MRS. LOUISE BAILLIE REYNOLDS

Some Post-War Domains on

Map of Fiction

of breathless and moving fiction.

Romance of the East Side

A CHANCE TO LIVE. By Zoe Beckley New York: Macmillan Company $1.60.

Sanity About Poetry

pression, and that is always to the write poetry without form, that is create without the breath of life, h service, for by urging us toward the impossible they have helped to save us from the fear of it. The book will be

NEW STUDY OF ENGLISH POETRY By Henry Newbolt, M. A., Litt. D. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. $3.

guistic groups

ROYALTY AT GRIPS

Helle, Mr. Bookseller-

CHOICE"

MAURICE

which the publisher.

Mitchell Kennerley.

says is "a distin-

WEYL

guished novel by a born story

360 pages; One dollar fifty cents

At last!

A NEW VOLUME FROM "X"

LAST LETTERS

FROM THE LIVING DEAD MAN

WRITTEN DOWN BY

ELSA BARKER

All booksellers: One dollar fifty cents

MITCHELL KENNERLEY

PUBLISHER NEW YORK

new novel

"THE

The 20th Plane

A tremendous sensation in osychic circles has resulted from its publication. "Far and away above . . . works of this kind . . . well worth perusal."—Boston Tran-

Every Bookseller has it. $2.00 net. GEORGE W. JACOBS & COMPANY, Publishers, Philadelphia.

$5,600 for one chapter!

THE New York Times paid as much as $5,600 in cable tolls for a single story from Carl Ackerman from Siberia. His new book, based on his 12,000 miles of travel up and down the lands of the Bolsheviks, presents graphic picture of Bolshevism in action:

Trailing the Bolsheviki

By Carl W. Ackerman Illustrated $2.00

T'S vacation time in our national parks — from Lafay. ette Park in Maine to Yosemite in California. Here is an invaluable book for tourist, motorist or camper.

THE BOOK OF THE NATIONAL PARKS

BY ROBERT STERLING YARD 76 illustrations. $3.00

Daylight Bookshop

1701 Chestnut St., N. W. Cor.

Socrates," of the Evening Ledger, and author of "Parnassus on DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

NEW PAMPHLET

potentialities.

Don't Miss The TIN SOLDIER By Temple Bailey inth Thousand

THE HAUNTED

BOOKSHOP

By Christopher Morley

Wheels" and "Shandygaff" At all bookstores

At all bookstores #1.50 PENN PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia

RUSSIA and the world

By Catherine Breshkovsky "Grandmother of the Russian Revolution

1> What is Bolshevism? 2. What We are Fight ing For. 3. Russia and the Allies. 4. Russia and the League of Nations. 5. Russia Will Emerge Free, Strong and United!

Price 35 Cents

At your Bookseller, or from The Russian Information Bureau

Woolworth Building, New York City

BY MAJOR CHAS. J. BIDDLE

"THE Boche and I were only twenty yards apart, and if he had had a trapdoor in his bottom he might have brought me down by dropping a brick on my head.

"However, he gave a twist which took me for an instant beyond the protection of his fuselage. It was only for a second or two, but I saw a black-helmeted head appear over the edge of the Hun machine, and almost at the same instant he fired, as quickly as you could snapshoot at quail in the brush.

"Although I tried to swerve back under the Boche's body, his very first shot came smashing through the front of my machine above the motor and caught me in the left knee. Then my engine went dead." A typical bit from Major Biddle's graphic record of his

air fighting in THE WAY OF THE EAGLE

Illlustrated. $2.50. CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

NEW PAMPHLET

THE SOVIETS IN RUSSIA

Chairman of the Perm Committee of the Party of Socialists-Revolutionists

1. The Soviets in Russia. 2. Mir, Zemstvo and Soviet. 3. The Bolshevist Economic Policy. 4. The Land Problem in Russia. 5. The Labor Problem in Russia.

