

LEAGUE FOES HAVE NEW ATTACK PLAN

Program of Opposition Aims at Early Vote on Treaty Reservations

GORE OPPOSES COVENANT

Washington, July 9.—President Wilson, back in Washington to begin his fight at home for the league of nations, will be met by a new program of opposition to the league.

The latest program is to have the treaty, together with a list of specific reservations, reported to the Senate by the foreign relations committee within about ten days and to demand an immediate vote on the reservations.

The group of progressive Republicans, who hold the balance of power in the fight against the league covenant, suggested the program to the Republican leaders yesterday and it was favorably received. It was not finally adopted, however, because of the opposition of Senator Knox, who has reiterated his intention of demanding a vote in the committee on the separation of the league covenant from the treaty and of several other Republican senators, including Senator Penrose, who are urging that action on the treaty be delayed indefinitely.

The President also was greeted with the statement from his supporters in the Senate that the situation in that body regarding the league covenant is very acute. Senator Swanson, of Virginia, one of the leading Democratic senators in the fight for the league, declared that the fight over amending the covenant is extremely close.

Close Fight Expected
"It is a question of one vote either way," said Senator Swanson. "There are several Democratic senators who are not certain will vote against making reservations in the resolution of ratification, but, on the other hand, there are two or three Republicans who may vote with us. It is impossible to say now whether the reservations will be made or not."

Senators Hitchcock, Swanson, Gerry, of Rhode Island, and other Democratic leaders of the Senate will seek a conference with the President at the White House today to discuss means to meet the Senate opposition to the league covenant and to bring presidential influence to bear upon the uncertain Democratic Senators. It is expected that under the President's standard in the fight.

Senators Lenroot, Wisconsin; McCormick, Illinois; Crampton and Mason, New Hampshire, were among those who suggested haste in considering the treaty.

Reservations Named
Opponents of the league said that they have virtually agreed on the reservations that they will demand. They are practically the reservations suggested by Elihu Root, and provide for a more specific reservation of the Monroe Doctrine, an "interpretation" of Article 10 of the league covenant, under which the territorial and political integrity of every member nation is guaranteed, the right of withdrawal at any time without securing the consent of the league and the reservation of immigration, tariff and other domestic questions to the United States to settle for itself.

Gore Wants Reservations
Senator McComack, who has been conducting the pool of the Senate for the league opponents, said that forty-nine is the minimum number of votes that will be cast for reservations. He said that that number of senators will vote for radical changes in the covenant and that minor arrangements will resolve the vote of eight or nine more, including several Democratic senators.

position in advocacy of reservations after a conference with Senator Lodge. As he stopped from Mr. Lodge's office, Mr. Gore, when asked what his attitude would be when the league covenant came to the Senate for action, said that he would support a resolution of reservation that would embrace:

First. A non-explicit reservation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Second. Unequivocal stipulation that the United States reserves for itself the determination of purely domestic questions, such as immigration, racial equality and the tariff.

Wants Referendum Provision
Third. A provision for a referendum to the people on the United States entering any war under the provisions of Article X, guaranteeing the territorial integrity of nations in the league.

Fourth. A stipulation that the United States may withdraw from the league upon a declaration by Congress or proclamation by the President instead of having it dependent upon the assent of the league council.

Senator Gore said that without a resolution of reservation to embrace the four features enumerated the United States would be committed to policies contrary to America's determination of her own affairs.

Senator Sherman, of Illinois, introduced a resolution in the Senate and which was referred to the foreign relations committee, asking the President to inform the Senate by what authority or power he agreed to the league of nations in the Peace Conference at Paris.

SOLDIER LOSES WAR DOG

Master's Change From O. D. to Civilians Blamed for Disappearance

An Irish-French war dog hated civilians so heartily that when his soldier-master substituted civilian clothes for his O. D. uniform today the dog left his new home here and disappeared.

That is the only explanation which H. J. Bruhl, of 1152 Meeting House lane, West Philadelphia, can give for the sudden disappearance of "Rags," his long-haired, black-coated, stump-tailed veteran, wounded in action and "the best souvenir any soldier ever brought back from France." Mr. Bruhl, who brought the dog back with the Twenty-eighth Division, put on "civvies" this morning. A short while later the dog was nowhere to be found.

"Rags" is described as a trick dog, with a bullet wound on his back and a whiplash scar from flank to flank, fond of soldiers and baseball games; and if anybody will return "Rags" to Mr. Bruhl he will persuade the dog that there's a misunderstanding somewhere.

