ROAD LINKS ANNOUNCED

Highway Department Compiles Information to Facilitate Traffic The state Highway Department has announced a list of trans-Pennsylvania highways connecting the more important cities of the state. The information was compiled principally for manufacturers and others operating trucks in the state, but the routes named are those which will also enable passenger-automobile drivers to get from point to point with the least possible delay.

Between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia there are two routes, the Lincoln and the William Penn Highways.

Detours on the Lincoln Highway will be found at Ligonier, Westmoreland county; Fayetteville, Franklin county; east of Berwick, York county, and east of York. Within a few days a detour will be found at Salavia, Fulton county.

On the William Penn Highway detours will be found at Duncansville, Huntingdon, near Lewistown, east of Mifflintown, east and west of Lebanon and east of Reading. Because of construction between Harrisburg and Clark's Ferry bridge through travelers should use the highways on the opposite side of the river, which they will reach at Harrisburg by crossing the Market street bridge and at Clark's Ferry bridge by crossing the Juniata river to Juniata bridge and Duncansville.

On the New York extension of this road, from Reading through Allentown and Easton, a detour exists ten miles southwest of Allentown.

RADICAL SUSPECT SEIZED

Held in Bail of $1000 for Further Hearing Tomorrow

The first haul to be made in the dragnet set by Department of Justice operatives, Secret Service men and city detectives for radical agitators was made early yesterday morning when an alien who has been under surveillance for some time was arrested and taken to City Hall for examination. Since the bomb outrages last month a careful watch has been kept on the movements of persons who have displayed radical tendencies and the man arrested yesterday was one of those under suspicion.

He gave his name as Joseph M. Sokolow, of 421 Dudley street, and said he was a Russian. A technical charge of disturbing the peace was made against him and he was held in $1000 bail for a further hearing tomorrow.

HOLD SOLDIER FOR FORGERY

Sergeant H. C. Johnson Wanted on Same Charge in Virginia

Sergeant H. C. Johnson, of the Ninety-third Overseas Division, was held under $5000 bail for court by United States Commissioner Manley in the Federal Building today, on the charge of forgery. Johnson was arrested last week when he tried to pass a check for $100 at the saloon owned by Thomas A. Kelly, Thirteenth and Parrish streets. The army intelligence bureau agents testified that Johnson passed a number of bogus checks on merchants in Newport News, Va.

Johnson, who is a negro, has been seven years' service in the regular army, and was gassed twice and wounded three times overseas. He will be sent to Newport News after his court trial here.

NO DRUNKS IN CAMDEN

First Saturday Night of Prohibition Quiet for Police

For the first time on a Sunday morning perhaps in the history of Camden not a single person was locked up in the city jail on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Heretofore on Sunday mornings the cells were crowded with all sorts of drunks, including men and women locked up on Saturday night, but yesterday conditions were altogether different. Only three prisoners were in the cells. One a boy charged with stealing milk, a man charged with stealing automobile tires and another accused of nonsupport of his family. When the Sunday morning evangelists arrived at the jail at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning to hold services and preach to the "drunks" they were surprised to find the cells empty. They smiled as they glanced at the empty cells, and then left to attend church services.

EMERY TITMAN DIVORCED

Wife Wins Decree on Grounds of Desertion as Sequel to Separation

Anna S. Titman was today granted a divorce from her husband, C. Emery Titman, by Court of Common Pleas No. 2, on the grounds of desertion. The couple have been separated for some time, Titman being obliged by an order of court to pay his wife $25 a week for her support. The respondent was formerly a noted baseball fan and sportsman. In September, of last year, he was taken before Judge Audenried on a writ of attachment for failing to pay the $25 a week to his wife, but he claimed to have but $2 and was allowed to go free. Titman inherited $200,000 from his father, who was head of the Penn. Re-creation Company. He married Mrs. Titman, then a chorus girl, in February, 1916. Titman weighs more than 400 pounds.

GOVERNOR WILL GO TO CAPITAL TONIGHT

Sproul, Now in New York, Plans Trip to Harrisburg to Sign Bills

WILL NAME REGISTRARS

Governor Sproul is in New York today and leaves tonight for Harrisburg, where a number of bills passed by the Legislature await his signature.

The more important of the measures, from the city's standpoint, are the Daix-Brady registration bill and the Delaware river bridge bill. When the Governor signs the registration bill, abolishing the present Board of Registration Commissioners, he will announce the five members of the new board which the bill provides. He made this purpose clear Saturday.

Bridge Bill Waits

The Delaware river bridge bill provides $250,000 as Pennsylvania's share this year in the cost of starting work on the big span. This bridge is to link this city and Camden. New Jersey has made $500,000 available for preliminary work. This city must duplicate the appropriation made by the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Mr. Sproul's signature making the bridge bill a law also will create a new bridge commission, composed of the Governor, the Mayor of Philadelphia and the superintendent of the State Department of Grounds and Buildings. This commission will supplant a commission consisting of Mayor Smith, Alfred E. Burk and John T. Windrim. James E. Lennon, president of Select Council, is secretary of the old commission.

