The Seaside Park Yacht Club opened its doors to returning members and its new friends last Saturday. The day was made auspicious by an informal reception at the clubhouse. Many of the boats of the club fleet have been commissioned even at this early date, and the sailing enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting the opening of the regatta season. J. Lidden Pennock, of Philadelphin, the chairman of the regatta committee, is working with the other members in the preparation of a schedule of events which will provide nu-