Price, 35 cents, net

At your Bookseller, or from

THE RUSSIAN INFORMATION BUREAU Woolworth Building, New York City

GOOD NEW FICTION FOR SUMMER READING

MRS. RINEHART ON MARRIED LIFE

"Dangerous Days" Is the Tale of a Man, His Wife and His Son

It does not appear why Mrs. Rinehart ons called her latest novel "Dangerous Its action covers the period from the autumn of 1916 until the signing of the armistice in November, 1918, and the war is the background against which the tale is written. But it might have been written against almost any other background, for it is essentially a study in married life and in mating. as practiced in the family of Clayton Spencer, a steel manufacturer, though no city is named, Mrs. Rinehart doubtless had Pittsburgh in mind as Spencer is married to a beautiful but selfish and shallow-minded woman devoted to gratifying her luxurious tastes There is a son, twenty-two years old. just out of college who has been taken into his father's mill at a salary. His mother condones his extravagances and pass his bills without the knowledge of the father. There is a philandering architect in charge of building a coun try house for the family. The wife thinking her husband is neglecting her. "The King's Widow" Puts tive consoles herself by the compliments of A tale blending the architect. The husband finds peace quaintly the diverse elements of who had gone to France in the am love, mystery, humor and the bulance service and been killed, curious passions of a book-hun- The son is interested in three girls. ter. The scene is an extraordi- One is the stenographer in his office been charted on remapped and reconnary second-hand bookshop, over which Roger Mifflin, the Book- wants to marry a fortune and succeds hands you will find these new countries sential knowledge of life. seller of Mr. Morley's earlier in inducing the youth to propose to her. respectively north and south of Messrs. Humoresque. By Fannie Hurst. work, "Parnassus on Wheels," And the third is the daughter of the Hope's and Mct'utcheon's kingdoms. rector of the family church, an early presides. Titania comes to learn playmate. Mrs. Rinebart keeps the boy the book business; Aubrey to sell clean for the sake of the rector's daughadvertising: Oliver Cromwell ter, to whom she marries him, and she walks right into a mystery and draws the curtain over the final break which left Spencer free to marry the books figuratively described as explosives develop extraordinary Net $1.50. of her old-fashioned mother by her most please those who read for a pleasant

Novel of the Underworld

Jimmie Dale, alias "the Gray Scal," Packard's "The Further Advensociety beacon light and a clubman from death by the sacrifice of a friend, with a flair for unusual doings in the "The King's Widow" weaves a dash-underworld. He has a wonderful re- ingly adventurous, high-colored fabric. Charles Seymour, professor of billions. ourcefulness and marvelous hardihood, which enable him to meet the criminals THE KINGS WIDOW. By Mrs. Baillie on their own deprayed plane and right Company. $1.50 some of the wrongs they cause and to thwart-"bilk" is the word that used to be used in the good old "Nick Car-ters"—their schemes of depredation. The various episodes are ingeniously

For Our Merchant Mariners Especial timeliness attaches to "Simple Rules and Problems of Navigation"

The present, third, edition has been ing routine, the grueling punishments revised and corrected by Bradley Jones, of destiny, are starkly recorded with instructor of navigation. Massachusetts a biting realism that etches them on Institute of Technology. It is purely the reader's mind. There is remance, practical work, technical in its matter, too, often pitiful and pathetic. d not a propagandistic or "hurrah" ok on developing the merchant maine. It contains all the rules of both ld and new methods of finding a ship's osition at sea, with abundant probms. in explanation, fully worked out. he international rules of the road are ilso given, as well as those for inland

The Fatherless

Fields of the Fatherless." By Jean form is particularly interesting in these Roy. It is the story of an illegitimate days of the "new" poetry, hailed by girl, told by herself in the simplest way with a most truthful touch throughout, thing which the world has lacked for of life in a wretched home in Scotland centuries. He says that the evil with where drink was the curse. To earn her which we have to contend is the old living she works in a mill in Glasgow, belief that form is an adornment and is a house servant, a barmaid and that the poet is a decorator, who is stewardess on a river steamer. The in danger of finding himself out of em one personality which makes the strong- ployment because he has used up all est impression of those with whom she the old patterns and cannot invent new came in contact was the doctor who ones. How false this is he indicates cared for her when sick. Among the by reminding us that Masefield's "The few bright things in a life full of Widow in the Bye Street." is written shadows were her passion for music and in the rhyme-royal of Chaucer and her love of nature. She ends her story that Masefield finds it adequate for saywith thankfushess that "I am awakened ing things Chaucer never thought. But, in the morning by the finest orchestra says Sir Henry, the futurists have exin the world—the joyous singing of the little birds. Who can call me poor?" horted us to greater freedom in expression, and that is always to the THE FIELDS OF THE FATHERLESS. By good. They have also invited us a Jean Roy. New York: George H. Doran write poetry without form, that is a

