

TIME FOR BREAKFAST TIME ALL DAY—SOME TASTY MENUS—ADVENTURES WITH A PURSE

MRS. WILSON PLANS MENU FOR SUNDAY

Members of Family Who Are Confined by Employment During Day Need Tempting Meals at Evening. Doing Most of Sunday's Work on Saturday Makes Day Easier

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

DURING the warm weather the family appetite is apt to become very finicky. The nervous strain of keeping up with the daily tasks on hot, humid days will frequently send the business folk home at the close of the day completely fagged out.

This meal should be prepared in such a manner that those whose employment require that they spend a good part of this season in close confining positions will be tempted to eat. For you know, Mrs. Housewife, that frequently the worker may actually need food to keep him physically fit, yet he is unable to eat it, owing to physical weariness.

When at market select only the freshest and perfectly sound food, for during the warm, moist weather the deadly ptomaine germ is lurking in many unselected places. So keep this in mind: wilted or partially decayed fruit and vegetables are dear at any price. We will now plan the Sunday menu:

- Suggestive Menu Breakfast Sliced Peaches Broiled Bacon Creamed Potatoes Watercress Rolls Coffee Dinner Tomato Canape Broiled Lamb Chops New Potatoes Snap Beans Cucumber Salad Peach Roll Coffee Supper Fried Tomatoes Cream Gravy Potato Salad One-egg Sponge Cake Tea The market basket will require One carrier of peaches, One-half pound of bacon, One bunch of watercress, Five tomatoes, One and one-half pounds of lamb chops, cut four to the pound, One-quarter peck of potatoes, One quart of beans, One cucumber, One head of lettuce, Two eggs

and the usual staples that are in the house. This menu, exclusive of the necessary staples, may be purchased for approximately $2.75.

Cut one medium-sized tomato in six thin slices and then place on thin toasted strip of bread. Spread with mayonnaise dressing and dust well with paprika.

Broiled Lamb Chops Purchase the chops cut from the loin and then trim free from fat and remove the center bone. Shape compactly and then fold the flank end around the chop and fasten with a toothpick. To cook broil in the usual manner.

Cucumber Salad Shred the lettuce very fine and then place in ice water to crisp. Now pare the cucumber and sprinkle with salt and place in a bowl, covering with a piece of ice. Let stand for one-half hour. Wash and dry and then grate, adding one medium-sized onion, grated. Place the shredded lettuce on a salad plate and dress with the prepared cucumber. Cover with French dressing and serve.

Peach Roll Place in a mixing bowl Two cups of flour, One teaspoon of salt, Four teaspoons of baking powder, Three tablespoons of sugar, Sift to mix and then rub in five tablespoons of shortening, and mix to a dough with two-thirds of a cup of ice-cold water. Roll out on a well-floured pastry board one-quarter inch thick. Now cover with the prepared peaches and then sift over One-half cup of sugar, One-half teaspoon of cinnamon.

Roll as for jelly roll, tucking the ends in securely. Place in a well-greased and floured pan and bake in a moderate oven for forty-five minutes. Baste every ten minutes with One-half cup of syrup, Five tablespoons of water, One-quarter teaspoon of nutmeg.

Stir to thoroughly mix before basting the roll. Remove roll to a large platter when baked and serve cold, with crushed and sweetened peaches in place of a sauce.

To prepare the peaches for the roll select the fully ripe peaches from the basket and then pare and cut into thin slices; if they are cling-stones, cut into small pieces.

One-Egg Sponge Cake Place in a mixing bowl

Yolk of one egg, One-half cup of sugar, Cream until a light lemon color and then add

Three tablespoons of water, Three-quarters cup of flour, One and one-half teaspoons of baking powder.

Beat to thoroughly mix and then cut and fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg. Bake in a well-greased and floured small tube-shaped pan in a moderate oven for twenty-five minutes.

Creamed Potatoes Cut the cold-boiled potatoes in dice and then season and add

Two tablespoons of finely chopped parsley, Two tablespoons of grated onion, Toss gently to mix. Place in a saucepan

One and one-half cups of milk, Five tablespoons of flour, Stir until flour is dissolved and then bring to a boil and cook. Add the prepared potatoes. Season and place in a baking dish. Let cool.

