District Attorney Admonishes Detectives for Careless Use of Their Revolvers

SLAYER OF YOUTH IS HELD dren.

Samuel P. Rotan, district attorney commenting on the cases of two boys Corporal Doughty, of Collingswood, felled by shots fired by railroad detec tives in the last two days, said, "More care should be exercised by private detectives in handling their revolvers.' One of the victims was killed, while the other is in a serious condition.

"This ought especially to be the case where the life of a boy is at stake," he said. "The mere fact that a boy runs, or tampers with a freight car, and it is not certain that the dead boy did, is no excuse for a man in the employ of the railroad to take a pot shot at him."

Mr. Rotan was discussing the killing of fifteen-year-old William Shaeffer, 1335 South Twenty-ninth street, on Wednesday by George Beadling, a spe-cial officer employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Beadling, who was held without bail to await the action of the coroner, narrowly escaped injury at the hands of an

The center shop pictured above, that of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, 1218-20-22 Chestnut street, needs no introduction to Philadelphians delphians, nor to the world at large, for wherever precious jewels are worn, wherever handsome silver, glass and china are used, or correct social stationery is required, there is the firm known and esteemed. Founded in 1832 as Bailey & Kitchen at 136 Chestnut steet, they have ever been prominently associated with Chestnut street, and have developed such widespread connections and so tremendous a national trade that a new twelve-story building, solely for manufacturing, is being constructed in addition to their present plant. Through all the years of their activities they have conducted business in the same liberal and honorable lines, and today the name Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company is synonymous with sterling worth.

The welfare of the public entirely at heart, they fixed up all claims for damages without dispute. Naturally, every woman who had feared difficulties was delighted with her good luck, and spoke in the highest terms of the firm to all acquaintances, and the ball has kept rolling. WHAT man likes to look at a wilted flower-or woman? Not one, I'd venture to say. THIS is no time to keep the Baby cooped up indoors, nor cuddled up on your lap. Give the little lungs a chance to breathe, and the little limbs a chance to kick. Then why do they imagine a wilted man is any more pleasing a sight? Yet dozens of these fastidious gentle-men needlessly wilt in summer heat men needlessly wilt in summer heat because they persist in wearing the wrong kind of apparel, when at Jacob Reed's Sons, 1424-26 Chestnut street, there are tropical-weight Coat and Trouser Suits made of Palm Beach Cloth, Summer Worsteds, Breez-weve, Aerpore, Mohair, Linen. All are serviceable and comfortable, though Palm Beach Cloth is the final and satisfactory solution of a warmweather fabric. But don't expect the best results unless you get Palm Beach Cloth and Jacob Reed's Sons together; it's the splendid fabric plus Re designing and workmanship the makes for super-elegance and comfort.

TF YOU want a good Porch Rug for your home, impervious to weather, there is no end to the Fiber Rugs to be had in the very newest and prettiest patterns at Fritz & La Rue, 1124 Chestnut street. The vast majority come from Japan, are hand-made and have that artistic touch, coupled with durability and serviceableness inseparable from things Oriental. They come big or little, square, oval or round, and the Kobe, an extra heavy quality, can be made practically any size, being composed of separate 18-inch squares. The Yama, Alpha Tea and La Belle have centers in natural tones, with borders of fancy conventional designs, done in colors, and the Tatsuta, though absolutely without borders, are effective and neat, relieved by colored warps running through the heavy braided grass.