Adventure of a Young Gob goes on. This, too, he remarks, is A lot of good books for boys have en written about the army and now comes Ralph Henry Barbour, one of the most skillful and wholesome writers of a delight to those specialists interested boy's fiction, with a bully good story of the navy. Mr. Barbour has deserted A NEW STUDY OF ENGLISH POETRY. the school and sports stories in which he is a past master to write "Under the Yankee Ensign." dealing with the adventures of seventeen-year-old Dave Garson and his buddy. Pete Rooney, aboard a submarine chaser. Dave is a well-educated southern lad and Pete title of the first collection of poems by a typical Bowery boy whose nineteen Marie Tudor, an American writer who years of looking after himself have made expresses herself both in vers libre and him capable of keeping an eye open for the other fellow too. Part of their time Tudor's poems are happily entitled in this as prisoners on a U-boat. But this this general way dealing as they do But this this general way dealing as they do is as prisoners on a U-boat. But this general way dealing as they do is only one of their exciting adventures, which will be inspiring to boy readers. The author has added a good deal of interesting and valuable detail about routine life in the navy in time of war.

UNDER THE TANKER FASSILA B. Raish Henry Harbout. New York D. Appleton

THE POTTERS CLAY BY MARIE TURNS. THE POTTERS CLAY BY MARIE TURNS. THE POTTERS CLAY BY MARIE TURNS. See York G. P. Fainners from $1.50.

cal Merits and Faults of the Author irregular intervals in magazine publicanot obtrusive and not offending. But index. not obtrusive and not outcome.

The text of the league covenant, as adopted at the Peace Conference on adopted at the Peace Conference on April 28, is given by way of introducthe stylistic peculiarities constantly iterated and the formulary "leads" enstantly repeated pall first and then Objects to Be Obtained," on the "Orinvolved figures of speech, hardly one ticle of the covenant is taken up seria-WITH REVOLUTION Sometimes one wishes very much that dent Lowell and William H. Taft. The Miss Hurst would be forthright in her objections to them are met and the preliminaries and direct in her narra- arguments in defense of them are set

But her faults are only in the veacterization upon the page. If one can concluding chapter, with whom he amuses himself, another structed Europe, but if you happen to forgo irritation at externals of style is a girl in fashionable society who have a map of Zenda and Graustark one will find these stories rich in es-

Mrs. Baillie Reynolds, who romances The History of Democracy about one of the high points of their national history, even endows them with The history of the growth of democlanguages, though it is not stated racy has been written from many an whether they belong to the Czecho-gles. It has remained for Charles Seyracy has been written from many an-Slovak or Jugo Slavic ethnic and lin- mour and Donald Paige Frary, of the history faculty of Yale University, to Killistria and Pannonia, at this newrite it as it reveals itself in the elec-of her old-finshioned mother by her most inleanced daughter without the slightest fear of shocking the sensibilities of the maturer woman. In the hands of some other novelists scandalous things would have been made to happen. But Mrs. Rinehart has written of American life honor of most of the men and in the honor of most of the men and in the honor of most of the men and in the riving of most of the woman. The story is tall with her usual sprightliness and iod, shortly after the great war, unlike toral methods of the various nations. virtue of most of the women. The story is told with her usual sprightliness and with her usual insight into the feminine mind. As it ends happily it will desirable domain. The Pannonian king had married by chapters are given to the United States haired lad in the uniform of a poilu DESCRIPTION DAYS By Mars Roberts proxy: Kilistrian princess before his and three to France. The systems of making his way through the crowds to the systems of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the sure of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the sure of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the sure of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the sure of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the sure of his death. oure of his death, and consequently Scandinavia are explained and the aqdangled before her gaze, of a Nor-about the Turkish and Japanese prac-dern princeling by the astute Norderner tices. alias "Larry the Bat" and alias half a capital—which might be Berlin, though of useful information on the whole sub-Out of this doubt and the fact of ject, and it is also an illuminating distures of Jimmie Dale." Jimmie is a the monarch's actual but secret escape cussion of the progress which men have

A Juvenile Canterbury

Very pleasant reading for boys and There is more evidence of the jour-nalist than the novelist in "A Chance tuined in "The Joyous Travelers." Few decised, and the narration is vigorously to Live." Zoe Beckley, the author, is books we have seen for young people a very well known woman reporter, have quite the range of interest and field. New York: Henry Holt & Co. $1. THE PURTHER ADVENTURES OF JIMMIE Sometimes functioning as what is known scope of age limit as this. It is a sort York George H. Doran Company 1150.