When cold place in the icebox, covering with a plate. In the morning place in a hot oven for fifteen minutes while preparing the balance of the breakfast. Send to the table in the baking dish or they may be reheated in a saucepan until very hot.

Potato Salad Peel boiled potatoes and then cut into slices. To six potatoes add

One onion, chopped fine, Three bunches of parsley, chopped fine, One teaspoon of salt, One teaspoon of paprika.

Toss gently to mix and cover with a French dressing prepared as follows. Place in a fruit jar or wide-mouthed bottle

Six tablespoons of salad oil, Two tablespoons of vinegar, One-quarter teaspoon of mustard.

Shake until creamy and then pour over the potato salad. Chill and then, when ice cold, serve, garnished with slices of hard-boiled egg.

Mrs. Wilson Answers Queries

My dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you kindly give me a recipe for sugar cookies through your columns in the paper and oblige? Mrs. V. H.

Sugar Cookies Place in a bowl One cup of light-brown sugar, One-half cup of shortening, One egg.

Cream well and then add One and one-third cups of flour, One teaspoon of baking powder, One teaspoon of flavoring.

Roll out one-quarter inch thick and then cut and wash with milk and dust with granulated sugar. Bake for ten minutes in a hot oven. Watch carefully to prevent scorching.

My dear Mrs. Wilson—I have used a number of your recipes with success, excepting biscuits; they never seem to rise enough, or like the ones you would buy in a store, and they never stay separate from each other when brought from the oven; they are all in one-cake form. Will you please tell me the cause of it? Thanking you in advance.

Mrs. L. H. Try this recipe: Place in a bowl Two cups of flour, One teaspoon of salt, Five level teaspoons of baking powder.

One tablespoon of sugar, Sift to mix and then rub in two tablespoons of shortening and mix to a dough with three-quarters cup of cold milk. Roll or pat out one inch thick. Cut and brush the tops with milk and bake in a hot oven.

Set the biscuits one inch apart in the baking pan. Use a baking sheet in place of the pan. Placing the biscuits close together causes your trouble.

My dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you kindly give me a recipe for chocolate pie? I have used a number of your recipes with success. Thanking you very much, I am,

Mrs. F. H. Chocolate Pie Place in a saucepan One and one-half cups of water, One-half cup of cocoa, One-half cup of cornstarch.

Stir until the cornstarch is dissolved and then bring to a boil, and cook for five minutes. Cool and then pour into pastry-lined pie tin. Bake in a slow oven for twenty minutes.

The Woman's Exchange

Who Needs Baby Shoes?

Dear Madam—I have two pairs of shoes and a pair of pumps for a child of two or two and a half. I am very anxious to give these to some deserving mother who needs them for her child. They are in good condition, and my own baby has outgrown them. Will you see if some of your readers would like to have them? H. P.

Thank you very much for this kind offer. I am sure that some of the readers of the column will be delighted to have the little shoes. I will keep your name and address and send them to any one who asks for them.

This Law Was Passed

Dear Madam—Was there any law passed giving the soldiers $600? And was that given to enlisted men or drafted men? J. P.

Every soldier in the United States army is entitled to this bonus on his discharge from the army. If he fails to get it he should write to the zone finance office, Lenox Building, Washington, D. C., enclosing his discharge papers signed by a notary public to prove that he is entitled to it.

Who Was Molly Pitcher?

Dear Madam—Will you kindly state in the columns of your paper what particular fact Molly Pitcher was famous for, and whether Molly Pitcher was her real name? SUBSCRIBER.

Molly Pitcher, so the story runs, took the place of her husband, John Hays, when he was struck in the battle of Monmouth in the Revolution. For eight hours she stayed at her post at a cannon, firing it on the enemy. There is some difference of opinion about her real name, but the accepted story is that she was Mary Ludwig, and married John Hays. She was called Molly Pitcher by the soldiers because she carried water to them in a pitcher. After the death of her first husband she married a man named McCauley.

Marriage in New Jersey

Dear Madam—Could you kindly give me the following information? Is there a priest in Camden, N. J., by the name of Father Mulligan, or possibly Mullaloon, and of which church is he the pastor? What are the requirements to obtain a marriage license in the state of New Jersey? E. M.

