

DELAWARE RIVER'S GREATEST HIVE OF INDUSTRY GIVES EMPLOYMENT TO 32,000 WORKERS, INCLUDING 2055 WAR VETERANS, AND HAS A WEEKLY PAYROLL OF MORE THAN $1,000,000

HOG ISLAND'S BOARDWALK. Scene at quitting time, showing thousands of workmen leaving the yard. Foremen, mechanics, day laborers—all are proud of the job they are doing so well, and obviously are eager to be in the camera's line of vision. In oval above, an electric welder at work.

THE LAUNCHING CREW who will put over five ships today, another world's record-breaking feat for Hog Island.

DRIVING WHITE-HOT RIVETS with the temperature at 103 degrees. A man's size job any day and a superman's job on a hot day. But whether the weather is sweltering or freezing, there's no let-up at Hog Island when the call is for speed.

"JAZZING UP" THE WORKS. This watchful foreman permits no loafing on the job, even should any one wish to loaf, which is not likely at Hog Island.

EYES ARE WORTH SAVING at Hog Island, and men doing such dangerous work as this welder is performing are compelled to wear safeguarding goggles.