Length and breadth of experience and Squire's Little Son, the Pedlar, the Files of the Company 1250. observation of the submerged, the povery entry-stricken, the unfortunate and the recounting in prose, verse and music a struggling have equipped her to write splendid array of stories, humorous, second the "Herces of the Nations". understandingly, necurately and symin view of the revived interest in our pathetically of East Side conditions, status on the seven seas through the urge of winning the war. This work, by Charles II. Cugle, licensed master mariner, soon became a standard after its publication.

The present third edition has been like the condition and the pathetically of East Side conditions, and the conditions. The present third edition has been like the characters, the grind-like the condition and the pathetically of East Side conditions. It is by two experts in preparation not. It is by two experts in preparation of children's literature—Mand Lindsay, author of "The Story Teller for Little Children." and Emilie Poulsson, author of "Child Stories and Rhymes." The Edward I" and "The Central Period of the Middle Ages." She subtitles her writer takes her characters. The grind-like decreations are by W. M. Berger.

The present to the "Heroes of the Nations" not. It is by two experts in preparation of children's literature—Mand Lindsay, author of "The Story Teller for Little of the social strata from which the decreations and the decreations are by W. M. Berger.

The present to the "Heroes of the Nations" not. It is by two experts in preparation of children's literature—Mand Lindsay, author of "The Story Teller for Little of the wilder of the Middle Ages." She subtitles her biography of Alfred "The Truth Tellecoration are by W. M. Berger.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The present third edition has been like the conditions.

The presen THE JOYOUS TRAVELERS, By Maud Lindsay and Emilie Poulsson, Boston; Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Company, $2.

War Story for Boys

Charles Tenny Jackson is not what Is ordinarily meant by a boys' writer. He is remembered especially for several novels of real interest, one of them of politics. He brings a practiced fiction Sir Henry Newbolt's "A New Study of English Poetry" contains some of the sanest comments on poetry that "The Call to the Colors." But bethe sanest comments on poetry that "The Call to the College, have been made in modern times. He cause this story has definite form and writes of the nature of poetry, of poetry balanced proportions it is not lacking. The volume that the starts with Defoe's true. Writes of the nature of poetry of poetry balanced proportions it is not lacking harden. By Charles H. Cugle. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. 24.

and poetry and politics. He discusses here goes to France with the A. F. F. and poetry and politics. He discusses here goes to France with the A. E. F. Chaucer and Shakespeare and Milton.

the British ballads, and futurism and warfare, etc. He is captured by the form in poetry and kindred matters.

described by the service with the A. E. F. the next day after her death and ends with "The Bagman's Story." by Dickens. And he includes Bulwer-A book, which will help the settlement form in poetry and kindred matters, enemy only to extricate himself cleverly workers in towns and cities, is "The What he has to say of futurism and from this predicament. This is not an Haunters," one of the most thrilling replete with real information about the scarers in print. In these days of inkind of routine and campaign our boys terest in the supernatural there ought knew "over there."

JIMMY MAY IN THE FIGHTING LINE, By Charles Tenny Jackson, New York: D.
Appleton & Co.

AT THE FREE LIBRARY Books added to the Pree Library, Thir-enth and Locust streets, during the week oding July 10:

Miscellaneous

cker, Paul—"Le Desir de Vivre" ilddle, C J.—"Way of the Eagle" iourget, Paul—"Les Deux Soeurs."
ass. C. B.—"New Book of Conundrus d Riddles."

R.—"Pat Crowe, Aviator."

Deland, Margaret—"Small Things."

Hodges, George—"How to Know Holme Charles—"Art of the Book."

Holme Charles—"Art of the Book."

MacFarlane, J. M.—"Causes and Course
f Organic Evolution."

Oxenham, John—"Prefaces."

Oxenham, John—"Rees in Amber."

