'WIDOW' GETS SIXTH OF MUNYON FORTUNE

Miss Kane's Attorney Estimates Her Share at $42,000—Settlement Presented to Court

ESTATE INVENTORY LOWER

Jane Kane, who presented a claim for a widow's dower right against the estate of the late James M. Munyon, patent medicine manufacturer, alleging that she was his wife, is to receive one-sixth of the estate under the agreement of settlement of her claim presented to Judge Henderson in the Orphans' Court today by counsel representing the different parties in interest.

According to Attorney Henry J. Scott, counsel for Miss Kane, the total value of the estate will be about $250,000, entitling his client to nearly $42,000.

John J. Foulkrod, Jr., the executor, said he did not believe the estate would amount to more than $100,000. Attorney Scott ridiculed this as a "gross understatement" of the value of the Munyon estate. It was admitted before Judge Henderson that an offer of $100,000 for the unencumbered real estate in Florida alone had been received from responsible parties.

Attorney Scott stated that the other real estate is worth about $25,000 additional, and the personal property, consisting principally of stock in the Munyon Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, is about equal in value to the real estate, making a total value of about $250,000.

SILK GONE, MEN HELD

Two Held on Suspicion—Seen Storing Material

Two men arrested on suspicion after district detectives saw them storing quantities of silk believed to be stolen were held in $2000 bail each for a further hearing by Magistrate Baker, at the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station today.

The men are Aristide Sarro, thirty-four years old, who keeps a tailor shop at Seventeenth and Tasker street, and Angelo Estito, who said his home is in New York. A quantity of silk supposed to have been stolen was found in the tailorshop. The owner has not been found.

M'LAUGHLIN PLANS CHEAPER FOOD FIGHT

Announcing Candidacy for Mayor, Proposes $20,000,000 Market System

WATER NEED EMPHASIZED

Cheaper food for Philadelphia is one of the planks in the platform of Joseph S. McLaughlin, director of supplies in the present city administration and a candidate for mayor.

An adequate system of public markets at an estimated cost of $20,000,000 is the means by which the group, of which Director McLaughlin is the principal figure, proposes to lower the cost of living.

"An adequate pure water supply is, of course, the first requisite of the city and certainly pure fresh food comes next in importance," he said.

"I would favor a wholesale market terminal near the Delaware river and the belt line and the building of six retail markets for home sections."

The announcement of his candidacy was addressed to J. Frederick Jenkinson, secretary of the Associated Business Men of the Forty-fourth Ward.

Director McLaughlin's letter follows:

"Absence from the city has delayed my acknowledgement of your recent letter inclosing the resolutions adopted by your association requesting that I become a candidate for the office of Mayor of the city of Philadelphia. I have received from citizens representing every ward of the city many thousands of similar requests which it has been impossible for me to acknowledge, and I take this opportunity of expressing my heartfelt appreciation to all who have so honored me with their confidence and esteem, and assured me of their earnest support of my candidacy.

Fifteen Years' Experience

"After consideration of your request in conjunction with the many thousands of others just referred to, I have decided to become a candidate for the high office of Mayor of the city of Philadelphia. In taking this step I want to place at the disposal of the city the experience gained in my fifteen years' service in the several municipal departments. As the request card states, I stand with you for a 'bigger and better Philadelphia' and I am ready to serve to the utmost in bringing about the consummation of the 'urgent needs' so admirably set forth in the circular issued by the Chamber of Commerce, as follows:

"Adequate water supply.
"Development of the port.
"Rapid transit.
"Greater school facilities.
"Sewage disposal system, with extensions and improvements to the present sewers.
"Clean streets.
"Enlarged police and fire protection.
"In addition thereto, the establishment of modern market facilities, instead of the antiquated, inadequate and expensive system now in vogue.
"Permit me to suggest the importance of forming at this time, in each ward of the city, an active campaign committee to work whole-heartedly together for a bigger and better Philadelphia."

Vare Silent

Senator Vare maintained his silence on the mayoralty question today. Aside from a reference made some weeks ago when he spoke of W. Freeland Kendrick, receiver of taxes, as the "type" of man needed for the office, he has not touched upon the situation for publication.

He refused to comment upon Director McLaughlin's announcement. The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Some action upon the proposed mass-meeting may be taken at the gathering.

The chamber is taking a poll of its members to find what type of man they prefer to hold the office. Seven thousand blank cards were sent out. More than one-third of these have already been returned. It is thought that a definite announcement of the result of the poll can be made early in August.

RELIEF FOR FERGUS FALLS

Appeal Made for Cyclone-Hit Minnesota Town

The Citizens' Permanent Relief Committee of Philadelphia met today in the Mayor's office to consider an appeal for aid from the town of Fergus Falls, Minn., which was struck by a cyclone on June 22.