ALL ABOARD FOR LAND OF WOODS AND FIELDS

POOR CHILDREN ON OUTING

Prison Welfare Association is Host Today at Haddonfield, N. J.

Two hundred children of this city are the guests of the Prison Welfare Association today, on the first weekly outing of the season.

The children, who reside in the courts and byways in the district bounded by Broad, Callowhill, Sixth and Arch streets, left the Eleventh and Winter streets station at 7:30 this morning, in charge of Miss Matilda Silverman, superintendent of the association. They were taken in automobiles loaned by city officials and business men to Haddonfield, N. J., where they will be served with fresh milk and other country products.

Infants were accompanied by their mothers, some of whom have never had an automobile ride before. Lieutenant Conner, head of the Sixth police district, sent along boards and ropes for saws and swings. Several young Chinese children went with the party, and a lengthy program of games has been arranged.

KIDS' LEAGUE OF NATIONS LEAVES CITY FOR VACATION

Many Nationalities Represented by Children Departing for Camp Under U. P. Auspices

"Dmitri, hurry, or you'll miss it!" "Pasquale! Izzy! Pierre! Got all your things?"

"Hey, Hans, shake a little leg! Conductor said 'all aboard!'"

They ranged in age from twelve to sixteen. Their clothes and noise were American except and they would have resented being called anything but "Yanks," but their grinning faces said very plainly: "I'm a Czech-Slovak! I'm a Russian! I'm an Italian! Dutch! French! Lithuanian! Greek! Hungarian!"

They are the second batch of campers to stay for a ten-day vacation at the ninety-acre camp, which is conducted by the social service department of the University of Pennsylvania. And the youngsters represent every nationality that bubbles and boils in Philadelphia's melting pot.

Students in Charge
To the counselors who take care of the kids at the camp and who are volunteer workers selected from the students of the University, this group is called the "foreign" group. But only for the sake of discrimination. Experience of previous years shows that they are just as much Americans as the 1000 or more other native American kids who till the soil, who swim in the creek, who hike the shaded roads, and who listen to the camp fire yarns, during a summer season at Green Lane.

"They have to be taught how to play in groups, however," said Dr. Willard Laupre, who has charge of the 100 boys. "You do not have to teach the boy of native American parents to do that. It seems quite natural for him to organize. After a ride in hay wagons over a three-mile bumpy road, and after a wash and dinner, this little league of nationalities will elect a congress and choose a president from among the members. This congress will meet daily on Congress Rock to dispense justice and plan the next day's activity."

Simultaneously with the departure from the Reading Terminal, 125 campers, sunburned and almost half-glad at the prospect of seeing their folks again and half-sorry that they had to leave, pulled out of the Green Lane station for Philadelphia. Dorey Cohen, a student of the University, is in charge of the returning campers, whose vacation began June 30.

Prizes Distributed
Last night, around the campfire, prizes and pennants were given to the tuffest of kids, who, during the period, were awarded the most points for the care of their tents, for their bodies, for success in games, for quality in stunts. Miss Frances Kinsler, matron, presented a banner to the youngster who collected the most complete variety of wild flowers with the ten days.

The foreign boys who left for camp today represent the following: The American Red Cross, Nineteenth and Ellsworth; Shot-Town Recreation, Front and Carpenter; Society of Organized Charities, Fifteenth and Cherry; the Rev. Nicola Mucci, Second Italian Presbyterian Church, Sixty-fourth and Haverford avenue; L'Emmanuelle, Italian Episcopal Mission, Tenth and Christian streets; Brotherhood Mission, Fourth street and Girard avenue; M. E. Deaconess Home, Sixth and Vine streets; Settlement Music School, Fourth and Green streets; Social Service, University Hospital, Thirty-fourth and Spruce streets; North House, 864 North Randolph street, and Mothers' Assistance Fund, South Penn Square.

Bar Townley Witnesses

Jackson, Minn., July 9.—(By A. P.)—Efforts by the defense in the trial of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, Nonpartisan League officials, charged with conspiracy to advocate disloyalty, to place many witnesses on the stand, testify as to addresses of Townley, which the defense claims were in support of the government during the war, were denied by a court ruling late yesterday. District Judge E. C. Dean decided the defense cannot offer testimony regarding the war activities of Townley and Gilbert at times and places not specified in the indictment or brought up by the state in its evidence.