Smith, E. B.—"Early Christian Iconoraphy and a School of Ivory Carvers in ince."
inburne A. C.—"Springtide of Life."
rated by Arthur Rackham. yford, H. B.—"Storing."
n Deventer, J. H.—"Making the Small Profitable."
rrill, A. H.—"Getting Together with i America. Verrill. A. II.—

tin America. "Physics and Chemistry."

Walter, H. E. "Human Skelston."

Ward. Mrs. Humphry—"Writer's Recoltions. Washington Square plays. Washington Square plays. Wavell, A. J. B.— Modern Pilgrim in Mecca." Western Efficiency Society—"Questionnaire

Disest of Methods of Wage Payments."
Wheeler, W. P.—"China and the World Wheeler, W. P.—"China and the World War."
Wilcox. Mrs. E. W.—"Worlds."
Willoughby. W. T.—"Movement for Budgetery Rotary Reform in the States."
Willoughby. W. T.—"Problem of a National Budget. H.—"Coal."
Wilson. F. W.—Great Change."
Wood, M. M.—"Spirit of Protest in Old Prench Literature."
Wright, Dudley—"Vampires and Vampiriam."

Fiction Harold-"Convictions of Christo LIGHT ON THE LEAGUE COVENANT

"Humoresque" Has the Typi- An Admirable Exposition by Mr. Taft, President Lowell and Others

"Humoresque," the latest collection The publishers have done a public short stories by Fannie Hurst, is service in collecting into a volume the marked by the special merits and typical series of newspaper articles written in faults of this author. Possibly one defense of the league of nations coveshould say foibles rather than faults, nant by William H. Taft, George W. for Miss Hurst's deficiencies and defects are not of substance but of man-Henry W. Taft. These articles were ner. Mannerism is her besetting sin- printed in a number of newspapers if sin it be! Reading these stories at throughout the country without signatures. In the book the name of the tions her mannered style is naturally author of each article is given in the weary. Hardly one of the new stories is free from the tangential approach to her theme characteristic of Miss Hurst, discusses its constitutionality and its hardly one is free of prolonged and relation to sovereignty. Then each aracks a good deal of roundabout writing. tim and discussed in detail, by Presiforth with clearness and precision.

Mr. Wickersham writes about arbineer or polish, not in the grain. She tration, the colonial mandates, and has an uncanny insight into human labor and discusses the historical backmotives, a keen analytic understanding ground of the whole program. Henry of human nature, a marked capacity of W. Taft deals with the Monroe Doc-Kilistria and Pannonia have not yet projecting both psychology and char- trine and President Lowell writes a

The volume will be invaluable to those who wish to have in convenient form an armory of arguments which to refute the opponents of the plan as well as to those who are still seeking light on the subject. whole discussion is singularly calm and reasonable. It is an appeal to the intelligence and common sense of the history of voting in Great Britain. Five story ends with the incident of a fairholds off from the matrimonial prize, thors have even found something to say nots. He did not see the people. His eyes were on the statue. As he reached it he laid the flowers at the base and his lips moved all unconscious of the spectators. Some one spoke to him. He explained that he had escaped from Strasbourg to fight for France and HOW THE WORLD VOTES. The story of democratic development in elections. By An old woman with tears on her cheeks Charles Segmour, professor of history in vale University, and Donald Paige Frary instructor in history in Yale University in the Charles Segmour, professor of history in Springfield, Mass.; C. A. Nichola Company their brother. And the book ends. their brother. And the book ends.

THE COVENANTER. An American Expo-sition of the Covenant of the League of Nations. By William H. Taft and others. Garden City: Doubleday, Page & Co. 11.25.

This woman did some good things before she went to France, but her was experience has created her anew and has given to her a power of expression which must be the envy of all the lesser

Alfred the Great

rious, sentimental, historical and what Great to the "Heroes of the Nations" characteristic phrases give an idea of the program of her treatment of the romantic, practical and philosophical figure of her book. Alfred was all of these and statesman as well. This account of his life is both popular and

Famous Ghost Stories

J. W. McSpadden has collected four relation of the apparition of Mrs. Veal to be a renewed demand for these imaginative tales of the dead who walk. AMOUS GHOST STORIES. Edited by J. W. McSpadden. New York: T. Y. Crowell Company. $1.25.

BOOKS RECEIVED

THE COVENANTER. Exposition of the league of nations. By William Howard Tague of nations. By William Howard Traces Lowell and Henry W. Taft. George W. Wickersham. A Lawrence Lowell and Henry W. Taft. Graden City: Doubleday, Page & Co. 11.25.

