TO REPAVE STREET IN WEEK

Camden Railway Promises Quick Action on Thoroughfare

Federal street, Camden, will be repaved within a week's time, according to announcement made today by Street Commissioner Alfred Sayers. The street repaving has been torn up since early last winter, when the Public Service Railway Company laid new tracks from Front street to Fifth.

Street Commissioner Sayers said today that the traction company had agreed to repave the street immediately.

A conference between the city official and the transit men was held yesterday, after numerous complaints of the condition of the paving had been made by business men whose places of business are located along Federal street.