GUARD PLANT WHERE STRIKERS MET DEATH

Sheriff and 90 Deputies at Argo, Ill.—Walkout Spreads to Peoria

Chicago, July 9.—(By A. P.)—Quiet reigned today at the plant of the Corn Products Refining Company, at Argo, Ill., where yesterday two strikers were killed and a score wounded in a fight with armed guards of the company. Sheriff Charles W. Peters and ninety deputies were at the plant to preserve order.

The plant has been closed temporarily and it is said no attempt will be made to resume operations for several days.

About 2000 workmen are on a strike to enforce their demand for a closed shop. There is no dispute over wages or hours of labor as the men have an eight-hour day and were given a voluntary increase in wages July 1. Two hundred employes, it is said, refused to join the strikers. The plant is picketed by strikers who held several meetings today.

Peoria, Ill., July 9.—A majority of the 1200 employes of the Corn Products Refining Company plant at Peoria struck today when the time limit given the officials to accede to their demand for a "closed shop" expired.

The plant opened for operation this morning and part of the day shift are working. More than a hundred strikers soon afterward gathered in front of the plant and held a demonstration in protest. There was no violence.

Two Pennsylvanians Killed
Washington, July 9.—Army casualty lists today contained the names of twenty-six men killed in action, Hawaii, Cuba and England were represented. Two were from Pennsylvania: Manley Mallinck, of Nicholson, and Robert J. Ekwelver, of Notch, Pike county.

Forger Got Names From Tombstones
Reading, Pa., July 9.—Names from the family Bible or from tombstones were used by Robert R. Clouser, alias Frank Howard, a former justice of the peace at Sinking Spring, in floating worthless checks, according to his own story at his hearing here, preceding his commitment to the county jail in default of $4500 bail.

STATE TO CONSTRUCT 202 MILES OF ROAD

Highway Department Opens Bids July 29 on Record Offering to Builders

WILL BENEFIT 5 COUNTIES

Motorists in Philadelphia and vicinity will benefit by the bids opened yesterday and to be opened July 29 by the State Highway Department for the construction of 202 miles of state highway. Contractors are bidding eagerly on the jobs, which constitute the largest single offering of state road work in the country according to highway officials.

Delaware, Chester, Montgomery and Bucks counties share in the improvement, which is part of State Highway Commissioner Sadler's plan to have nearly 500 miles of state roads completed before winter sets in, thus facilitating motor travel throughout the state.

Bids opened yesterday on 105 miles are distributed as follows among the counties: Bradford, Bucks, Butler, Chester, Clearfield (2), Clinton, Delaware, Fayette, Lehigh (2), Luzerne, Somerset (3), Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Westmoreland, Wyoming, Lackawanna and York.

Bids will be opened July 29 on 97 additional miles in the following counties: Adams (2), Beaver, Bradford, Chester (3), Crawford (2), Erie (3), Fayette, Jefferson, Lawrence, Mifflin, Montgomery (3), Northampton, Susquehanna, Union, Washington (2) and Westmoreland (2).

In Chester county the road improvement lies in Franklin and New London townships, East and West Marlborough townships, and on Route 142 in Tredyffrin, Easttown and Radnor townships (Delaware county). The three Montgomery county projects are on Route 178, in Norristown township.

The flame test that convinced the Government

"Y and E"

WHETHER it's armor plate or ice-boxes, the Navy buys nothing by guess-work.

So when the Navy needed filing equipment, for use on the seas as well as ashore, they examined and tested many filing cabinets for fire and heat resistance qualities.

In their test the Navy officials applied the intense heat of a power-blast Bunsen burner to several of the best known makes of steel cabinets. The flame, measured by the pyrometer, registered 1500 degrees Fahrenheit.

Since a plain steel wall is a conductor of heat, the papers inside of the ordinary steel cabinets, began to smoulder and, almost immediately burst into flames.

But, when the Navy officers applied the flame of 1500 degrees to the "Y and E" Fire-Wall steel filing cabinet there was a far different result—

The layer of asbestos in a dead air chamber between two walls of steel really protected the papers within from the flames. The "Y and E" Cabinet proved, by this Navy Department Test, to be over three times as fireproof as any other steel filing cabinet made.

When Fitch's Steamboat stopped 1788

John Fitch, a clockmaker and silversmith of Philadelphia, invented a steamboat which made a trip from Kensington to Burlington. On the way back, however, the machinery went wrong and the boat stopped forever, much to the chagrin of the inventor and the worthy citizens who had invested their savings in the new enterprise.

There are many ventures that absorb through failure the savings of unfortunate investors, but there is one that cannot fail and that is a SAVINGS FUND that is conducted wisely and conservatively.