Other legislation which needs the Governor's signature includes election bills and registration bills affecting the entire state. One makes Tuesday, September 16, primary day, setting back the present primary by twenty-four hours.

Election Measures

Other bills waiting the Governor's action is the Woodward "voter's intention" bill and the one which prohibits the moving of a polling place unless authorized by a majority of the electors in a voting precinct, or a division as it is known in this city. The Woodward "voter's intention" bill makes legal a ballot with a mark in the general party square and another mark for some particular candidate.

Town Meeting party leaders say that if there had been such a law on the state books at the last election their party and their independent allies would have beaten the regular Republican organization. Thousands of ballots were thrown out, they contend, because many electors voted the Town Meeting ticket and also made a separate mark for District Attorney Rotan who was running for re-election on the Republican ticket.

'SOFT STUFF' IN LIQUOR KEGS

Iced-Tea Stations Spring Up in Groups Near Closed Saloons

The ages-old keg of mellow liquor is being supplanted by wash-bottles and buckets and tubs of weaker sisters to mellow liquor.

Warm weather in South Philadelphia is driving householders to establish lemonade and iced-tea stations on their front door steps for the delectation and comfort of pedestrians and a small profit to themselves.

And the dramatic situation of the day is largely expressed in the wash-bottle of iced-tea with lemon juice, which is being sold at a nominal price to passers-by outside the closed saloon at the corner of Seventeenth and Lombard streets.

ICE SCARCE IN GLOUCESTER

Dealers Unable to Supply Demand to Sunday Customers

Housekeepers and storekeepers in Gloucester City are up in arms because they could not get any ice yesterday. The dealers have been making two deliveries on Saturday instead of Sunday deliveries, but as Saturday was an unusually hot day the ice melted away and yesterday many homes were without ice and some of the storekeepers ran short. They sent teams and wagons to the ice plant, but they were met with a big sign on the door that no ice is sold on Sunday.

Many pleaded in vain, saying that their food and other articles were going bad, but no ice was forthcoming.

AND THEN HENRY WOKE UP!

Sleeper Refused to Heed Fire Alarm Until Blaze Ticked Toes

"Come on, get up! The house is on fire!"

The voice grated harshly in the ear of Henry Stevens.

"You go on and leave me alone," grunted Henry.

Clinging fire bells sounded under Henry's window as he stuck to his bed at Germantown-avenue and Armat street. Smoke poured through the doorway. Then Henry's feet felt warm.

He looked down at them and saw flames dancing around the edge of the mattress.

"Didn't know the fire was so near by," said Henry calmly. He got on the inside of his shirt just as three firemen entered the room with a hose.

The fire caused a loss of $100.

Auto Wrecks Hucker Cart

A motortruck driven by Samuel Ridgeway, 420 Amber street, struck and demolished a huckerster wagon owned and driven by Thomas Moore, of Woodlawn, N. Y., in Camden, today. Moore was slightly injured on the arms in the collision, but refused to go to a hospital. Ridgeway was arrested. The accident occurred at Van Buren and Ferry avenues.

UP-STATE TROOPER FINDS STOLEN CAR

Confession Secured From Two Accused Men With Aid of Detective Bureau

Local police have recovered the automobile of John Schaeffer, stolen from his home at Schuylkill Haven on June 22, and obtained a confession from the two men arrested for the theft.

This developed today at the hearing of Gardner DeLong, a relative of Schaeffer, who lives on Juniper street near Race, and Harry Hohert, twenty-one years old, 2508 South Hicks street, both of whom are accused of taking the stolen car.

T. L. Dolan, a state trooper, of Troop C, stationed at Pottsville, was assigned to the case when the automobile was stolen and has worked on it continuously.

On Saturday he obtained a clue which led him to believe that DeLong might know something of the theft. He came to Philadelphia and reported the matter to the detective bureau. Perry Jeffers, a local automobile detective, was assigned to the case.

Jeffers, accompanied by Dolan, who knows nothing of Philadelphia streets and addresses, located the car in a garage on Twelfth street near Snyder avenue and then arrested DeLong and Hohert.

Jeffers and Dolan testified this morning that the two men confessed to Jeffers. They were turned over to Dolan to be taken to Schuylkill county for trial.

Both men are mechanics and were employed at Baldwin's. They are said to have stolen dies there to change the car numbers. The men are not implicated in any other thefts, the detectives say.

The detective bureau here was notified at the time of the theft, but no information tending to establish that the machine was brought here was found, so only the ordinary lookout for the stolen car was maintained.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS FINED

Philadelphians Run Afoul of New Jersey Officials for Speeding

Three Philadelphians and one resident of Camden, N. J., were fined yesterday for violating traffic regulations on White Horse pike, coming from seashore point. The hearings were held before Magistrate William Jackson at Magnolia, N. J.

