

A'S PLAY FINAL GAME OF SERIES; PHILS MEET GIANTS HERE IN JULY FOURTH DOUBLE-HEADER

CALDWELL WINS PLEA AND ALSO BALL GAME

Slim Makes Speech to Barrow and Gets Permission to Go Back at A's, Getting 4-2 Verdict

A NEW PHIL THRILL

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK SEND me back tomorrow. Give me another chance. I can lick those bums anytime."

Ray Caldwell pleaded his case before Ed Barrow, Boston boss, in the lobby of the hotel last Tuesday night. That afternoon he had been driven from the hill by a vicious attack from the A's guns, light artillery most of the time, but on this occasion heavy, and the humiliation shook his self-pride, but not his self-confidence.

Slim's plea was so earnest and Barrow's supply of pitchers so scarce that his point was won. Caldwell was sent back against "those bums" and he proved what he said. He could lick 'em and did. The A's had little chance and they dropped the second of the series to the Red Sox, 4-2, after winning two in a row.

Caldwell pitched clever ball. He got into several mile-wide and mile-deep holes, but with men on base he was as tight as a number of Philadelphians was last Monday night. He allowed only five hits and in but one inning were two of them bunched.

Sox Hits Scattered

TEN times did Boston bats slam out base hits off Juggling Johnson, but those bingles were kept as far away as Fourth of July. The Barrow bunch had one in the first, none in the second, two in the third and one in every following inning.

Had it not been for a pair of wild chucks in the third, one by Fred Thomas and another by Joe Dugan, the A's would have gotten the decision by 2 to 0. Only on rare occasions does a pitcher allow ten hits and not permit an earned run. And that is what Juggling did.

Juggling had a chance to win his own game in the second. With three on and two out, two strikes and three balls on him, the Ursinus alumnus swung so hard on the air he caused a breeze to float over to the left field bleachers. Then, with none on in the fifth, he lifted the ball into the thirty-cent section for a home run. Jugg was as much surprised as Caldwell.

Johnson also had an important part in the scoring of the A's second run. Dugan and Perkins opened the seventh with singles and Cy scored on Jugg's long sacrifice fly to Harry Hooper.

Phils' Led Anyhow

THE Phils enjoyed a new sensation yesterday in Boston town. No, they didn't win, but at one time they were out in front. However, they didn't know how to act when they were setting the well-known pace and they fell to the rear, where they felt more natural. The 7-4 defeat administered by the Braves was only the twenty-first reverse handed out to the Phils in their last two double games.

The Braves snatched a run in the first, but in the sixth the Combsmen grabbed two hits, by Adams, Callahan and Baird, with a sacrifice and a stolen base sandwiched between them. The lead made Bradley Hogz dizzy and he promptly yielded three to the Stings in the last half of the same session.

Hogz was slaughtered to the extent of ten hits for fourteen bases, but the Phils were not far behind in swatting. They had nine bingles for a total of eleven bases.

Alex Her Defeated

New York, July 3.—Howard W. Robinson, the "dark horse" in the North Side championship with ten games remaining, being played on the clay courts of the University Club yesterday, defeated Alex Her, 6-2, 6-2, in the fifth round of the singles.

KELLY FIT TO COP BOTH FINAL RACES

Coach Juvenal Has Sculling Champion in Great Shape for Tomorrow's Regatta

17 EVENTS ON PROGRAM

Jack Kelly is in the best shape of his career, according to Lieutenant Jimmy Juvenal, former titleholder, who has been coaching the Vesper oarsman for his two races in the people's regatta on the Schuylkill river tomorrow afternoon.

Lieutenant Juvenal feels confident that Kelly will be able to win both the single scull races. He is entered in the quarter-mile dash and the mile and a quarter. In both these contests he faces two of the best single scullers in this country and Canada. One is Tom Rooney, the sensation from New York, and the other is Bob Dibble, the Canadian, who beat Kelly two years ago at Duluth.

Juvenal has been rowing with Kelly at least three times a week for the last month and has pointed out and aided Kelly in overcoming several weaknesses of stroke. Juvenal in his time was the world's champion sculler. He has a string of titles attached to his name as long as Willard's reach.

There are seventeen events on the program which is slated to start at 2 o'clock. Fifty-four of the best sweep and scull crews will compete.

