

R-34 WILLS FLY HOME EARLY TOMORROW

Weather Bureau Report Is Favorable for Start of Return Trip TO SAIL BETWEEN 3 AND 4

By the Associated Press
Minneapolis, N. Y., July 9.—The British dirigible R-34 will start on its return flight before daybreak tomorrow, it was announced positively this afternoon by Major G. H. Scott, her commander. He expects to get away, he said, between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The following report was received today from the Weather Bureau at Washington:

"At Roosevelt Field the weather will be partly cloudy becoming unsettled during Thursday with moderate southerly winds becoming fresh, southwest by Thursday morning. Start of return flight should be made within next twenty-four hours and over southern coast as previously advised. Favorable winds and weather will be encountered over the western Atlantic."

Halloo Again in Peril

The dirigible again narrowly escaped serious injury last night, when a sudden gust caught her tail, swinging it around in a semicircle and dragging several rows of soldiers with it.

The rear gondola scraped along the ground, but the men succeeded in keeping it high enough to prevent damage, while a man on watch in the pilot house, by releasing several hundred pounds of water ballast, caused the cars to rise a few feet above the ground.

Description of Big Ship

At a distance of some 200 yards, the limits to which the visitors to Roosevelt Field are held by the military police, the dirigible presents innumerable possibilities, and many explanations of the probable interior mechanism of the monster craft have been advanced.

Officers of the United States army and navy aviation sections have been permitted to inspect the ship and report to their respective departments.

CREW OF DIRIGIBLE GET RUM AND BIBLES

Rations Include 20 Gallons of "Wet Goods" Ordered Before July 1

New York, July 9.—(By A. P.)—When the R-34 starts on her return flight to England each member of the crew will carry a Bible, the gift of the New York Bible Society, it was announced here today by Dr. George William Carter, general secretary of the society, who made the presentations, especially those edited with a view to the R-34 as part of the dirigible's equipment.

U. S. Will Support Freed Peoples, Says President

New York, July 9.—The full text of President Wilson's speech at Carnegie Hall yesterday follows:

"Fellow Countrymen:

"I am not going to try this afternoon to make you a real speech. I am a bit alarmed to find how many speeches I have in my system undelivered, but they are all speeches that come from the mind, and I want to say to you this afternoon only a few words from the heart."

Marine Firemen Call Strike Here

of Wharves, Docks and Ferries, said that the walkout of the union men had already affected work on some municipal contracts, the carpenters being held up in their work because of the absence of firemen on the piers and docks and dredges.

There are fifty-two steamships and seven sailing vessels in the port of Philadelphia at the present time, Director Webster said. Just what number of these will be held in the city during the strike could not be learned and will not be ascertainable until the walkout is completed.

The secretary of Chairman Edward N. Harley of the United States Shipping Board, at Washington, said that he had had no notice of the strike. News of the walkout did not surprise him, however, as he also said the shipping board and private owners have been unable to come to an agreement with the union men upon their demands.

Commissioner Stevens, of the shipping board, has taken part in the conference of conferences that began last April as a representative of the government interests.

The strikers held a meeting at their headquarters on Second street north of Walnut at noon today. Libby and George McMurtrie, another labor leader, were the speakers. The hall was crowded.

Marine firemen are now receiving $75 a month, and demand $90. The oilers and water tenders are now getting $80 and want $85.

Money Ready in September

The appropriation bill that will be introduced in Congress tomorrow will be referred to the finance committee and, according to Mayor Smith, the money will be made available by the latter part of September.

The Mayor's announcement was made shortly after he was informed that a joint committee representing the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and the Camden Chamber of Commerce would call upon him to urge speedy action in regard to the long-delayed bridge plan.

Alliance Assails Vow for Attack ing primary day from September 17 to September 10.

Independents claim that they will not be hurt by the delay in signing the bill and consequent hold-up of the petition blanks. They say that they will have plenty of time to get the signatures necessary for their candidates.

Judges to Be Elected

Four judgeships will be voted on this year. All four posts are now filled, but the incumbents will run on the ticket for election to the full term. The last day for filing the nonpartisan judgeship petitions with the secretary of the commonwealth is August 9. Petitions for city and county candidates must be filed with the county commissioners not later than August 10.

Here Are Committees

The Alliance registration committees, representing the eight senatorial districts, are Joseph Trainer, Harry J. Trainer, James A. Carey, Blakeley D. McCaughn, Oscar E. Noll, George Reddenburgh, Richard Weglein and William F. Campbell. The Republican Alliance claims that all but the Trainers carried their divisions, and their wards as well. Harry Trainer lost his division but carried his ward, while Joseph Trainer lost both ward and division.

Task to Preserve Peace

"I wonder if at this distance you can have got any conception of the tragic intensity of the feeling of those people in Europe who have just had jockey thrown off them? Have you reckoned up in your mind how many peoples, Turkey, under the yoke of Germany? How many nations, were held unwillingly under the yoke of the Austro-Hungarian empire, under the yoke of these peoples have been thrown off. These peoples breathe the air and look around to see a new day dawn about them, and whenever they think of the peace is ended, but it creates only a new task just begun. I believe that if you will study the peace you will see that it is a just peace and a peace which, if it can be preserved, will save the world from unnecessary bloodshed."

"I am not going to try this afternoon to make you a real speech. I am a bit alarmed to find how many speeches I have in my system undelivered, but they are all speeches that come from the mind, and I want to say to you this afternoon only a few words from the heart."

number of them before the end of the day.

Plans for Mr. Wilson's speaking tour have not yet been completed, but it was said at the White House that the President probably would time his schedule to reach the Pacific coast at the time of the arrival there of the newly created Pacific fleet, which is to start from Hampton roads for San Francisco.

Documents Reach White House

Three big army trucks loaded with trunks and boxes arrived at the White House before the office were opened. The boxes contained official papers and documents relating to the peace negotiations. A large staff of clerks immediately set to work to put the documents in order.

May Send Protest to Kun

The Council of Five, having been advised that Bela Kun, the head of the Hungarian government, had promised to sell a large amount of securities he holds, has under consideration a note to him disapproving his plan. If it sends a note to Bela Kun, the council probably will send a note also to all nations advising the securities offered by the Hungarians.

Home After Midnight

The ceremonies of welcome were brief. Responding to an address of welcome from the head of a committee of District citizens, Mr. Wilson said he came home confident that the people of the United States were for the league of nations. The unexpected welcome, he said, was particularly pleasing because he felt it was "immediate assurance" of his feeling. It was after midnight when Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reached the White House, from which they had been absent more than four months.

Never Doubted U. S. Stand

"We have had our eyes very close upon our tasks at times, but whenever we lifted them, we were accustomed to lift them to a distant horizon, we were aware that all the peoples of the earth had turned their faces toward us as those who were the friends of freedom and of right, and whenever we thought of national policy and of our relation upon the affairs of the world, we knew we were under bonds to do the large thing and the right thing."