SMPLE RULLES AND PROBLEMS OF NAVIGATION. By Charles H. Cugle, master mariner. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. 14.

A LASKA. By Agnes Rush Barr. Boston: The Page Company. 14.

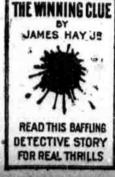

PRUSBLANISM AND PACIFICISM. By PRUSBLANISM AND PACIFICISM. By RUSBLANISM AND PACIFICISM. By RUSBLANISM AND PACIFICISM. By Company Hons. 11.50.

ROOKEVELT. By George Spivester Viereck. New York: The Jackson Press. 11.35.

THE WINNING CLUE. By James Hay. Jr. New York: Dodd. Mead & Co. 11.55.

CANADA AND WAR. By J Castell Hopkins. New York: George H. Doren Company. 15.

COMMERCIAL POLICY IN WARTIME AND AFTER. By William Smith Culberson. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 12.50.

DD, MEAD & COMPANY

The Presbyterian Book Store Everything Desirable in Books
WITHERSPOON BLDG.,
Walnut, Juniper and Sansom Str.
Elevator to 2nd Floor.

LIACOBS BOOKS STATIONERY AND ENGRAVING

JUST OUT

RUSSIA

Her Economic Past and Future

By DR. JOSEPH M. GOLDSTEIN

Professor of Political Economy at the Moscow High Institute of Commerce and

The book contains, aside from text, 70 diagrams and maps showing the agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial development of Russia, and the possibilities for her economic future.

The book is indispensable for everyone interested in the Russian Market, and in the possibilities for American-Russian economic and financial cooperation.

Chapter I. Russia's economic development and the old regime.

Chapter II, Cultivation of grainfoodstuffs and Russia's role in the World Market. Cattle raising. Russia's industry. Comparison with other countries, and especially with the United States.

Chapter III. Russia's foreign trade. Items of Russia's exports and imports. Russia's merchant marine. Grain elevators. Comparison with other countries.

Chapter IV. Russia's canals and inland waterways. New plans for canal construction.

Chapter V. Ports. Their trade. Comparisons with other countries. Expenditures for improve-

Chapter VI. Russia's railways, with a special map showing the location of the proposed railways.

Chapter VII. Russia's resources. Iron, coal, oil, gold, platinum, silver, copper, lead, zinc, manganese, tin and other deposits. Furs, hides, fruits, silk, cotton, wool, etc. Timber resources and timber exports.

Chapter VIII. Russia's banks. Banking and the economic development of the country. Dividends and profits in various industries and trades before the war. Bolshevism and Russias's banks and industries.

Chapter IX. Conclusion. Possibilities for investment in Russia for the next decade. Economic and financial cooperation between Russia and the Allies. Past and future of foreign capital in Russian banking and industry.

"A primer of economic and commercial Russia, crammed with invaluable information for the merchant or financier whose eye is roving beyond the landstones of his own country."

The New York Evening Post, July 5, 1919

Cloth, $1.75, net Order from your Bookseller, or

The Russian Information Bureau in the U.S. WOOLWORTH BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY

"A, Great Novel" — Times

Saint's Progress By Galsworthy

A very modern story of the challenge of these times to the world of a middle-aged English vicar. $1.60.

"It seems to us superb"—Tribune

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS FIFTH AVE. AT 48th ST., NEW YORK

POULTNEY BIGELOW'S

Prussianism and Pacifism

THE TWO WILLIAMS

1848-1918

¶ Seventy years of Hohenzollern glory and shame in unprejudiced review by that delightful litterateur and well-known historian, Poultney Bigelow.

I Beginning with the flight from Berlin of the first William in 1848 and ending with the escape of his grandson to Amerongen in 1918, Mr. Bigelow's spirited narrative reveals many truths unwelcome to Prussian officialism.

¶ Out of long years of interesting associations in Prussian diplomatic circles, "with rare opportunities of looking the Hun between the eves in every military district along the Baltic," Mr. Bigelow sounds a note of warning against pacifism's repeated failures through the years in combating the raids of the Vandals beyond the Rhine.

At all booksellers, $1.50 net.

G. P. Putnam's Sons

New York and London