TRUMPATOR KILLED

Six-Year-Old Chestnut Strikes Fence and Dies From Injuries

New York, July 3.—Trumpator, one of the most popular favorites appearing in the East the past several seasons, will never again thrill the crowds by his spectacular dashes through the field. The six-year-old chestnut gelding of the Dosoris Stable was killed in the steeplechase at the Aqueduct track yesterday. Trumpator struck heavily in taking the next to last fence, and fell with such force on his head that his back was broken during the somersault. The gelding died almost instantly.

AUTO RACE TOMORROW

Star Drivers Entered in 100-Mile Event at Sheepshead Bay

New York, July 3.—The leading speed demons of the world who will compete in the 100-mile Independence Auto Derby at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway tomorrow afternoon took their final workouts late yesterday afternoon.

Alph De Palma and "Howdy" Wilcox, who will battle for the championship of America in a special match of three ten-mile heats, are now ready for the drop of the flag.

Bill James Sold

Boston, July 3.—Bill James, one of the "big boys" who pitched the Boston Braves to a world championship in 1914, has been sold outright to the National League club to the Oakland (Calif.) club. James has done little pitching in recent years, as a result of an injury to his throwing arm.

Ebert Turns Pitcher and Wins

Wildwood, N. J., July 3.—Delmar, of Philadelphia, was shut out by Wildwood here yesterday, 6 to 0. Ebert was in splendid form, only two hits being made by the visiting side.

Bingles and Bungles

"If I was Mack, I'd tell them guys," piped the guy in the brown derby, "there ain't no baseball law, written or unwritten, that prevents them from winning more than two games in a row."

French Racing Association Invites Service Men to Holiday Events

Paris, July 3.—The French Racing Association has invited all American officers and enlisted men to be guests at the races as a means of recognizing the Fourth of July. The Masons LaFitte races have been named "St. Mihiel," "Lafayette," "Independence Day," "Bois de Belleau," "George Washington" and "Benjamin Franklin."

WITHINGTON WINS AGAIN

American Defeats Colonel Salier in Regatta on the Thames

London, July 3.—Major Paul Withington won his second victory in the Thames today when he defeated Colonel P. L. Salier.

Yesterday Major Withington defeated D. H. L. Gollan.

The heat of the Kingswood sculls between Major Withington and Colonel Salier was one of the best races of the regatta. Colonel Salier took the lead early in the race and kept ahead of Withington's spurs until three-quarter mile post was reached.

Thereafter the American gradually overhauled the British. The pace then became grueling and Colonel Salier grew distressed. Withington finished in good style three lengths ahead.

Returns of the Big Bout

Returns of the Jack Dempsey-Jess Willard championship fight, which took place yesterday, will be shown at the Columbia A. C. (eleventh street) arena. The national games at Point Breeze Park, Hillside, and the Broadway Theatre, Fairmount Theatre, Strawbridge & Clothier, both parks and Hippodrome Theatre.

Weld's Leg Amputated

PERSHING SEES U. S. STARS WIN IN RAIN

Lt.-Col. Chamberlain Rides Horse Winner in Military Prize Jumping Event

LARRY SCUDDER QUALIFIES

Pershing Stadium, July 3.—General John J. Pershing today saw an American horse and an American rider win the individual competition in the military prize jumping event at the stadium.

Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Chamberlain, U. S. A., rode Negra, a seven-year-old American mare, over fifteen obstacles in beautiful form, the performance being particularly pleasing to General Pershing. The team prize jumping competition was won by Belgium.

Lieutenant Colonel Chamberlain and his mount were in luck, performing just before the start of a veritable torrent of rain. Both received a great ovation from the doughboy grandstand, following every jump.

The United States won the 1600-meter relay race. The Australian team was second and the French team third. The time was 2 minutes 20.45 seconds.

General Pershing brought the worst weather the stadium has seen. No sooner was he seated than the thunder began which elicited from the doughboys the remark: "As soon as 'Black Jack' arrives, the barrage starts."

Scudder, Spink and Eby, Americans, qualified for the final in the 800-meter race. Scudder winning the heat in two minutes and three-fifths of a second, putting out Arnaud, the French record holder, who was badly off form.

Masson, of New Zealand, and Frazer won the other two heats, the former in two minutes flat and the latter in two minutes and one-fifth second. Alkin, England's sole entry for the 800-meter event, was eliminated by Spink.

BIG OFFER TO WINNER

Willard and Dempsey Wired Terms for Bout in London

London, July 3.—Promoter Coghran today wired Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey an offer of a purse of $125,000 to the winner of their bout for a match with either Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, or Jim Beckett, British title holder.

The match would be held in London in November or December and would be scheduled for twenty rounds. The winner would receive 60 per cent of the purse and the loser 40.
