

NO RUSH TO EUROPE
IN SIGHT THIS YEAR

Modification of Passport Rules
Has Comparatively Re- stricted Effect
ONLY NECESSARY GRANTS

By a Staff Correspondent
Washington, June 4.—There is very little in the situation in connection with the modification recently made in the rules with regard to granting passports to wives or mothers of soldiers to encourage the belief that more than a handful will be able to go to Europe to join their soldier husbands or sons at any time this summer.

The announcement made by Secretary Baker on May 14 that he "had notified the State Department that on and after June 15 the War Department will in no way object to the granting of passports to the wives or mothers of American officers and enlisted men who may wish to go to Europe" gave rise to the almost general belief that the War Department was going to carry unlimited numbers of mothers and wives of American officers and men to France at government expense and maintain them while there.

Such is far from the fact. All that Secretary Baker did was to remove the specific objection of the War Department, made early in the war at the request of the Allies, to permitting close relatives of members of the American expeditionary force to go to Europe. Secretary Baker's note did not affect the general policy of the State Department with regard to granting passports.

In the first place the War Department is not going to carry the women over or bring them back, and they must pay their own expenses while over there.

No relative of an officer or enlisted man who is scheduled for early return is to be permitted to go over.

Applications from women in this country to be permitted to go over will not be recognized. The applications must originate with the soldier serving abroad and must come to the War Department through the commanding general of the American expeditionary force who must first be assured: (First) That the officer desires his wife, mother or other immediate members of his family to join him; (Second) That it meets with the approval of the commanding general of the American expeditionary force, and (Third) That the period of duty to which the officer is assigned will be sufficient to justify his wife or other relatives joining him.

The application must also be accompanied by a certification that the request for transportation is for his wife or a member of his immediate family who is dependent on him for support, and that he is able to provide accommodations for her while in France and care for her without financial assistance from the government and that in event transportation on a government boat is not available, he is prepared to obtain return passage for her on a commercial liner.

In his first statement on this subject made immediately following his return on his last visit to France Secretary Baker called attention to the very difficult conditions of living in Europe, the high cost of food and lodging, and the uncertainties of obtaining transportation by ship over and back and by rail in Europe. He also warned that nobody would be permitted to go over who was unprepared to stay six months.

Secretary Baker also made it very clear that the War Department is prohibited by law from carrying civilians on its transports and will be unable to assure assistance in the way of transportation.

25 CROZER GRADUATES
Degrees Awarded Baptist Students at Upland

Chester, Pa., June 4.—Twenty-five Baptist theologians of the Crozer Theological Seminary, Upland, yesterday received their degrees and diplomas. The ceremonies marking the graduation were attended by notables of the Baptist faith.

The exercises were in Commencement Hall, Robert L. Baunum, of the graduating class, was the first speaker. His subject was "Nation and Denomination."

George K. Crozer, president of the board of trustees, presided. He announced that eleven acres of land with two buildings erected thereon valued at approximately $75,000 had been deeded to the seminary by John P. Crozer, son of the late Samuel A. Crozer. It was also announced that by reason of the death of Mrs. Mary A. Crozer, widow of J. Lewis Crozer, the seminary comes in possession of $500,000, to further the aims of the institution and to enlarge it.

Members of the Alumni Society, relatives and friends attended the annual banquet of the society. The orator was the Rev. Haywood M. West, D. D., of the class of 1892.

GIRL NOVICE LOOPS LOOP
Miss Dunn Startles Shore on Her Second Flight

Atlantic City, June 4.—Going up alone for the second time since she completed a preliminary course of training, Josephine Dunn, sixteen years old, of Natchez, Miss., novice aviatrix, looped the loop like a veteran at an altitude of 1500 feet over the Atlantic City airport yesterday.

"I knew I could do it!" she exclaimed triumphantly when she came back to earth and was greeted with a chorus of protests against her totally unexpected adventure into the real things of aerial stunting. As she never before tried anything of the sort, Eddie Stinson, her mentor, and the airport authorities thought her machine was out of control and that a tragedy impended when she plunged into a long glide before taking a perfect loop. Last week, under Stinson's guidance, Miss Dunn went up 3000 feet and brought her machine down again to a perfect landing.

"Why, it's as easy as turning over in bed when you get high enough to have plenty of room for the loop," she informed envious girl friends.
