

CHURCHES CELEBRATE "MEMORIAL SUNDAY"

Tribute Paid to Soldiers Who Died in War—"Welcome Home" Rites Held

"TAPS" SOUNDED FOR SLAIN

"Memorial Sunday" was celebrated yesterday in many churches in honor of soldiers who died for their country. In some churches the memorial was combined with "welcome home" celebrations for boys just returned from overseas.

Veterans of other wars were in the processions which marched to the cemeteries to lay wreaths upon the graves of the honored dead.

Churches were crowded all day. The services were of a dual nature. "Taps" were sounded for the heroes who gave their lives on the battlefield. A prayer of thanksgiving was offered for the safe return of the boys from France.

George G. Meade Post, No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, observed the day attending a morning service in Old Christ Episcopal Church, Second and Arch streets, Post 2, Grand Army of the Republic, Pennsylvania division, accompanied them.

Taps are Sounded

"Taps" were sounded at a memorial service yesterday morning in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Apostles, Twenty-first and Christian streets. The service was in honor of the gold star men of Holy Apostles parish, and a bugler from the Philadelphia navy yard paid an impressive tribute to the dead.

The Rev. George Herbert Toop officiated. In the afternoon the Holy Apostles Sunday school conducted welcome-home service for members returned from France.

Archbishop Dougherty presided at a mass in the Cathedral for Philadelphia Catholics who gave their lives for the cause. The Rev. Dr. P. J. Ross deacon and the Rev. Edward J. Lysaght subdeacon. The Rev. John B. McShea preached a sermon eulogizing the heroes of the army and navy who made the supreme sacrifice.

The Rev. Thomas J. Herron and the Rev. Hugh J. Dine were chaplains to the Archbishop. All these priests have been chaplains in the army. The Rev. Philip E. Donohue, master of ceremonies, and his assistant, the Rev. Edward V. Byrne, were formerly chaplains in the navy.

Service Men Pay Tribute

Army and navy officers, soldiers, sailors, Red Cross nurses and war workers, accompanied by their families and friends, attended services yesterday afternoon in the Episcopal Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany. The Rev. Frederick Perez Houghton, of Scranton, who was chaplain of the 103d Regiment, Pennsylvania Engineers, of the Twenty-eighth Division, delivered a sermon. A delegation of the 103d Regiment participated in the service.

CINCY'S LAST WET DAY

Fourteen Saloons Pay $305 for Today's Business in Ohio City

Cincinnati, O., May 26.—While fourteen saloons out of 900 took out licenses costing $305 for the purpose of doing one day's business today, all Cincinnati celebrated the advent of prohibition Saturday night and yesterday.

While "dres" gathered in churches and halls and celebrated the new era, "swags" gathered at bars and pledged toasts to the "good old days."

About 80 per cent of the saloons will now sell near beer and soft drinks, and announce that they will keep open seven days a week.

HELMET FOR LOAN WORK

Joseph J. Martin, Jr., Secured Subscriptions for $211,150

Joseph Jefferson Martin, Jr., eight years old and a student of the Overbrook School, has been awarded a German helmet for having secured subscriptions to the Liberty Loan totaling $211,150.

In the last campaign young Martin led his school for Liberty Loan sales for the fourth time. In the fourth drive he won a gold watch offered by E. T. Stokes.

He lives at 704 North Sixty-third street.

TREATY OR WAR, SAYS TAFT

Rejection Would Leave U. S. Only Nation in Strife, His View

New Haven, Conn., May 26.—"If the Senate of the United States refuses to ratify the treaty of peace and it goes back to the nations of Europe and is accepted by them, as it surely will be, it will place the United States alone in the position of being at war with Germany, while the thirty-two nations of Europe would be at peace with her," declared William Howard Taft in an address at the Connecticut convention of the League to Enforce Peace.

Other speakers were Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York; Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University; William A. Shunkin, president of Wesleyan University, provided.

57 ARRESTS AT WEDDING

Police Appear at Polish Ceremony When Riot Starts

Fifty-seven men and women arrested by the police during a riot at a Polish wedding were given a hearing today by Magistrate Ingher.

The riot grew out of the effort of Parsity Sedmik, an uninvited guest, to break into the festivities being held at New Arcadia Hall, 610 South Third street last night following the wedding of Stanislaus Wozniak and Pauline Zutryskulz.

The wedding had been held during the afternoon at a Russian church near Seventh and Brown streets. The bridegroom hired the hall near his home on South Third street for the celebration. The uninvited guest tried to break into the party soon after it started and was ordered to leave. He returned twice and each time a riot followed. Finally 150 police were required to close up the fight and the whole wedding party was taken to the Second and Christian streets station.

