ENTERTAINING THE WAR BRIDE; MRS. WILSON PLANS MENUS

Now That So Many of the Soldier Husbands Have Returned Many Parties Will Be Given by Friends of the Young Couples, and There Are Suggestions Here for Various Kinds—The Bride's First "at Home" Planned, Too

By MRS. M. A. WILSON (Copyright, 1919, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. All Rights Reserved.)

JUNE, the month of roses, is essentially the bridal month, and now that our boys are returning many entertainments will be given for their war brides.

An evening company, a dance, a week-end house party or perhaps a garden or porch party will give ample opportunity for the friends of the young couple to express their happiness to the bride and joy for the safe return of the soldier husband.

For the moderate purse, this need not mean a problem in finance. A great abundance of flowers are blooming in the gardens and woods and these will furnish a scheme for decorations.

I have just been preparing menus for about one-half dozen affairs and I feel that perhaps other folk will care to entertain our war brides, so I am going to give them to you. The menus may be used by the bride and bridegroom for their first "at home."

Refreshments for an "At Home" Lay the tables with perfectly laundered linen and then place in the center a flat bowl filled with smilax and sweet peas or June red roses from the garden.

A Suggested Menu for Garden or Lawn Party Olives Salted Nuts Sandwiches, All-American A la Chevalier Chateau-Thierry, a la Breton

For a Dance Olives Salted Nuts Pickles Chicken Croquettes Potato Salad Honey-moon Sponge Cake Tea Evening Company

How to Prepare the Sandwiches: Have the bread two days old; wrap it in wax paper and store in a tin box. Place one-half pound of butter in a bowl and add

Ask Mrs. Wilson If you have any cooking problems, bring them to Mrs. Wilson. She will be glad to answer you through these columns.

One-half cup of mayonnaise dressing. Beat thoroughly to mix and then use.

A la Chevalier Put through the food chopper into a bowl. One onion, One green pepper, Two stalks of celery, Three-quarters pound of cooked ham.

Now add One teaspoon of salt, One teaspoon of paprika, One-quarter teaspoon of mustard, Juice of one lemon. Mix thoroughly and then use.

Chateau-Thierry Put through the food chopper into a bowl. Two heads of lettuce, One bunch of chives, Three onions, Four green peppers, One small bottle of stoned olives, One pound of cold-boiled pork.

And then add Three-quarters cup of mayonnaise dressing, One tablespoon of salt, Two teaspoons of paprika, One-half teaspoon of mustard. Mix well and then use.

A la Breton Place in a mixing bowl One and one-half pounds of grated English dairy cheese, Three dried onions, One and one-half teaspoons of salt, One teaspoon of paprika, One-half pound of bacon, diced fine and nicely browned, One-half cup of mayonnaise dressing.

Mix well and then use Charlotte Russe Bake a sponge cake in muffin pans and then cut a slice from the top to remove part of the center.

Chicken Croquettes Wash one cup of rice in several waters and then cook in five cups of boiling water until the rice is tender and the water absorbed.

Honey-moon Sponge Cake Bake the sponge cake in oblong pans and then cut into small squares. Split and fill with fruit whip or whipped cream.

Deviled Egg a la Parisienne Prepare the deviled eggs and then roll in finely grated cheese and dust with paprika.

Ravigote Sauce One onion, Six branches of parsley, One green pepper, One small bunch of chives. Mince very fine and then rub through a sieve.

Chicken Salad a la Ritz Place the meat cut from a four-pound stewing chicken cooked until tender, then cut into one-half-inch pieces in a bowl, and add

Two green peppers, minced fine, Three cups of finely diced celery, One cup of finely diced olives, One cup of mayonnaise dressing, One-half cup of vinegar, One and one-half tablespoons of salt.

Rice Croquettes Cook one cup of rice as for chicken croquettes and then season with One onion, chopped fine, One green pepper, chopped fine, One and one-half teaspoons of salt, One teaspoon of pepper.

Essence of Chicken, Spanish Cut two four-pound stewing chickens as for fricassee and then place in a saucepan and add Three quarts of boiling water, One onion, Two carrots, One jagot of soup herbs.

Cover and cook until tender and then lift the chicken and cool. Remove the meat from the bones and return the bones to the broth.

Gauntlet Gloves With Short Sleeves A Daily Fashion Talk by Florence Rose

The short sleeve has surprised every one by not requiring the long glove. The gauntlet or twelve-button length is worn, and in Paris this outfit is supplemented with a scarf.

WHEN the tidings relative to the short sleeve first came from Paris the women were inclined to be a bit panicky, for they saw that they supposed to be another means of extracting more money from their purses.

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

An Ode to Slackers Dear Cynthia—I saw Lieutenant B.'s suggestion in this evening's medium and will try a little poem to help him out.

"SLACKERS" I He's no more than a coward and is yellow through and through. He does such deeds that Hindenburg himself could not construe.

II He claims exemption from the board and says his feet are flat; I think the flattest part of him is just beneath his hat.

III When Jim comes back from "over there" this yellow slacker's sore; He hasn't got a single thing, and Jim medals galore.

Cheer Up, Brunettes Dear Cynthia—"Miss Disgusted" seems upset because she is a brunette, but I wish to tell her not to worry.

If Onions Are Silver-Coated If your onion tops look as if they were coated with silver, it is a tiny insect known as the thrips which is causing the unusual appearance.

HOW TO BE EDUCATED OR TO SEEM THAT WAY!

Many a Girl Whose Schooling Has Been Neglected Worries About It When Her Salary Grows Apace—Hints for Her

HOW to be educated, or at least to give the impression that you are educated! Many a girl who has not had the advantage of much schooling in her earlier days is puzzling about this matter now.

Some of the books ought to be histories, not dry, dusty ones that so many of us dredged in our school days, but interesting live stories of what nations and peoples did in other times than ours.

The girl in this position frequently does not know quite where to turn. In the first place the young person who is bent on the bettering process ought to look to her grammar.

Half the time they are made through carelessness and habit rather than through ignorance. But the big point is to correct them whatever may be their reason for being.

Along with any other reading, a young woman, and, of course, all I have said applies to a young man, too, ought to keep well up on current events. It is possible to join a current events class and then there are all the magazines some of them that treat of nothing else but what is going on in the world.

THE next step in the education process ought to be a night course in English literature at one of the institutes or universities. Not only does a course of this sort introduce the student to the works of certain prescribed authors, but the teacher in charge of the class will gladly map out a plan in general reading that will be of priceless value.

IF a girl has not the opportunity to let her ask to see Lubbock's list of 100 best books in the public library. Then let her begin by reading the one that appeals to her most, and so on. It is a mistake to stick to dry reading too long, for you will weary of it and give up the whole bettering proposition.

These are only a few of the mistakes. Half the time they are made through carelessness and habit rather than through ignorance. But the big point is to correct them whatever may be their reason for being.

How Bond Bread got its name.

FIRST—we knew you would like to know what is in the bread you buy—

So we decided to print the ingredients on the wrapper of each loaf. Then, to guarantee that these ingredients are not only the "home" kind—but also absolutely pure—we put the list of materials in the form of a guarantee—backed by our Bond. That's why this epoch-making bread was christened
