Latest Outrages in Bomb Outrages Here

Anti-Bolshevik squad formed by Philadelphia police to run down plotters.

An anti-Bolshevik squad of the Philadelphia Police Department was organized today.

Supervisor of Police Robinson placed Lieutenant of Detectives Andrew Emanuel, one of the city's most successful investigators, in absolute charge of the new force, and announced his intention of using all the men and money necessary to round up and convict the organized band of terrorists responsible for the bomb outrages in this city.

An appropriation to carry on the work will be asked of City Councils by Superintendent Robinson. He said today that his bureau is seriously handicapped at present by a lack of funds.

A new "bomb scare" was given the city today when an artillery shell, at first believed to be an infernal machine, was found in the subway entrance on the north side of Market street at Eighth.

The shell was harmless, Lieutenant Colonel Clay, commander of the Frankford Arsenal, announced this afternoon after his examination had been completed.

The police and government agents have not determined who placed the shell there. Upon examination the shell was found to be of Russian or Austrian make.

ROBBERS CRACK SAFE; GET $4000

Gold, Silver, Money and Checks Taken From Franklin Pen Company Office

Robbers blew open the safe of the Franklin Fountain Pen Company, 51 North Tenth Street, some time after midnight, and got away with approximately $4000 in raw gold, silver, gold pen points, money and checks.

Before opening the safe the men collected old clothing and pieces of cardboard scattered throughout the plant. They wet the cardboard and stuffed the cracks of the shop windows so as to deaden the noise of the explosion.

A hole was drilled in the door of the safe and into it was poured an explosive. The door was blown off as cleanly as though it was of tin and had been cut by a knife.

Nothing in the building was disturbed by the explosion, indicating, detectives say, that the job was the work of experts.

The only clue to the identity of the robbers is a black shoe button found on the floor near the safe that was blown. Near the button was also found a brown, sticky substance, some of which is believed to have been used in the blowing.

J. E. Goodrich, president of the company, said the robbers took 4000 pen points, valued at $2500; three ounces of twenty-four-karat raw gold; 110 pennyweight of raw gold; three ounces of silver; three ounces of iridium, worth $135 an ounce; $80 in money and $40 in checks.

The foreman of the plant found the safe blown when he entered the place at 7:30 o'clock this morning. He immediately notified the police.

Mr. Goodrich declared that the establishment had been robbed several times before. He said he is at a loss to understand why no person in the streets heard the explosion.

SPOUL PREDICTS CHARTER BOARD WILL BACK DOWN

Governor Intimates Revisionists' "Standpat" Policy Is Bluff. Is in City Today

BELIEVES SUPPORTERS OF BILL WILL ACCEPT CHANGES

Cannot Meet Board Monday. Schaffer Will See Winston and Associates

Governor Sproul today predicted that the charter revisionists would agree to the amendment to the Woodward bill proposed by the administration at a conference last Tuesday.

The Governor said he did not believe the revisionists would "stand pat" on their decision to insist on passage of the bill in its present form.

Indications in the Vore camp are that the Woodward bill would be fought "tooth and nail," as one of the Vore followers expressed it.

Asked what action the Vore forces would take on Monday night, Senator Vore said: "The fight is on as far as I am concerned."

Senator Vore declined to outline his plan of action. He refused to say whether the Vore forces would try to amend the bill or line up enough votes to beat it as it stood.

While the senator from the first district and his followers were in secret session, a meeting of the entire charter committee was held in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room.

Invitations to be present in the House at Harrisburg Monday night have been sent to a number of citizens interested in reform legislation by the charter committee.

The delegation is to leave for the state capital 4:50 o'clock Monday afternoon. In the formal invitation, signed by Mr. Winston, is this statement:

It is important that the people at Harrisburg be fully convinced that this bill in its present form, represents the overwhelming sentiment of the thoughtful citizens of Philadelphia.

Senate Can't Have Treaty, U. S. Envoys Firmly Decide

Paris, June 7.—(By A. P.)—The American delegation to the Peace Conference apparently is firm in its decision not to authorize the publication of the German peace treaty until it is signed and not even to communicate the official text, in its present form, to the United States Senate.

By CLINTON W. GILBERT Staff Correspondent of the Evening Public Ledger With the Peace Delegation in Europe.

By Wireless

Paris, June 7.—It is announced by a person close to President Wilson that the situation is less critical today. This, however, is only superficially true and only because of the effort of the President to effect a compromise and hold together the French and English delegates on some moderate basis of change in the treaty, which will not result in delay nor reopen the larger questions.

Opinion in England against the treaty seems to be almost unanimous.

The strike in Paris involves 400,000 workmen. This demonstration is not aimed against the treaty, but it serves to weaken the hands of the Clemenceau government and undoubtedly is helping Germany.