Dean Milligan is pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, in Camden. Is he the priest whom you want?

A marriage license in New Jersey is issued by a clerk in a city or town, and by assessors of townships. The age requirement is twenty-one for a man and eighteen for a girl. Under these ages the consent of the parents, affirmed before a magistrate, is necessary. If one of the couple lives in New Jersey and the other does not it is necessary to procure the license in the New Jersey town where that one lives from the proper official. The license may then be used anywhere in the state. If both are non-residents the license must be obtained in the city or town where the ceremony is to be performed. In any case identifying witnesses living in the district where the license is to be obtained must accompany the applicants. The license must be obtained at least twenty-four hours before the ceremony is performed. The cost is $1. The offices of the clerks are open from 9 to 4 daily, except Saturdays, when they close at 1.

Games for Party

Dear Madam—Will you kindly suggest some games appropriate for a sixteen-year-old birthday party consisting of boys and girls from sixteen to twenty-one years of age? Is it proper to play kissing games? What would be best to serve? IN DOUBT.

If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I will send you some games which would be appropriate for the party. Kissing games would not be proper. If it is a very hot day serve sandwiches and ice cream and cake. Otherwise you could have lemonade or iced tea, sandwiches and small cakes; and, of course, plenty of candy.

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries 1. How many pairs of twins were born in a year in the United States, according to the latest census? 2. How many pairs of triplets? 3. Suggest novel place cards and invitations for the summer party.

4. What makes a striking bit of trimming for white kid or satin slippers? 5. What helps to keep the neck youthful? 6. When brushing the chin muscles and help to prevent flabbiness?

Yesterday's Answers 1. Miss Helen Colley, of Philadelphia, who sang in the battle section overseas, is known as the "Song in Your Heart Girl."

2. The scarf owned by Miss Colley is decorated with the blue or indigo of every division and unit before which she sang.

3. The legs of cotton or lisle-thread stockings the feet of which have worn through can be cut off and split up the back seam. A number of them joined together make the top of a petticoat. A silk ruffe is sewed on the bottom.

4. To remove fresh or nearly fresh coffee-stains from a tablecloth pour on boiling water from a height of two or three feet.

5. When brushing the sewing room floor, keep a pushpin handy to save all the pins that are brushed out of the cracks.

6. A wide girde of colored material with two side pieces that hang over the hips like overskirts makes a pretty addition to the plain white dress.

Cool Veils for Summertime A Daily Fashion Talk by Florence Rose

A loose veil is always to be preferred for summer. White is usually chosen. The lace-edge veil is always popular

ONE might, without giving the subject much thought, say that veils are all right for the wintertime, or even for the early spring, when the winds are cruel to the complexion, but if one thinks again about the skin, the veil is even more important in the summer.

The class of women who have sensitive skins that freckle or burn know very well the worth of the veil against the hot rays of the sun and the effect of the summer winds, be they ever so mild. For these women there are always each season veils that protect without marring the appearance. A dotted veil, or one that has a strong pattern as, as we all know, not a good kind to wear in the beating rays of the sun.

The white veil is by far the most practical for summer, inasmuch as it can be easily washed and looks sunny, as well. A very good summer veil is shown at the left of the sketch. This is a silk net with a border done in vine design decorating the edge. The manner in which this veil is held to the hat and under the chin is novel and at the same time it is practical and attractive. The narrow ribbon is only pinned to the back of the hat and so might easily be removed. The bow should be tied at the left side just below the ear.

In the center is the flowing kind of veil, which many women think cooler for the summer. This is in white and has a border done in white cording. At the right is the good old practical veil of white chiffon with a hemstitched border. This veil may be tied back as shown in the sketch, or hung loosely over the face.

Copyright, 1919, by Florence Rose

And So They Were Married By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Copyright, 1919, by Public Ledger Co.

START THIS STORY TODAY

ALICE was not in the apartment. At first Ruth was sure that she had simply stepped out somewhere to be gone for only a short time. In fact she would have thought nothing at all of it, if it hadn't been for Alice's state of mind after having received Bert's letter.