A letter was read from Mayor Frankberg, of Fergus Falls, in which he declared that the damage would exceed $4,000,000 and that fifty deaths resulted. He said that the need for assistance was a very real one.

As a result the committee has issued an appeal to citizens of the city and Mayor Smith has driven the opening wedge with a donation of $2000. All donations should be addressed to Drexel & Co., treasurers for the city relief committee, of which the Mayor is chairman.

ROPER A COUNCIL CANDIDATE

Lawyer and Ex-Football Star Enters Race From Sixth District

William W. Roper, 7201 Lincoln Drive, will formally announce his candidacy for councilman from the Sixth district at a banquet of the Germantown Liberty Loan committee at the Germantown Masonic Temple tonight.

Mr. Roper is chairman of the Liberty Loan committee of Germantown. During the recruiting campaign for the Naval Reserve, he organized parties in the Fourth Naval district.

Mr. Roper has many positive ideas about the position to which he aspires. Among the strongest convictions he holds is that the city should maintain its own garbage disposal plant and also support a municipal street cleaning system.

Mr. Roper is a lawyer. At Princeton, he gained national fame as "Bill" Roper, the football star.

The Sixth district is made up of the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirtieth and Forty-second wards.

DARK DEEDS AT CITY HALL

Caused, However, by Failure of Lighting System to Work

City Hall was virtually tied up today when a scarcity of water in the boiler of the light plant in the basement stopped all elevators, put out some lights and dimmed others to a point when it was impossible to do any work by them.

Corridors, courtrooms and offices were alike hit by the shortage, which Chief McLaughlin, of the Electrical Bureau, said would not last more than a few hours.

In the meantime much of the routine business of the hall was disturbed.

GERMAN HOME MAN HURT

Believed That He Was Struck by Trolley or Automobile

Frank Cejka, sixty years old, an inmate of the German Home at Lawndale, was found unconscious at Rising Sun avenue and Veree street.

It is not known whether he was struck by a trolley or an automobile late last night.

He was taken to the Jewish Hospital where he is suffering from a severe fracture of the skull. Little hope is given for his recovery.

HOG ISLAND PRAISED AS FREE PORT ZONE

Cost Will Be Small, W. J. Conlen, of Philadelphia, Tells Delegates in New York

SEVEN PIERS AVAILABLE

Advantages of Hog Island as the site for a free port zone, were presented today at a conference of commercial organizations in New York by William J. Conlen, chairman of the committee on merchant marine of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

The conference was attended by representatives of commercial organizations from all parts of the country. Delegates from this city include, besides Mr. Conlen, William A. Law, C. F. C. Stout and William L. Turner.

"Hog Island, with the facilities adaptable there, can be transformed into a free zone without the necessity of expending any vast sums for that purpose," Mr. Conlen told the conference.

"There are 927 acres of ground at Hog Island, of which 150 acres have been devoted to storage purposes. With eighty-two miles of railroad tracks and twenty-one miles of good roads, all surrounded by eleven miles of fence, it would appear that Hog Island was amply equipped for transformation into a free zone.

"When it is further taken into consideration that there are seven piers, each 1000 feet long and 100 feet wide, with ways and machinery for the loading and unloading of ships and for building and repair work, added advantages are seen favoring the selection of this plant for a free zone."

The delegates also discussed today the advisability of establishing a permanent free-zone organization, with headquarters and representatives in Washington, that free-zone legislation may receive attention.

In Congress the free-zone bill has been referred to the Senate committee on commerce and to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce in the House.

JUDGE McCULLEN SWORN IN

To Be Associate Jurist in Court of Common Pleas No. 4

Joseph P. McCullen, Democrat, was today sworn in as an associate judge of Court of Common Pleas No. 4.

Simplicity marked the second occasion of the lawyer being formally inducted as a judge of this tribunal. Under the five judges act he served as a member of Court No. 4 for little more than a month, in 1913, until the legislative enactment increasing the number of the judges in each Common Pleas Court from three to four was declared unconstitutional.

There was no display of floral gifts, no assemblage of lawyers, judges or personal friends. Governor Spruill's commission, naming the new judge, was delivered in the court by Harry S. McDewitt, private secretary to the Governor.

The inscribed parchment was read aloud by one of the court officials. The oath of office was then administered to Judge McCullen by President Judge Audenried.

Judge McCullen's appointment continues until next November, when he and any other candidates must go before the voters on the non-partisan ballot. Judge McCullen fills the place made vacant by the death of the late Judge William Wilkins Carr.

2 AUTOS, 2 TIRES AND BICYCLE STOLEN

Thieves, for Third Time in Two Weeks, Break Into Waist Shop and Get $22 Loot

A $300 automobile of James McClure, 763 North Twenty-third street, was taken from Corinthian and Fairmount avenues and a $350 automobile of Dr. Benjamin Gunner was stolen from in front of his home, 730 South Fifty-ninth street, over the week-end. Two automobile tires valued at $30 were taken from the H. K. Mulford Company garage, northwest corner Thirtieth and Lombard streets. A $40 bicycle belonging to Joseph Strauss, 2126 East Birch street, was stolen from near his home.

