy service. Mr. Jack, who is fireman and president of the national defense committee, favors a shaft or monument in memory of the boys and his choice became that of the committee. Hundreds of citizens protested and the woman's club called a mass meeting. This meeting resolved to instruct a defense committee that a monument was not desirable in honor of live men and named Dr. Grafton E. Day as a member of the committee to represent the citizens. A gymnasium and swimming pool and social rooms combined in one building was the desire of the majority. Despite this Mayor Jack called a meeting of the defense committee, which took action to erect a monument, and now funds are being collected for the purpose. Outside of the committee, it is said, few persons are found who are willing to contribute to the shaft fund, but are willing to give towards the building, plans for which are now in the possession of Doctor Day.

MOTHER SEEKS MISSING SON

News Sought Concerning Private Grosz, Company M, 110th Infantry

Mrs. Louisa Grosz, 2527 Humberger street, is anxious to hear definite news of her son, Private Jacob C. Grosz, who was reported missing in action August 26, 1918. He was attached to Company M, 110th Infantry. Two letters sent to Grosz have been returned. On one was marked "sick" and on the other "wounded." Inquiries made at the War Department by Mrs. Grosz brought the reply that there was no trace of him. Mrs. Grosz is a widow. Another son, Norman E. Grosz, is still with the army in France. The soldier's mother believes that some of the men of the 110th Infantry who recently returned from France may know something concerning her son and will be glad to hear any news concerning him.

FLOWER TO SOLDIERS COSTS ARM OF GIRL

Child Injured Near Spruce Street Wharf While Showering

SERIES OF MISFORTUNES

A tiny flower, which a little girl attempted to toss to her soldier heroes, as they passed by in a troop train last evening, caused her to lose her left arm. With several other children, ten-year-old Annie Curley, of 420 South Twenty-fourth street, gathered some flowers and went to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks near Spruce street wharf, to shower the tokens on the fighters as they went by en route to Camp Dix from Camp Meade.

She stood waving and cheering as the train slowed down to permit a brakeman to "throw" a switch. Then she worked closer and closer to the moving train, throwing her flowers at the soldiers hanging out of the open windows. Some hit and some missed, and as she took another step forward to hurl the last little bud her foot caught in a tie and she tripped.

The child screamed as she fell, her hands thrust forward to break the fall and to prevent her body from going beneath the wheels. Her left hand passed beyond the rail, however, and in a moment the wheels of the train had passed over it, severing the hand above the wrist.

Patrolman Mason, of the Twelfth and Pine streets police station, was summoned by her terrified playmates and Annie was rushed to the Polyclinic Hospital in a commandeered automobile. There physicians found it necessary to amputate the arm at the elbow to save her life.