An hour passed and Ruth had dinner in preparation, and still Alice did not appear. Ruth searched all over the house for a possible note that might explain, but Alice had evidently not left a note. Finally Ruth had to face the prospect of telling Scott about it. Telling him that Alice had gone would necessitate telling him everything that she and Alice had kept from him so religiously, and Ruth felt a certain sense of relief that she would not have to pretend any longer.

Scott came in warm and tired. Ruth thought he kissed her profusely, and it made her furious. "Where's Alice?" he asked almost immediately. "She's gone."

"Gone?" Scott wheeled about and changed immediately from apathetic interest to real concern. "Gone where?" "I don't know. I'll tell you all about it, Scott. Goodness knows I shall be glad to. I should have long ago only Alice pledged me to secrecy." Thereupon the story came out.

"But where could she have gone?" "I know that; and there's nothing we can do, either. We'll just have to wait till we hear from her. After all, Scott, she has brought this thing all on herself. She has no one to blame."

"I know that but, good Lord! to think that Bert would treat her that way is unbelievable." "Alice doesn't even know that anything is wrong," defended Ruth. "Bert is probably not ready to take Alice back, and I for one don't blame him."

The apartment experience came out while they were eating dinner, which did not make things any better between them. Ruth was worn out and irritated, and Scott made no effort to see things from her viewpoint. Neither was fair to the other.

At first Scott was silent as Ruth told of the disadvantages of the different places. "We simply couldn't live there," she brought out finally; "we couldn't." "If we can't find anything better for the money we'll have to live there," commented Scott.

Ruth looked at him with wide eyes. Surely this was a stranger who was speaking to her. This was never Scott, who had always deferred to her opinion. The rest of the evening was miserable. They sat in the living room which was uncomfortably hot. Ruth in the window, Scott near the reading lamp. Scott was actually more worried than he cared to admit about Alice.

(Tomorrow—Scott and Ruth go house-hunting.)

Interesting Facts

The computer who travels thirty miles a day to and from his place of business would probably be astonished to learn that every three years he covers a distance greater than that around the earth at the equator.

The penguins of the Antarctic region are the most human of all the bird family, walking upright, living in communities, quite unafraid of man, and possessing an trait almost unknown among any other of the so-called lower creatures. That is, the old birds will look after young ones that have strayed from their parents, and tend them as carefully as their own.

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

Agree With "Juanita"

Dear Cynthia—May I venture to say a few words to "A Pretty Little Brunette"? You state when a man hunts for a wife he picks a respectable girl. That's what they all say, but do they do it? Does a man know a good girl when he sees one, and does he know how to appreciate her? I doubt if he does.

Have you read Juanita's letter? There's a girl that claims she is good-looking, can cook and sews all her own clothes. What more does a man want? Brains? Although she does not mention it, I am sure that she is clever, for any girl that can take things as she does (smile while your heart weeps, to quote her own words), has got brains. Yet what good does all that do her? Did the man on whom she wasted so many years appreciate her?

I agree with her absolutely when she says that a good girl has no chance. Perhaps they were the only ones that had a chance years ago, but not today. The trouble is the men of today are too fickle, yet they claim that we girls are so. Oh, you men! Will we ever be able to understand you? Here again I agree with Juanita. She said men are a mystery never to be solved, and she is perfectly correct.

I can sympathize with her, for, you see, I have been in virtually the same boat as she. Well, here's to the success of the K. I. H. C. and its organizer, Lieutenant B. G. L. T. R.

Why She Used "Slow"

Dear Cynthia—Buan certainly is persistent about the meaning of the word "slow," isn't he? Well, Buan, it's a long story, but you seem so interested in the question that I will do my best to explain. My first experience in this column was in answer to "Nineteen." He said that if a boy didn't smoke, dance and hang around corners girls considered him "slow." And in answering his letter I merely refuted his statement and used his own expression. I believe that is the only time I used the word, and you see I was simply answering "Nineteen" in his own language.

So you don't think I'm a vamp (that's very interesting), and for that reason I shouldn't use the word under discussion. Well, Buan, you'll have to admit that some boys have more "pep" than others, and some haven't any "pep," and in that case the word "slow" isn't such a bad one. Don't be too exacting—every one uses a little bit of slang these days!

