

"YOU'RE OUT!" YELLS NALLIN AND A'S WIN

Donnie Bush, Peevied at Macks Taking First in Seven Games, Starts Near-Riot at Shibe Park

RECORD FOR PHILS

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK
IT WAS safe by a mile. It was called worse than any play I've ever seen. Nallin was wrong. "I've been here."

ALL IN ONE DAY
HONEST, there was real excitement at the A's home, and every one within the turnstiles felt a regular thrill creeping along his spine.

Donnie Bush was on second and Chick Shorten on third. Scott Perry cut loose with a wild pitch that rolled to the grand stand.

It was anybody's fight so Harry Hellman broke into it. He pulled Nallin's chest protector off, and would have jumped down his throat, but the umpire kept his mouth shut.

VICTORY FOR "WETS"
Coroner Knight Leads Team to Win Over the "Drys"

Bingles and Bungles
"Punny things happen in baseball," said the guy with the brown derby, as he edged his way through the crowd that surrounded the home plate after yesterday's game at Shibe Park.

The showing of our Phils has convinced the fans that Baker was right in firing Pat Moran. We're speaking of Cincinnati fans.

Cleveland is stepping out like a two-year-old. The Indians capped their fifth straight win over the Phils, and stepped into a tie for first place.

Wally Kinney has an idea he can so the entire distance against any club when he's left, but kin.

Mitchell is going to outwit the Dodgers' 3-1 win over the Cubs because of a questionable decision by Judge. Yesterday was a rough day for the ump.

After taking four from the Dodgers and three from the Phils the Purple crew was wrecked by the Braves, but it required two extra rounds to reach a decision.

The Phils are standing Pat on their losing streak. They stood him in second place with their eleventh straight reverse yesterday.

Eddie Sickles, a Cincinnati product, was given a great hand in Redland. The fans waved their feet to make him forget he was with a losing ball club.

couldn't finish, Kallio pitching the last two innings.
Wally Kinney started his first game for Mack in a long stretch of time and got away with it until the eighth.

KINNEY'S Hit Winning Blow
KINNEY deserved the victory, despite the fact that he had to be relieved by Perry. He started a two-run rally in the third with a single and his one-base blow in the sixth put over what proved to be the winning counter.

Kinney pitched great ball up to the eighth. The Detroit run gathered in the first was tainted. In the second, third, fourth and sixth he put the Tigers down in order, and from the first to the eighth no one got any farther than second.

Phil's Rapping at Cellar Door
THERE'S a rapping, rapping, rapping at the cellar door in Mr. Heydler's National League. The Phils are doing the tapping, tapping, tapping gently, fearful-like, but steadily.

A flimsy foundation of half a game holds the Coombs' clan in seventh position. The big flop may happen today. Pat Moran moved into second place with his Reds as a result of his 4-1 win in Cincinnati yesterday, and he intends to entrench himself more firmly.