For the third time in two weeks thieves broke into a showcase of the Peggy Waist Shop, 1208 Chestnut street, taking six waists valued at $22. Anton Mushunksi, 4760 Millner street, was held up by two men at Eleventh and Buttonwood streets and robbed of $20 and a gold watch and chain. A woman took $16 from Harry Miller, 472 North Second street, at Third and Poplar streets. A negro ran away with a $10 watch from the auction store of David Hirsch, 407 Market street.

Pickpockets in a Third street trolley car took $10 from a pocket of John McCarthy, 362 Liberty street, Camden. A satchel containing a gymnasium suit worth $15 and belonging to Charles A. Schweninger, 1605 Ruscomb street, was stolen from the locker room of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Club at Taber. Two men smashed a window of the cigar store of Louis Rosenblatt, 302 Jackson street, stealing $32 worth of cigars and cigarettes, and an entrance by a side window in the cigar store of Horatio Rastick, 3109 North Fairhill street, yielded the thieves $21 worth of "smokes."

Two dollars was all that two boys got out of the butter and egg store of Samuel Sailer, 2341 Ridge avenue.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Played With Matches While Father Was Drunk, Police Say

Burns proved fatal to Virginia Young, four years old, of 2839 North Watts street, who set fire to her clothing while playing with matches. The little girl died early today in the Samaritan Hospital.

Virginia, with several other children, was playing in the North Watts street house yesterday. The child found matches and ignited her clothing. Her screams were heard by Police Sergeant Otto Steinback, of 2838 Park avenue who ran into the house and wrapped a rug about the child, extinguishing the flames. Patrolman Schrader summoned Engine Company No. 50, the flames having set fire to a chair. The little girl was placed in an automobile and taken to the hospital.

Robert Young, the father of the burned girl, was in the house intoxicated, the police say. He was arrested and will be arraigned before Magistrate Carson at the Park and Lehigh avenues station house.

NEW CURB MARKET IS OPENED IN CITY

Housewives in Vicinity of Eleventh and Wharton Given Advantage of Low Prices

STEAK COST DECREASES

The farmers' curb market, supposed to have been opened last week at Eleventh and Wharton streets under the auspices of the South Eleventh Street Business Men's Association, was opened at 8 o'clock this morning by the Philadelphia Curb Market Men's Association.

The markets will be conducted on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, according to tentative plans announced by Joseph Walsh, president of the association.

Members of the association said that it had been decided to make the market at the Falls of the Schuylkill, Ridge and Midvale avenues, a permanent feature. The market opened Saturday at Twenty first and Lehigh avenue, and the one at Frankford and Kensington avenues also will be conducted regularly.

Locations for additional markets will be announced by the association during the week.

A committee of the Philadelphia Retail Fruit Dealers' Association was named to call on Dr. Wilmer Keuson, director of health, today to ask that the curb market men be subjected to the rules requiring vegetables and fruit be kept indoors when offered for sale, or that the same rule be lifted so that those dealers who sell inside, Mr. Walsh said that the curb markets are obeying the law in every respect. He vigorously denied insubordinate conditions obtain at the markets and invited the fullest inspection by authorities.

A three-cent drop in the price of steaks went into effect today in more than eighty meat stores in the city, which reduced the cost of steaks from 45 cents a pound to 42 cents a pound. Easing of the market is given as an explanation in the reduction of prices of steak, which two weeks ago cost 52 cents a pound. Many stores this week are offering also a special reduction of 4 cents a pound for smoked picnic hams.

Gentlemen!
What are you going to wear on this Glorious Fourth?

Well, for one thing, most every man will have use for a pair of White Flannel or a pair of White Duck Trousers.

We have 'em!

But a lot of men are going to match a brown or a green Sports coat to said white trousers.

We have 'em, too!

In fact, so many men have bought brown flannel Suits or green flannel Suits or gray flannel suits here this year, that we foresee a lot of them yoking up white trousers to the coat, thus getting the service of a second Suit out of the combination.

Suppose you try it!

To help you do it, we are able to supply the separate brown or green coat, single breasted or double breasted, with or without the separate white flannels or ducks.

Any other combination you may choose is here, too.

And, of course, several thousand "Tropical" Suits, meaning Breezeweve, Palm Beach, Mohair or Cool Crash—than which there's nothing more comfortable on a hot and sultry day.

Come in and prepare!

Take sample piece of tube one-fourth inch by three inches. Stretch to nine inches or three times its original length. Cut on the edge with the scissors. The cut should not be more than one-eighth inch across the sample. If the strip tears apart the rubber is inferior.