At another occasion I met a few girls who certainly acted terribly. They were real madders and tried to make the fellows kiss them. Now you can't expect a fellow to be an angel when he comes in contact with a crowd of vamps. Girls, be independent and don't have a kissable reputation, and when Johnny Rigit comes along he certainly will not think you too slow.

A SLOW MADDEX.

Of Interest to Women

A community sewing room, a community canteen room, a community laundry and community kitchenettes are to be included among the features of a mammoth hotel for business and professional women which is planned to erect in New York City. Rooms in the hotel will rent for an average rate of $25 a month and may be obtained either furnished or unfurnished.

The traditional association of cats with old maids is believed to have originated in the Middle Ages, when cats were always kept in nurseries.

During the last year or two an average of 150 marriages have taken place every week between Australian soldiers and British women.

Girls Want Too Much

Dear Cynthia—I wonder how many of the girls who write to you complain that young men who have been attentive to them drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

DO YOU EVER DO WITHOUT BREAKFAST TO SLEEP?

Just an Extra Half Hour and Then Rush Madly to the Office? Read What a Doctor Says About This

I WONDER if you are one of those persons who steal an extra half-hour's sleep in the morning, seriously arguing with yourself that you need the rest at all costs and that it will do you far more good than anything else. I heard a very wise doctor discussing this thing the other day, and what he said was so truly helpful I thought it just naturally ought to be passed along.

"Now, of course," he said, "we all know what 'at all costs' means." The extra half hour in bed means a hurry and rush to make up for lost time when the person does finally get up. This makes for an excited condition, of course; that goes without saying. This is bad enough, but perhaps the most serious thing of all is the boiling down of an entirely insufficient breakfast, or perhaps no breakfast at all. How can an automobile go without fuel and how can a young woman expect to get up the energy to work when she fails to eat sufficient food to create this energy?

"Certainly any good effects that might come from an extra half hour of sleep in the morning are a hundred times outweighed by the ill effects. Here is a very peculiar thing. Any blank so much?" naming a place that is quite beyond his means. He will accept the suggestion, of course, but after he has blown in nearly half a week's pay on one entertainment he will begin to look about for a girl with less expensive taste.

A lot of your correspondents have been jumping on the "vamps," but in my experience the worst gruffers are the perfectly nice girls. Perhaps it is because they don't go about a great deal and try to make up for it when they do go. If a vamp wants to keep a fellow she uses more judgment. She knows just about how much she can expect for and so she keeps within the limit.

Disapproves of Kissing

Dear Cynthia—I certainly agree with Polly about kissing. I am sweet sixteen and have the honor of saying that I have never been kissed. I attended a party last week and was called upon to be kissed by several young men, from one to three years my senior, but I told them in a nice way that I didn't want to be kissed. Now, readers, it isn't a crime to be kissed, but would you not feel proud to know that every Tom, Dick and Harry can't say, "I kissed her."

At another occasion I met a few girls who certainly acted terribly. They were real madders and tried to make the fellows kiss them. Now you can't expect a fellow to be an angel when he comes in contact with a crowd of vamps. Girls, be independent and don't have a kissable reputation, and when Johnny Rigit comes along he certainly will not think you too slow.

A SLOW MADDEX.

Of Interest to Women

A community sewing room, a community canteen room, a community laundry and community kitchenettes are to be included among the features of a mammoth hotel for business and professional women which is planned to erect in New York City. Rooms in the hotel will rent for an average rate of $25 a month and may be obtained either furnished or unfurnished.

The traditional association of cats with old maids is believed to have originated in the Middle Ages, when cats were always kept in nurseries.

During the last year or two an average of 150 marriages have taken place every week between Australian soldiers and British women.

Girls Want Too Much

Dear Cynthia—I wonder how many of the girls who write to you complain that young men who have been attentive to them drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if they are not very well off, they are glad to invite them out now and then or take them to the theatre. But they can't afford to go to the most expensive cafes or buy the best seats in the theatres, and they feel very uncomfortable when the girl hints that they ought to. A girl should leave to the man the drop them without any explanation are social gruffers. I mean by that that girls who are always trying to get out of men more than they want to spend.

Most fellows like to be generous with the girls they care for. Even if