METHODISTS HERE PLEDGE $4,655,000

Germantown Church Leads With $235,000 Raised in Centenary Missionary Drive

GOAL IN NATION NOT GAINED

The Philadelphia area has subscribed $4,655,000 to the Centenary Missionary campaign of the Methodist Episcopal Church, it was announced at Methodist Centenary headquarters. Outstanding in the pledges made is that of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Germantown, which yesterday subscribed $235,000, to be paid in five yearly installments of $47,000 each.

Ten members of the church pledged themselves to give $1000 each, two to give $1500, one $1000 and one $5000 to the fund.

The Philadelphia conference, one of the four within the Philadelphia area, has subscribed $2,228,000.

Last night ended the Centenary Missionary drive, which was to obtain a fund of $105,000,000 for missionary and reconstruction work by the Methodist Episcopal Church. At Philadelphia headquarters of the drive it was announced that the total subscriptions throughout the country amounted to $79,200,000.

Districts which have not fulfilled the quota will keep on with the work of raising the sums accredited to them, finishing when the total of $105,000,000 has been reached.

Deaths of a Day

A. CHARLES BARCLAY

Retired Manufacturer and Philanthropist Dies

A. Charles Barclay, a widely known philanthropist, retired manufacturer and member of a prominent Philadelphia family, died yesterday at his home, 1814 Pine street, after two months' illness. He was eighty years old.

Mr. Barclay in his early life was a noted cricket player, having been chosen to represent the United States in many of the earlier international matches between this country and England.

Shortly after having been graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, in 1880, Mr. Barclay served with the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, during the Civil War. He became a member of the firm of Barclay & Barclay, oil manufacturers, and retired from active business many years ago. Since then he had devoted much of his time to charitable organizations and to the activities of Calvary Presbyterian Church, of which he was an elder.

He was married, in 1867, to Miss Henrietta Chaucey Savage, daughter of the late William Lyttleton Savage, of this city, whom he survived. Mr. Barclay is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Isaac Starr and Miss Emily Barclay, and two sons, William Lyttleton Barclay and Henry C. Barclay.

Mr. Barclay was a life-long member of the Philadelphia Club, being, it is said, the oldest living member at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

He was the son of the late Andrew Crawford Barclay, of this city.

Dr. J. Allen Harrison

Dr. J. Allen Harrison, who had practiced homopathy in the northeastern part of the city more than a quarter of a century, died yesterday at his home, 512 Erie avenue, after two months' illness of a complication of diseases.

Doctor Harrison was born at Mount Joy, Pa., in 1873, was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College and from Hahnemann College in 1892. He was actively interested in building and loan associations and was president of the Franklin and Advance associations, and a director of the Hunting Park society. He was a member of the Erie Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, W. B. Schneider Lodge No. 419, F. and A. M., Mary Commandery, Knights Templar, La La Temple, Knights of the Mystic Shrine and of various medical organizations.

Dr. J. Howe Adams

Dr. J. Howe Adams, well-known physician, died suddenly yesterday at his home, "Dingley Bell," Paoli.

Doctor Adams was born at Union Springs, N. Y., August 19, 1866, the son of Charles H. and Caroline Howland Chase Adams. He was the grandson of Jeddiah Howe, the first stereotyper of Philadelphia, and George Howland, of New Bedford, Mass.

For a number of years he engaged in general practice, but after 1900 he specialized in neurology.

JEW'S PARADE HERE TO DENOUNCE POLES

200,000, Led by Service Men, Will Protest Cruel Rule and Pogroms

ASK NOTED MEN TO SPEAK

Led by Jewish soldiers, sailors and marines, more than 200,000 Jews of this city are booked to parade here June 2 in protest against the recent massacres of Jews in Poland. This demonstration was announced in a report by the committee for the protection of Jewish rights in Poland and eastern European countries at a conference of representatives of more than 400 Jewish fraternal, labor and religious organizations held yesterday afternoon at the Arch Street Theatre.

Morris Katz, chairman of the committee of arrangements, announced to the gathering which filled the theatre that a week from today all Jewish shops in this city would stop work at 3 o'clock p. m. and all Jewish stores would close at 4 o'clock p. m., so that the employees might participate in the demonstration.

The parade will start at 2 o'clock and will be followed by a mass-speeting at the Metropolitan Opera House, at which Martin G. Brumbaugh, Senator Penrose, Senator Knox, Champ Clark, Representative Moore, other Philadelphia members of Congress and other prominent men will be invited to speak on the atrocities perpetrated upon the Jewish inhabitants of Poland.
