What May Happen

Former Mack Catcher Center of Storm in Southern League; Still A's Scout

DEVORE IS OUT AGAIN By EDWIN J. POLLOCK

RA THOMAS is a manager today. but tombrrow is another day, and Ira may or may not be a manager. At present Ira is the most discussed man connected with baseball in the South.

Not long ago the former Mack entcher was appointed acting manager of the Atlanta Club of the Southern League Charley Frank, who, heretofore, has been bossing the Crackers. President Logan, of the Mobile Club, has protested Ira on the ground that he is violating baseball law by accepting a salary from Connie Mack as scout o the A's as well as receiving compensation from the Atlanta club.

Trouble between Mobile and Atlanta has been brewing for some time and the players have become so imbued that every time the clubs meet there is a near free-for-all. President Logan has taken the matter so seriously that he has called in an effort to have Thomas and Frank expelled from the league.

Thomas comes back with the same argument against Logan. The veteran maskman states that Logan is not only receiving salary from the Mobile organization, but is being paid by Armour

This is Ira's first fling in a managerial role and so far it has been a lively one and none too pleasant. Since putting his mask and chest protector aside Ira has scouted for Mack besides coaching Williams College nine.

Josh Devore Fired Again

JOSH DEVORE is out of a job again. The comedian-outfielder has been given the go-way by Jack Hendricks. Detroit, who is managing the Indianapolis Club Washington. of the American Association. Josh was granted his unconditional release. Josh was one of the rarest charac ters in baseball. His quick wit, his luck, both good and bad, and his cecentricities made him one of the most popular men around the National League circuit.

Devore had a lot of good fortune. He is reputed to have shared in more world's series money than any other player in the game. Even after his long stay with the Giants he broke into the fall classics. In 1914 he was with the Phils and was traded to the Braves in time for the championship series and in 1915 he came back to the Phils in the year that the only National League pennant came to this city. After Josh drifted out of the majors he was signed by Kansas City and then released. For a time before he went with Indianapolis he was driving a milk wagon in the West. It's back to the early morning route for Josh now.

Ed Walsh Retires

BESIDES Devore, another famous big leaguer has passed out of the game. Ed Walsh, who became famous as a spitball artist with the White Sox. has announced his retirement. Ed has has announced his retirement. Ed has been pitching for Clarence Rowland with the Milwaukee Club of the American Association.

In handing his resignation to Rowland Walsh stated as his reason for finished second with 73, both morning and afternoon.

retiring the fact that spitballs are and afternoon. no longer permitted in the circuit. Tomorrow evening the members of the Baia Golf Club will give a dinner to Charley Hoffner. About 100 guests are expected The dinner was bianned as a testimonial to the splendid work that Hoffner has done on the links this season. His latest achievement was the winning of the silver cross at medal play and capturing the anateur championship of Philadelphia on the links of the Philmont Golf Club.

Store Teams to Meet

Strawbridge & Clothier, one of the fastest teams around this city, has the Marshall E. Smith nine as its opponents on Saturday. The West Philadelphia aggregation will have Big George Earnshaw, the former George School boy, to do the hill work with Lidgate on the yearlying and receiving end.

To Invite Australian Stars

Boston, July 11.—Officials of the Long-wood Cricket Club will make an effort to wood the Australian tennis stars who, it is reported will soon sail from London for this country, make their first American oppearance in the Longwood singles and New England sectional doubles, which will be decided on the courts of the Chestnut Hill Club beginning July 21.

Jack Johnson Training Generals Los Augeles. Calif.. July 11.—Jack Johnsen, former heavyweight champion of the world, is in Mexico City acting as athletic trainer for a party of Mexican generals, according to P. N. Snyder, Los Angeles contractor, who has just returned from a six months' tour of Mexico.
