Nancy Wynne Talks of the Sullivan Dance at the Woods

Tomorrow-Concert Last Night in Germantown

for French Orphans

WHEN it is as hot as it was yesterday, somehow you don't care what is going on do you? But just the same. things are going on in spite of the bent and there are parties galore almost every day.

Tomorrow night the James Francis Sullivans will give a dance for Elaine. Elaine you know, is the youngest of the Sullivans's three daughters. She is not yet of coming-out age, and this party is for members of the school set. Elaine is very good looking. She has fair hair though not quite so fair as mother's, nor Leta's, very much Frankie's coloring, and a very pretty complexion. There will be several dinners before the dance, the Tom Mc-Kenna will entertain for Nancy and the Emory McMichaels will give a dinner for Ellen McMichael.

THE records and games committee of L the National League for Woman's Service and the Allied Legion of War Workers gave a splendid concert last night in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. in Germantown.

Besides songs by Reinhold Schmidt, the barytone: John Lott, of the A. E. F., did a little "soli" on his own and brought down the house. On the program they called him the favorite come dian of the A. E. F. and it sounded the applause very much if he were a favorite here, as well, The concert was held for the benefit of the French war orphans. Letitia Radcliffe Miller was at the pinno and played

SAW Mrs. Naudain Duer yesterday burrying down Chestnut street, evidently doing some last-minute shopping before she goes to her camp in Maine She had on a dress of black georgette crepe made with box pleats and a loose wide sash. Her hat was a white shade one with a large black bow in front. She looked as if that cool, airy place in Maine couldn't come any too soon for her, and she certainly must need the rest she gets up there after the busy winter she always has down here .