L. A. Wallace, 2225 Spring Garden street, was fined $25 for speeding; Frank M. Farmer, 5005 Chester avenue, was held in $100 bail for a further hearing Wednesday on a charge of speeding on a motorcycle; W. A. Deiner, 126 North Eleventh street, Camden, was fined $10 for operating a car without a license, and Norton Blanzburg, 2021 South Eighth street, was fined $25 for driving an unregistered machine.

Herman Mallander, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was fined $50 on charges of speeding, racing and delaying traffic by driving his car in the middle of the road

FOR SALE: SHIPYARDS, DOCKS, RAILROADS, CASH ON DELIVERY

Emergency Fleet to Dispose of Surplus War Material as Sequel to Restricted Vessel-Building Program

Do your big business shopping early! If you want to buy a bargain in the form of a complete manufacturing plant or an entire shipyard or a drydock or a ship or a half-built ship; or anything ranging from monaster cranes down to scrap metal, get in touch with the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The material, which will be sold at stations throughout the country at some future date, comprises an accumulation resulting from the extensive war activities, and is available now because of the adoption of the restricted shipbuilding program.

Industries especially interested in the sales are chiefly the shipbuilding, steel railroad, structural and general manufacturing concerns. Upon the sales list are marine railways, housing and transportation projects, numerous allotments of machinery, equipment and supplies, including woodworking machinery, machine tools and fixtures, electrical machinery, boiler and forge shop equipment, marine equipment and accessories, air-compressor equipment, contractors' equipment and supplies, bridge and gantry cranes, steel plates, shapes and bars, pumping machinery, scrap metals, lumber, deck equipment, galley equipment, hospital and commissary supplies and the like.

To Limit Sales

Close co-operation with the government departments and the United States Chamber of Commerce and the collateral business firms of the country will enable a scheduling of sales at a time when they will least conflict with the regular trade channels or react unfavorably upon particular industries. Steps also will be taken to limit sales and to distribute them over such periods as will satisfactorily permit of the absorption of surplus stocks and material on hand without embarrassment to any interests concerned.

District managers of the supply and sales division of the shipping board have been appointed to devote their attention to the problems arising out of the warehousing and sales program in their districts.

These representatives will be located in Philadelphia, New York, New Orleans, Chicago and Portland, Oregon. Suboffices and warehouses are to be established in Boston, Jacksonville, San Francisco and Seattle.

Salvage, or used material, will be sold subject to any deterioration and subject to inspection by the buyer on the ground. Surplus or unused material will be sold carrying the original manufacturer's guarantee and the double United States inspection required before acceptance by the corporation from the manufacturer. All surplus or unused material has been produced and marketed since April, 1917.

Cash on Delivery

All property, materials and supplies not assigned to the foregoing will be disposed of by the supply and sales division through its offices in Philadelphia or through the district supply and sales offices in New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Chicago and Portland.

All sales will be for cash on delivery, unless they are of such nature that guarantee of payment can be secured by mortgage, or unless the conditions affecting the sale are such as to make it advisable to extend short time credit in cases where loss to the corporation through failure to make a sale might be greater than the risk involved in the credit transaction.

TENDENCY TO SUICIDE IS ON DECLINE HERE

Self-Murder Has Increased in Other Cities, Says Statistical Report

2000 SUICIDES IN 1919

Although the number of suicides in this country has increased greatly, according to statistics issued in New York by the Save-a-Life League, the number of those who take their own life has declined steadily in Philadelphia since 1917. Local figures were obtained from the bureau of vital statistics.

The total of suicide cases in the United States for the present year has reached 2000. This number does not include the case of those who attempted suicide and failed. For a similar period in this city there have been 106 suicide cases.

In 1915 there were 280 suicides here, 200 in 1916, 270 in 1917, 227 in 1918, and 106 for the present year. There have been no cases here among children, while the report from New York says that the number of suicides among children has increased. There have been six cases here of persons between the ages of fifteen and nineteen, and five of these were girls. The reason for most of these cases was disappointment in love, and the figures show that young men were not as keenly affected as girls.

Figures for the last ten years show that the ages at which the majority of suicides have occurred in this city are from twenty to twenty-nine and from forty to forty-nine. It is thought that one reason for the big drop during 1918, when the war was at its climax, was because of the large numbers of young men between the ages of twenty and twenty-nine who were called into the service.

There is no certain month in which suicidal mania seems more prevalent. The most popular method of death among those who seek to end their life is asphyxiation. In 1918 there were eighty-one deaths from this cause in Philadelphia. For the same period here firearms claimed seventy-seven; hanging or other forms of strangulation, twenty-six; poison, twenty-one; jumping from high places, ten, and although the city has a large water front there were only four deaths due to drowning.
